Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in case of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Fenwick & Co are the managers, are authorized by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the drawing is duly and fairly conducted in the manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. Drawings take place every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets are $5 for $10, $10 for $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, for the Havana plan, and Ternary combination. Prices vary in amount from $20 to $100 '99. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoans, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.

Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar Tarraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for roasting, grinding and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up, carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give our customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 00	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Oolong do.	1 25	5 lb. Java do.	1 00
5 lb. Hyson do.	1 25	5 lb. Green do.	1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in 1 and 3 lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish the fact with all.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2 lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, and retailed by Grocers generally throughout the country, and leaving our trade mark. "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the Genuine Article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee, and costs 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as taste suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is recommended by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at a reasonable profit.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be resisted by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our goods, and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities, I can offer to work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of Enlarging a small-sized picture up to Cabinet or even the size of Life. LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $20; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $50,000, every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing in the following papers: New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Sun Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Atlanta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other Foreign Countries; Procure Reissues, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Patents to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Have procured the issuance of any Patent, issued by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but possesses the unquestionable advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any other Agency in the United States. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and at no PERIOD IN THE BEST HISTORY OF MY ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that his partner office of the Patent Office charges for professional services so moderate—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of decisions and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

The necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office as Solicitor of Patents, and I here testify that I found his agent, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more ability, fidelity, and success. Regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

ABOUT 17 YEARS—during the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor, and he is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Manny's Celebrated Mower
—AND—
MOWER AND REAPER.
IMPROVED.
Built expressly for the New England States.
THE MANNY MOWER has been extensively used for the past two years in New England, and more than six years at the West.—Its success is beyond that of any other Mower or Reaper ever manufactured. Over 150 1st Premiums have been awarded it, including the Grand 1st Class Silver Medal at the WORLD'S FAIR, PARIS, 1855.
With the two past years' experience, we have been enabled to make a number of very important improvements. We find New England farmers require a different Machine from other sections;—the field is generally being small. It must be light, at the same time possess great strength; portable, with facilities to raise the cutter to pass obstructions, and to remove from field to field. A perfect cutting apparatus, to cut the fine grasses without clogging, and so constructed as to start in the grass without backing, easily adjusted to cut high or low, and have a fleet to cut equally well with or against the wind, and to be worked with ease by a light team, and so easily managed and simple that any one of common ability may operate it successfully, and to be built in the most thorough manner.
With this knowledge of the farmers' requirements, and with the determination to build a better Machine than has ever before been constructed in this country, we offer the Manny Mower of 1857 with confidence, as combining the qualities enumerated above, and as being particularly adapted to meet the wants of New England farmers.
☞ We invite the farmers to call and examine Machines. Orders should be sent early. Circulars, with testimonials, forwarded FREE, on application.

CUSTOM HOUSE.—We understand that the new Collector, Augustus Jenkins, Esq., entered upon the duties of his office on Tuesday last.

Mr. Clements, the late Collector, in his four years residence in this city, has acquired the good esteem of many of our citizens, who not blinded by prejudices can appreciate gentlemanly bearing even in one of an opposite party.

At an adjourned Parish Meeting, held at St. John's Church on Monday last, April 27th, to hear the report of the Committee appointed to wait on Rev. Charles Burroughs, D. D. and request of him the withdrawal of his letter of resignation, the Committee reported that he declined making the withdrawal.

The following Resolutions were then passed unanimously.

Resolved, That we receive the resignation of our beloved Rector, the Rev. Dr. BURROUGHS, with great concern and regret, feeling deeply the value of his long and faithful services, and entertaining towards him the sentiments of respect and affection which his earnest labors, fervent eloquence, constant benevolence, great liberality to the church, and uniform kindness to its individual members have inspired, and continued without interruption during the forty-eight years of his ministry.

Resolved, That we tender to him the assurances of our gratitude for his past services and kindness, and of our earnest wishes and prayers for his future temporal and everlasting welfare.

Resolved, That we desire the continuance of the affectionate regard which subsists between us and our late Rector, that we may still be permitted to regard him as our spiritual father, adviser and freind; and that he will, so long as his life may be spared, render to the church and parish such ministrations as his health and convenience will permit.

MR. CLUER'S LECTURE.—The Temple on Sunday evening was filled to overflowing to hear an address on Temperance from Mr. J. C. Cluer. He talked very effectively for more than an hour.—The services were interspersed by recitations, from his daughter. The first she gave was a short poem, entitled "Found Dead." A general thrill went over the audience. Nothing from Longfellow Hood, Byron, Burns, or other poet, could have been more deeply touching, from the lips of one whose soul seemed to enter into the spirit of the poem. And probably nine out of ten in the audience were as ignorant as Mr. Cluer and his daughter, that the poem was the production of our gifted home poet—ALBERT LAIGHTON. And it is no small compliment to Susan to say, that on listening to the recital, the poet remarked that it brought more vividly to his mind the feelings under which it was first written, than he had since felt.—Journal.

SEABROOK.—Fifty years mortality.—A systematic lady of Seabrook, now somewhat advanced in years, has kept a record of all the deaths in that town for half a century, and sends us the following sums total for publication. The present population of Seabrook is about 1300. The whole number of deaths from March 14, 1807 to March 14, 1857, were six hundred and sixty. Of these, 112 were children of both sexes under 10 years of age; above 10 years, 271 males and 277 females.—Average about 13 per year—or one out of every hundred.

We have received letters from Albany this week which state that the health of Mr. Meriam is improving, but he is not yet able to use his pen.

INDIAN SKIRMISH IN MINNESOTA.—We have received a letter from Henderson, Minnesota, dated April 14, which says:—The Sioux Indians are having quite a time about fifty miles up the river. About 500 of them have collected and have killed 40 or 50 whites. So the story goes, and it is repeated as a fact—but privately I make seventy-five per cent. discount from the figures.

PUBLIC GUARDIANS!—The public will learn with surprise that Foote, the public officer who was in company with Pickering when he assaulted Mr Bodge—and was drinking with him before and after the assault, yet holds his office, as one of the guardians of the public peace! It is said that he has since signed the temperance pledge, and perhaps he may be made a sober man by this means. Is the safety of the public thus to be tampered with, by selecting as the guardians of our peace men who are the proper subjects for the city marshal to have the care of? The public demand his removal, or suspension until there is undoubted evidence of reform. They also demand the removal of such men on the list of watchmen, as are of drinking habits.—Journal.

In Board of Aldermen, Thursday evening, the following resolution was passed:

"Whereas complaints have been made by certain parties, in relation to the conduct of Henry L. Foote, one of the assistant marshals of this city, Resolved, That the subject be referred to a joint committee of five persons—two of said committee on the part of the Aldermen, and three on the part of the Common Council."

Ald. Raynes and Carr appointed.

Benj. Canney was appointed Superintendent of North Burying Ground.

Wm. Ilsley was appointed Superintendent of Pleasant Street, Point of Graves and South Burying Grounds.

A bill entitled "An Ordinance relative to removing buildings through the streets," read first time and referred.

A singular case has been brought to light by the New-York police, of an attempt to forge a pardon to secure the release of Huntington, the forger.—The fellow had accomplices, and the plan was to charter a vessel and escape to some of the Islands in the Gulf of Mexico. The plotter applied to some of Huntington's friends, and among others to his lawyer, by whose agency he was arrested.

We call attention to an assignee's sale of a valuable New Piano Forte, at Wendell's Auction Room, this day at 12 o'clock.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MAY 2, 1857.

The Cincinnati Commercial, in an article to show that the poisoning at the National Hotel in Washington, was in reality an attempt to make away with President Buchanan, prints the following extract from a private letter, written at Washington, but a few days ago:—

"I saw passing a gas light a couple of gentelmen—one of whom, although I had not seen him for over sixteen years, I almost knew him to be the President. I stepped alongside, and a glance informed me that I was not mistaken. The old man totters. His legs are weak. A half stumble drew some remark from his companion which I did not hear. His reply was: 'I am not right. My health is not recovered,' adding in a sort of begging tone: 'But I am getting better.' His voice is weak, and his legs are weaker. He is going, depend upon it. A few more weeks and he will be no more. A vain young orator from Kentucky will be the acting, tnd his friend Stephen Douglas the actual President of these United States."

THE COAL COMBINATION.—The Philadelphia Ledger says that the arrangement attempted in the anthracite coal regions to keep back by mutual combination a supply of coal, until "remunerating" prices could be obtained, does not work satisfactorily. The coal trade is more languid than ever before, and more pecuniary difficulties exist among operators than at any time within the last ten years. Parties supposed to be acting in good faith with the combinations are suspected, and the last meeting of operators was slimly attended. The Pennsylvania Coal Company has made sales of some 300,000 tuns of its coal at present prices. This is very loudly denounced. The Schuylkill boatmen are also found undermining each other, and backing out from their stand against the Navigation Company.

ELOPEMENT CASE.—A young heiress at Xenia, Ohio, recently eloped with a man of questionable character, and he was married to her. A dispatch from Springfield, of the 29th, says: "Judge Torbett, to-day, decided that the wealthy heiress, Miss Martin, who recently eloped with Mr. Boyd, was at liberty to go to her husband." The judge, however, doubted the legality of the marriage, as the banns were not published. The case has been up on a writ of habeas corpus since Friday last, and has caused great excitement.

FUNERAL SERMON.—A friend of ours and of the deceased, has sent us a copy of the "Sermon at the Funeral of Rev. Jonathan French, D. D. preached at North Hampton, N. H., Dec, 16, 1856, by Rev. Alvan Tobey of Durham.

It is neatly and beautifully printed; the sermon itself is creditable alike to the subject and the preacher; and the lithographic speaking likeness of the deceased, is worth double the price of the pamphlet. A few copies of the sermon, with and without the likeness, are for sale by Mr. J. H. Foster of this city.

☞ Rev. Nathaniel A. Keyes, of Princeton, Ill., recently died aged 50 years. He was a native of New Hampshire, graduated at Dartmouth College, in 1825, and studied theology at Andover and Lane Seminaries. He went out as a missionary of the American Board to Syria, in 1840, where he labored four years, and then returned home on account of impaired health, and the political disturbances of the country.

☞ A friend in New Orleans sends us some papers from that city, which, however, can be of no possible use to us, unless, indeed, he means to appoint us agents for the apprehension of runaway slaves, of which there are scores advertised with various rewards offered for their recovery.

☞ Eveline Elmore, a beautiful dancer, in a New Orleans theatre, was returning to her residence late one evening last week, when she was seized by three ruffians, who carried her into a dark alley way, gagged and pinioned her, and violated her person. The unfortunate girl is not expected to live.

☞ Since the Gazette was commenced in Salem, by Samuel Hall, forty-nine other newspapers have been started in that city, forty-six of which have broken up bankrupt.

☞ Since the passage of what is called the Married Woman's Act, in 1848, there have been brought in the Court of Common Pleas, in Massachusetts, 1165 suits for divorce. A large majority of the cases are brought by the wives, on the grounds of cruel treatment and desertion.

☞ The N. H. Gazette of May 2 says: We understand that Mr. Foote has resigned his office of Assistant Marshal, and also taken the temperance pledge. We hope he may be enabled to keep it.

CANAL TROUBLES.—Utica, April 29.—Much indignation is manifested in this city among the forwarders, on account of instructions having been issued from the auditor of the state to the collectors on the eastern divisions, directing them not to pass any boats upon the canal, notwithstanding it is now in readiness to commence navigation.

FIRE.—Sandusky, April 30.—The extensive building of the Sandusky Machine Company, and their contents, were burned this morning, together with several dwelling-houses adjoining. Loss $100,000; insured for a very small sum.

AUGUSTA, GA., April 30.—A fire at Apalachicola to day destroyed the Union warehouse, containing 2000 bales of cotton, the post office, and many stores and dwellings. Loss $200,000.

A BOLD WOMAN.—A burglar was caught in the house of Mr. Asa Mason, at Valley Falls, Monday night. After the family had retired, Mrs. Mason heard a noise in the closet. She rose, opened the closet door, encountered a big Irishman. She woke her husband, and while he was getting out of bed, she rushed back and seized the burglar, and detained him till Mr. Mason arrived. The man was secured and placed in charge of an officer.—Providence Journal.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

EASILY SOLVED.—25 cents will buy a bottle of Lawrence's Carminative. Try it.

POVERTY AND RICHES.—The other day a man starved to death in New York, surrounded by opulent fellow-citizens. He could obtain no work, and he knew of no other method by which to acquire money. The very people who permitted him to starve, would no doubt have abused him had he dared to invest his last few dollars in the purchase of a lottery ticket: had he purchased one, it might have conferred a fortune upon him. There are many wealthy men in this city, and in the principal Southern cities, who have no hesitation in saying that they were started in business by prizes drawn in lotteries. We have just seen a scheme of the Jasper Co. Academy Lottery of Savannah and Macon, Georgia, which, for gigantic promise, was never equaled in this country, there being one prize of a civil wine ticket!!! It is gotten up on the Havana plan of single numbers, and embraces 3236 prizes, the capital ones being $60,000, $25,000, $10,000, $5,000, $4,000, $2,000, and 100 prizes of $100 each. This lottery is the oldest authorized lottery in the State of Georgia, and is managed by Anderson & Son, of Savannah and Macon, Geo. The State controls it, however, and is responsible for its promises. The drawing of the scheme we have mentioned, will take place on the 15th of May, under the superintendence of the State Lottery Commissioners. Could there be a better guarantee of its fairness? Orders for tickets must be addressed to Anderson & Son, Managers Jasper Co. Academy Lottery, Savannah or Macon, Georgia. Will you try your luck? You stand as good a chance as anybody else, to acquire a fortune by this method. A.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seemed crowded with customers. We think we last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods twice in 4 days, and as they buy for Cash, all together, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will well to visit them. Read their advertisement another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningpong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also choice and cheap teas at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility, prompt, safe, and permanent. Known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Corr. N. Y. Times.—Advices have been received here from Kansas, by the government, which are in the highest degree gratifying. The free State men, under the leadership of Gov. Robinson, have resolved to cooperate with the endeavors of the administration to secure a fair expression of the will of the people, in relation to the question of slavery, and will abandon their previous policy of inactivity. This is the explicit declaration of Robinson himself.

Six thousand warrants have been issued under the same act to persons who rendered military or naval service in the Revolution, or to their widows, requiring a million of acres.

GREAT PUBLIC MEETING.

On Thursday evening, April 28, a large assembly of ladies and gentlemen convened in the Temple,—in compliance with a call from 66 citizens, among whom were five city pastors,—to take into consideration the condition of our city, and the means of improving it.

The invitation solicited a general attendance of all citizens friendly to the supremacy of law and the prevalence of order in our community,—and the meeting was generally composed of such citizens.

The call for the meeting was read, and Hon. Horton D. Walker was called to the Chair, at whose request, Rev. Dr. Lamson opened the meeting with prayer. The resolutions passed at a meeting held on the previous Saturday, were then read, with the idea that they might be, (as they afterwards were,) re-affirmed by this meeting.

The chairman briefly remarked his interest in the object for which the meeting was called, viz. the good order of our community; his regret that there is need of such a meeting; and his hope that the needful improvement might take place.

He then called on Hon. Ichabod Goodwin, who responded in the assurance that nothing but ill health had prevented his attendance on the former meeting, and that his sympathies were heartily on the side of wholesome law, good order, and public safety. He considered that the late breaches of the public peace called for prompt and decided measures; and had strong hopes that such a meeting as this would aid in restoring and establishing good order. He then briefly reviewed the history of the Act for the Suppression of Intemperance, which though not in all respects such an one as he would choose or make, was yet, in his opinion, in the main a good law; and if judiciously and properly executed, must accomplish a great deal in aid of the general welfare. It was moreover, as he knew, demanded and sustained by a large majority of the best men in the State,—and he believed that any party which should undertake to repeal or destroy it, would suffer the defeat which they deserved.

The chairman next called on James W. Emery, Esq., who said he did not come to offer a lecture, or set speech, but by request, to make a talk on the local events of the last few weeks, the assaults, the disorders, the violation of law. Mr. Emery had before him the Act for the Suppression of Intemperance, from which he read extracts, showing the plainness, the efficiency, and the propriety of the 4th section, so far as it relates to searches and fines,—while he doubted the expediency of the seizure clause in the same section, which has rarely been used in this State, and is not now attempted.

He spoke of the brutal assault on a peaceable and law abiding man, who came into this city by request of the State Temperance Committee, to make complaints and perhaps procure other evidence to convict offenders against the law. He defended him against the charge of meanness in such act, by saying that when men commit robbery, larceny, murder, we hire men by great rewards, to hunt up evidence against them,—and could not see anything mean in entrappping men who illegally pursue a business which they know is ruining their customers.

He defended the search clause from the charge of being unreasonable; showed that it did not in the least degree authorize or permit the search of any house, unless such house were a place of sale; and agreed with the State Attorney in the view that with this clause alone, earnestly and properly enforced, every grog shop in the State could be closed.

And why should they not be closed? He alluded to the fact that among some classes of laborers it was now almost impossible to find enough sober men to work to advantage,—and that this evil had increased here within the past year. He alluded also to the sad fact, among these same people, who came often under his notice, that nearly all those who came to be regular daily drinkers, soon ran down to the gutter and the drunkard's grave.

Four or five years ago he had supposed that the evils of intemperance and the benefits of temperance had been so often and so eloquently portrayed, and were so well understood, that little more needed to be done, in the way of lectures, or meetings for temperance efforts in any form. But facts, terrible facts, showed otherwise; the younger people have not heard the statements and the appeals—and the progress of intemperance among the young was fearful—their ruin certain, unless something was done. Hence the need of lectures and of effort.

Every man, woman, and child, had an interest in temperance—every one must suffer in some way, either directly or indirectly, by the dram shop and its fruits,—in person, property, or character. Therefore, every one should act in such a way as to show that interest.

He believed that a large majority of the people of this State—a large majority of all in the city,—could they have a fair vote on this question by itself,—would vote to put down the grog shops.

Rev. Dr. Peabody was then called upon, and remarked that he came to hear, and not to speak; nevertheless, as called upon he would say a few words. He hoped and believed the City Government would do their duty faithfully in executing the laws.

He had much confidence in the Mayor—and he could not believe that perjury was common; the city government have taken upon them the oaths alluded to in the Mayor's address; they were bound by those oaths and by the laws, one of which made it their duty to obey and execute the Act for the Suppression of Intemperance; and yet he was pained to be informed that two members of the city Council kept open rum-shops in violation of the law,—which he deemed perjury.

And he doubted whether it were proper, in another member of the city council, to defend, even for hire, such open and flagrant offenders against the laws he had sworn to obey and maintain.

He spoke of the duty of obedience to law, and even of suffering in its support as christian citizens.

Mr. Charles Robinson suggested, that as the people of this city were about equally divided into two political parties, 25 good men from each, should be formed into a volunteer police force, to be commissioned by the city, but not paid,—and constitute a prompt, reliable posse, to put down any disorder that might arise.

The question was now taken on the Resolutions,—and they were unanimously re-affirmed as follows:—

Resolved, That the recent exhibitions of rowdyism in our city, the gross assaults upon persons and property, and the frequent disturbances of the public peace, develope a condition of affairs which calls for vigilant and effective action on the part of all citizens in favor of law and justice.

Resolved, That the prime cause of all the rowdyism that has recently disgraced and continues to disgrace our city, is to be found in those nurseries of crime with which our city abounds—the grogshops which exist among us in violation and defiance of law.

Resolved, That it is among the duties which our city officers have sworn to discharge, to cause to be enforced the law for the suppression of intemperance; and that in neglecting the performance of that duty they have set an example of disregard of law destructive to the moral welfare of the community.

Resolved, That Mayor Morrison, in his Inaugural Address, has clearly set forth the duties of the City Council, as follows:—

"Having accepted the trust committed to us by our fellow citizens, and taken our respective oaths of office, we have incurred responsibilities of no ordinary nature. To us is committed the general welfare of the city; and the public look to us for its healthy and moral condition. Whatever, therefore, tends to the quiet of our streets; to the safety of our dwellings; to the means for the education of our youth;—and to relieving the condition of the helpless and unfortunate, will be fit subjects for your consideration, inquiry and action.

"Our Police should be men of unexceptionable character; skilled in the knowledge of human nature; firm, yet conciliatory; and who observe the laws they are called upon to execute. They should be vigilant in suppressing disorder and detecting crime; and should exercise a healthy influence on the morals of the city. If our laws are violated, they must be enforced; not in a fanatical spirit, but in a manner calculated to accomplish the most good."

And we call upon them to perform the duties so clearly pointed out, and pledge our hearty cooperation in all efforts of the city government to preserve the peace and enforce the laws.

Resolved, That the action of the Attorney General, County Solicitor, and Sheriff of this County, in prosecuting violations of the law for the suppression of intemperance, deserves and receives our warm commendation, and that we pledge our hearty cooperation in future efforts in the same direction.

Mr. Emery now suggested, that it would in his view be desirable to have our election of city officers disconnected from the State election, and held at a different time. He therefore moved that the chairman of this meeting appoint a committee of five persons, who shall consider this subject, and if they deem it proper, make a report to a future meeting to be called by them.

This motion was passed, and the meeting dissolved.

Messrs. Editors:—I have read Mr. Penhallow's note; but I don't know what it means. I heard his speech, which I could not understand;—and now I can't understand what he means by his note.—What are we to bear patiently? And what is to be analyzed? A SUBSCRIBER.

Messrs. Editors:—Can you inform an anxious enquirer when the Floating Bath House on Noble's Island will be ready for visitors? At least a score of unwashed ones have asked this question in my hearing within the last month, and some think this laxity on the part of the directors demands a slight degree of censure. Please, Messrs. Proprietors, introduce us to the joys of a river plunge sometime next week.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which E. Tabeck & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of persons who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to is that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day, the same as the Numbers Game is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $25. No tickets are sent, however, unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (other than the Havana plan), and Tormary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 (X). All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.,
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.—

Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Saleratus, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing all preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up, with our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of price, viz: 1 lb. Souchong Tea, 1 50 | 5 lb. Mocha Coffee, 1 00
1 lb. Oolong do. 1 25 | 5 lb. Java do. 90
5 lb. Hyson do. 2 50 | 5 lb. Ground do. 1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish their superiority over all others.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process of roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, and sold by Family Grocers generally in city and country, for mixing with Coffee. We call it Dandelion grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the Genuine Article. The proportion used is about one-third Dandelion to two-thirds Coffee, the price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medicinal properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, all the medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as besides being healthy, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee, is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Cinnamon grinding Coffee," and there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the lowest wholesale prices.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of our competitors.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston, AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of any Patent or Invention, with legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages not possessed by others, for ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below speak for themselves. Some 8 MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The knowledge and experience of practising twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in this capacity, who had so extensive practice in the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most intelligent and most skilful patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Augst 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and practice of the office, and I can, in regard him as one of the most capable and scrupulous practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. ☞ The Livingston (N. Y.) Republican announces the death of Mrs. Catharine Dunn, of Nunda, at the advanced age of one hundred and three years. The deceased formerly resided in Genessee, was a very healthy and strong woman, was never sick, retained her mental faculties unimpaired to the last, and her death was quiet and easy, seeming to be a quiet stopping of of the working of the system.

☞ John H. Higbee, of the firm of Mudgett & Higbee, Newport, N. H., committed suicide by cutting his throat last Saturday, in a stable connected with the house. The deed is supposed to have been caused by financial troubles.

IOWA.—The Davenport (Iowa) Gazette claims that the Republicans carried the State at the recent election, though by a meagre majority, and it calls upon its friends to organize for the gubernatorial election, when Gov. Dodge will probably be put on the track by the Democrats.

☞ A lady of Troy, one of the aristocracy of that city, lost her husband on Monday at 8 o'clock in the morning. Two hours later, she caused the following dispatch to be sent to a modist in New York: "What is the latest fashion of mourning goods? Send particulars by mail."

PAINFUL RUMORS.—It is reported at New Bedford that a letter was received at Holmes's Hole, from a boy on board a whaler in Pacific, stating that Captain Pease, of ship Cambria, had killed his third mate, Holmes W. Smith, his brother-in-law. The report was disbelieved.

☞ The barque Susan Jane cleared from Philadelphia, on Tuesday, for Sebastopol, taking out steam engines, pumps, caissons, and other machinery, for the purpose of engaging in the raising of the Russian ships sunk in the harbor of Sebastopol during the late war.

☞ The Hardy (Va.) Whig learns that Mrs. Elizabeth Goldizen, who resided on the North Fork, died a few days since, having reached the extraordinary age of one hundred and eighteen years.

☞ The Newark Daily Advertiser learns from different parts of Warren and Hunterdon counties in New Jersey, that the winter grains look remarkably well since the snow disappeared, and that there are good prospects of large crops.

☞ Rev. John Clarke, of Plymouth, has engaged as a stated supply of the Congregational Church in Bristol.

☞ A son of James Andrews of Saratoga, sixteen years of age, lost his life the other day, in consequence of carelessness in handling a gun, receiving a charge in his mouth. Walter Shivers, son of John Shivers, of Isle of Wight County, Va. was killed by the accidental discharge of a pistol on Saturday.

☞ Northern Michigan papers complain of a great scarcity of provisions in their section of the State. Instances of great suffering and almost starvation, in particular neighborhoods, are reported. Property has been sacrificed at ruinous prices, and farms mortgaged to obtain the means of subsistence.

DAMAGES AGAINST A CORPORATION.—Henry Hurley, a painter, has recovered $750 against the city of New York, for damage in falling through a sidewalk, where rotten plank had been laid over an old well.

☞ The Rev. James W. Perkins who has been preaching in Deering about two years as a stated supply of the Congregational church in that town, is about to remove to Wisconsin, where he expects to labor as a Missionary of the A. H. M. S.

☞ Rev. Joseph P. Thompson, D. D., of New York, is engaged to deliver the address at the next commencement in Williams College, before the Mills Theological Society.

☞ Rev. Mr. Goodrich has accepted the call which he received some time since from the Congregational church in Pembroke, to become their pastor.

☞ We learn the first Congregational church of Manchester, have increased the salary of their pastor, Rev. Mr. Wallace, to $1200.

PRESIDENT'S HEALTH.—We apprehend that the recent indisposition of the President did not continue twelve hours, for he is as well as ever to day. A peculiar feature of the National Hotel disease is, that it affects the patient by paroxysms. When commencing to recover, the patient has repetes from their operation, until the paroxysms are the exceptions in the condition of his health. The President was entirely free from the action of the disease for three or four weeks up to the night before last, when he was affected by it until yesterday forenoon. Our own experience teaches that in the President's case the disease is in its last stage, and that, hereafter, he will be entirely free from it.—Washington Star.

COPARTNERSHIP.—It may interest our brethren of the press to know that Dr. J. C. Ayer of Lowell, (Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills.) has associated with him, his brother Frederick Ayer, Esq., long and favorably known as a leading merchant of the West. Mr. Ayer will conduct the widely extended business of the firm, which now reaches to the commercial nations of both hemispheres, while the Doctor will devote himself to his scientific investigations and pursuits.—Mercantile Journal.

NEW YORK, April 29.—The Minstrel Slaves sang to a crowded house at the Tabernacle this evening. They will leave for their Northern tour immediately, stopping at New Haven, Hartford, Springfield, and arriving in Boston in about a fortnight.

LOSS OF SHIP CATHEDRAL.

The Panama Star & Herald, of April 19, contains the following interesting account of the loss of the American ship Cathedral, belonging to Messrs. Enoch Train & Co., off Cape Horn, on her way from the States to San Francisco, furnished for publication by Mr. A. R. Clarke, late chief officer of the ill-fated vessel :—

Messrs Enoch Train & Co.

Gentlemen :—It is with sincere and heartfelt sorrow that I write to announce to you the total loss of your noble ship Cathedral, and her gallant and ill-fated commander, Wm. H. Howard, which took place off Cape Horn, on the afternoon of Wednesday, Feb. 17th, 1857, while in latitude 59 deg. 14 min. S., and longitude 69 deg. 38 min. W. The full particulars of this disaster I shall now proceed to detail.

At about 2 40 P. M., while lying to under close reefed topsails, fore storm staysail and spencer, the ship heading to the southward and westward, wind about N. N. W., a tremendous sea struck the ship, and a heavy squall passing at the same moment, she fell immediately over on her beam ends. The captain being unable to leave his berth on account of illness, (he having been very unwell for a week previous, so much so that at one time I gave him up for a dying man,) I proceeded at once to inform him of the situation of the ship, and to request his orders. He directed me to use every means in my power to right the vessel, and not to cut away the masts except as a last resource. I found, however, that no other means would avail, and accordingly gave the order to cut away the mizen mast, which was done, but without any good effect. The main mast was next cut away, and, as it went over the side, it carried away with it the galleys, upon which were lashed the captain's gig, the two life-boats, and a whale boat. As I then perceived that the ship did not pay off, but lay dead in the trough of the sea, settling more every moment, and as the carpenter reported that water was rushing into the 'tween decks through the forward scuttle, I directed the second officer to go forward and clear away the long boat, which was lashed on the weather side of the forward house, while I went below and informed the captain of what I had done. I told him that in my opinion the vessel would go down in a very short time, and requested him to allow me to have him carried out and placed on board the boat.

This, however, he refused, declaring that he would never leave the ship, and that the boat could not live five minutes in such a sea. I then went again on deck, when the third officer informed that the topsides were open, the coal falling out and the water rushing in. I again went below to the captain, to inform him that the ship was rapidly settling, and to beg him to go with me, but he refused, and as I was endeavoring to prevail upon him, the ship fell over full upon her side, and the water immediately half filled the cabin. The captain then cried out to me, "For God's sake save yourself," and as I perceived that the vessel must go down in a very few minutes, and that no time was to be lost, I broke the window out on the weather side of the cabin, and first pushing the Doctor (who had remained by the captain until then) through the window, I followed him myself, and ran along on the bilge of the vessel, outside her channels, and leaped down upon the side of the forward house, breaking it through, and falling in up to my shoulders. I immediately got out, and leaping into the water, was picked up and placed in the boat, which had been floated off the house by the sea, so far had the vessel gone down in the water.

Having picked up all whom we could, though, owing to our having no oars, we were obliged to leave the Doctor and one man on the wreck, as they would not jump overboard, and we could not get near them, we shoved off, and had hardly got fifteen yards from the ship, when a tremendous sea struck her, lifted us up, swept us round her stern, and covered her at once from our sight. We saw nothing of her afterwards, except a few pieces of board and one spare spar.

It was just forty minutes from the time the ship was thrown upon her beam ends until she disappeared from sight.

When the main mast carried the four after boats over the side, all the oars which were on deck being lashed inside of them, of course went also, and the spare oars were below, and of course inaccessible to us.

We therefore found ourselves, thirty-six in number, on board an open boat with neither oars nor sails. One half our number—the watch which was below at the time of the accident—being in the clothes they left their berths in, and with nothing but three or four pieces of batten, a piece of the loom of an oar, and a small bit of board which we broke from the bottom ceiling of the boat to keep her head to wind.

During the whole time of the disaster a bark and a ship were in sight of us to leeward, the bark, at the time the ship went down, being distant about three miles, bearing about S. E. Towards her all our hopes were directed, but we soon found that she drifted to leeward faster than we did, and that our only chance would be to put the boat before the wind and run down to her. This after much trouble, we succeeded in doing by making some of the men stand up in the bows of the boat and spread out their oil jackets, and after several hours of hard labor, in bailing and keeping the boat before the wind, we rounded to under the stern of the bark Ann Pitcairn Sharp, of Maryport, England, Capt. Robert Glaister Sharp, to whom, under Providence is due our lives. He had hove to on seeing our disaster, determined to wait till daylight and then run over the spot to see if any one could be picked up, as neither he nor his officers expected for a moment that any boat could live in such a sea, and owing to the squalls which were constantly passing, it was impossible for him to see us so far to windward, though he had a look out at the main topmast head.

This, gentlemen, is the full and circumstantial account of the most lamentable and unforeseen catastrophe which it has ever been my misfortune to be concerned in. Lamentable on account of the loss of life which occurred, especially that of the captain, and unforeseen, as no one could have foreseen or fancied an accident of this description happening to a vessel so strongly built and so well bulkheaded as the Cathedral.

I send you below a full list of the names of all those lost and saved, and will forward you on the first opportunity a detailed account of the captain's last illness, and other little matters here untouched, and have the honor to remain, gentlemen,

With the very kindest respect,
Your very obedient servant,
ANDREW RICHARD CLARKE,

P. S.—We left at about 3.20 P. M., and arrived on board the barque at 11.35 P. M.

We certify that the foregoing account is true and exact in every particular, and bear our testimony to the unflinching courage and skill of the chief officer in all his exertions for the safety of the ship, both during the captain's illness and at the time of the wreck.

D. J. Cox, 3d officer, Reuben R. Heriott, 4th do., Daniel Draine, carpenter—Witnesses.

LIST OF LOST AND SAVED.

LOST.—Capt. Wm. H. Howard, Boston, Mass.; Dr. C. W. Kirkendall, Trenton, N. J.; Stewardess, Ann K. Flaherty, St. John, N. B.; Seamen, Dan'l Sullivan, Ireland; Benj. Davis, Bristol, England; Ordinary seaman, John Graham, German Town; Boys, Philip Koch, Philadelphia, Penn.; (lost in the boat); Samuel B. Hall, Philadelphia, Penn.; John Delany, New York. Total lost, nine.

SAVED.—A. R. Clark, chief officer; Boston, Mass.; Isaac Best, 2d do., Philadelphia, Pa.; D. J. Cox, 3d do., ditto; Reuben R. Heriott, Boston, Mass.; Daniel Draine, carpenter, Philadelphia, Pa.; Wm Standish, Steward, Boston, Mass.; Jacob Williams, cook, Philadelphia, Pa.; Seamen—Wm. Reed, Alexander Savage, Wm. Reilly, Joseph Harding, Edward Whitney, George Price, James Walker, James Packer, Richard Jackson, James Bennett, Thomas Allen, Charles Dupre, Archibald Campbell, Thomas Remeris, Peter Enfield, Wm. Winslow, James Brown, J. Pender Pender, James Dempsey. Ordinary Seamen—Charles Junius, Philadelphia, Pa.; Geo. Bennett, do., do.; John Carroll, do., do.; James Rossiter, do., do.; Alfred Bonita, do., do.; Peter Boyd, do., do.; Stephen Fitzsimon, do., do. Second cook—Wm. H. Gordon. Passenger—Frank Gavel.

The Cathedral was a superior oak-built ship of 1600 tons register, with three decks, and cost, when coppered, $125,000. She was built at Portsmouth, N. H. (as the Boston papers say, but with more geographical accuracy, at the yard of Samuel Badger in Kittery, Me.,) in 1855, under the superintendence of Capt. Chas. Pearson, Marine-Inspector, a gentleman of great experience; and we can state, from our own knowledge, says the Traveller, that no expense had been withheld in her construction or equipment. Capt. Howard, also, saw her frequently while in the course of construction, and expressed himself highly satisfied with her materials and style of fastening. At the time of the disaster, she had on board, 2300 tons of coal, one half of which belonged to the Pacific Mail Steamship Co., and the other half was on the ship's account. Upon her cargo or freight there is no insurance; and the ship herself is only insured for $75,000. The loss, we understand, is borne by the State street offices.

Capt. Howard leaves a family, wife, children, and sisters, who reside at Watertown, Mass.

☞ Dr. C. T. Jackson, in a letter to the Boston Transcript, denies that the National Hotel sickness was caused by poison, and says he is perfectly convinced that the disorder arose wholly from gaseous emanations from the drains connected with the common sewers, and it is highly probable that the very warm days of February last contributed to the production of this poisonous miasma.

ABBOTT'S HOROMETERS.—The secretary to the Ordinance and Hydrography Bureau, has ordered that all the ships of the U. S. Navy now fitting, be supplied with Abbot's Horometers, an instrument for solving the various problems in Nautical Astronomy. The instrument is not only adapted to the wants of seamen, but is admirably fitted for colleges and schools. It solves the various cases in spherical Trigonometry, and illustrates the principles of the science. Amos Abbott was the inventor.

☞ Rev. John Howard, a Presbyterian clergyman of Richmond, Va., was made insane by the excessive use of tobacco, and after being a short time in the lunatic asylum, committed suicide.

☞ On Friday, May 1, Mr. Isaac W. Frye, a native of this city, went into the Boston Custom House, taking the place of Inspector, made vacant by the transfer of Mr. J. Frazer as postmaster at New Bedford. Mr. Frye has been connected with the Boston Courier for some twenty years, and has always been highly esteemed by all those who have been brought into business relations with him. In 1848, in company with the late Mr. Samuel Kettell, Mr. Frye purchased the interest in the Courier owned by Mr. Buckingham, its original proprietor. By the recent transfer of the paper, it has fallen into new hands, and Mr. Frye has left the establishment. He has ample qualifications for the office to which he has been appointed, and we doubt not will attend to its duties with intelligence and fidelity.

During the last presidential canvass, the Courier supported Mr. Fillmore for the presidency, and was a special opponent of Mr. Fremont. Mr. Frye's place is doubtless given in consideration of these and similar services.

GEOMETRICAL QUESTION.—I have eight square lots of land, and the difference between each two of the four larger squares is 175 feet, and between each two of the four smaller squares 21 feet. How many square feet are there in the eight square lots? Ans. 16,188.

☞ On Wednesday last a robber of sooty complexion attempted to enter the house of old Widow Hardwood in Brandford, Va., by descending a chimney. He stuck fast, midway, however, and the old widow heard him. She heaped straw in the fire-place and lighted it. The robber, half suffocated, roared. Persons were collected by his cries; he was drawn up with ropes to the top of the chimney, more dead than alive, and sent to the mercies of the law.

An aged quakeress, the other afternoon, was seen intently gazing upon a piece of brocade silk displayed in a shop. A passer by observed that it was Satin tempting Eve.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. AT. LEE & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those who purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 49 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningpong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching the victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

MRS. PARTINGTON, HER OPINION.—"Don't you think Mr. Booth is a very chaste actor, Mrs. Partington?" said Diana, reaching over the seat to speak to the old lady who was in Box G. She took a long look at him before she answered. "Yes," replied she, "I think it likely, for he is young and good-looking, and such an actor is most likely to be chased by the young women, and any other young man, too, for that matter." "I mean," said Diana, somewhat confused, "I mean he is chaste and pure in his style of acting." "Oh," said the old lady nodding her black bonnet, "you mean that, do you? Well, I meant the other, and there's where we differed; but, depend on it what I tell you is true." The chaste Diana looked loftily, as though she denied the soft impeachment, and directed her lorgnette thereafter only at the Lord Mayor of London's horse hair wig and red gown. He was delighted with the processions and music, and thought how they sounded and seemed like a rally of the democracy in ward eleven.—Sat. Eve. Gaz.

MRS. PARTINGTON AND HARVARD COLLEGE.—"They are determined to drive out the 'spirits' from Harvard," said the Professor to Mrs. Partington, with much glee, and she rubbed his hands delightedly. "I want to know!" said the dame, staying her knitting needles in her wonder; "do tell us! Well I never dreamed there was any spirituality in that cemetry of learning beyond what there used to be in the Refreshment and sycamore classes that Paul used to tell of, and I should think they would be glad to find some there anyhow." The Professor turned the conversation to impossibility of taking a lunar observation by a tallow candle in a potato arch, and Ike and Lion participated in a struggle for the professor's cane, which was broken in the melee.

LOCAL.

☞ The Counting-Room, Composition Room, and Editors' Room of the Chronicle, are for the present at the Journal Office. We print in our own Press-Room, and may be found there, morning and evening.

PICTURES.

No. 1.—from the N. H. Gazette of May 2.

Ladies yet walk the streets unmolested, at any hour of the day or evening. In respect of good order, sobriety and obedience to law, Portsmouth will compare favorably with any community with which we are acquainted.

No. 2,—from the same paper, and the same column.

James M. Pickering plead guilty of making an aggravated assault upon Robert N. Bodge on the previous Thursday evening, and was sentenced to pay a fine of $7 and costs.

Mr. Bodge was walking with a lady when he was assaulted.

No. 3,—from the same paper.

Our present municipal government is composed of gentlemen who doubtless have the good of the city at heart, and we have every confidence that the Mayor and City Marshal will perform their duties promptly and faithfully.

No. 4,—from the same paper, and same column.

Henry L. Foote, Police Officer, was also arraigned for the same offence. He plead not guilty, and was discharged by the Justice, but it was proved that Foote had been drinking, and was in company with Pickering when the assault was committed.

N. 5,—from the same.

Strangers who may wish to visit Portsmouth, are informed that there is not the slightest danger in so doing.

We are very glad to hear it, if it comes from any authority! If any reliance can be placed in it, then our labors have not been in vain. The Gazette of April 11 did not hold such language, but published half a dozen menacing articles against one or two strangers in particular, intimating that they would be in great danger.

Then citizens might do anything lawful and be safe. But in the meantime, a respectable and inoffensive native citizen has been knocked down by some lamb of the groggery, who was fined $7 —and now strangers are safe! We trust they will be —not because the rum power is gracious, but because it has learned that there are other powers beside itself—and that it begins to be nauseous to decent people, and dangerous to those who encourage and uphold it.

VESSEL BURNT AT SEA—ANOTHER PORTSMOUTH SHIP GONE.—The ship seen on fire by Capt. Crocker, of the ship Swordfish, on the 24th of April, in lat, 33°, lon. 71°, is supposed to be the Robert Parker, Capt. Adams, which left Mobile on the 3d of April, for Havre. She hailed from Portsmouth, N. H., and registered 600 tons.

The Robert Parker was built in Portsmouth, in 1839, by Messrs. Raynes & Fernald.

FOR INDIA.—Mr. Amos Abbott, formerly City Missionary at Portsmouth, is to sail from Boston, on the 15th of June, for India, where he goes as a missionary, under the auspices of the American Missionary Society. His wife and four of their youngest children will accompany him, leaving three in Manchester, N. H., where he has a brother. Mr. Abbott has already spent thirteen years in India, as a missionary teacher, being located at Ahmednuggur, about 170 miles from Bombay. He had several children born there, and one of them is now the wife of Rev. Samuel C. Dean, and is laboring with her husband in the missionary field there. Mr. Abbott came back several years ago, and has lived a portion of the time in Manchester, and five years in Portsmouth. For a year past he has been at the Andover Theological School, studying Divinity, and is soon to be ordained, so that he will go out as a regular missionary. Mr. Abbott is of good scientific as well as ministerial abilities, and is the inventor of the "Horometer," now attracting some attention.

SAD EVENT.—Rev. W. W. Scudder, one of the oldest of the East India missionaries, sailed sometime since from Arcot to visit the United States, bringing with him his infant daughter. A letter has been received from him dated St. Helena, Jan. 23, stating that he is detained there in consequence of the death of his daughter. On the 5th he took the child on shore for her pleasure. Just after landing, a stone fell from an overhanging cliff on the child's head, cutting a fearful wound, and crushing the skull in upon the brain. She died on the 22d.

☞ We learn that a man named Eben Bennett, of Alfred, Me., was killed by being run over by a cart wheel. He was intoxicated, and in an attempt to get into the cart, over the wheel, fell from the hub and one wheel passed over his head, causing instant death.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The news by the Africa, from Liverpool, April 18, is thus summed up in the Boston Courier.

The cotton market at Liverpool, and by sympathy at Manchester, was a little lower in price, particularly for poor qualities. The breadstuffs markets were stiff, both at Mark Lane and at Liverpool, with a good inquiry and a firm feeling on the part of the holders, who claimed an advance. The latest reports of the markets are favorable for the price of American flour and wheat. Provisions, also, were in fair demand, while the price of lard was depressed by arrivals.

The London money market, at the last accounts held up its stringency.

The bank of France has fortified itself by raising the premium upon the export of gold.

In political and miscellaneous intelligence, we learn that Her Majesty Queen Victoria had been safely delivered of a woman-child, and that both mother and daughter were doing well,—that the farce of a war by Spain against Mexico was about to be brought to a close. The cattle disease was a matter of official consideration in Prussia. The Neufchatel business continued to be indefinite.

BALTIMORE, May 1.—The strike among the freight conductors on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad partook of a riotous character yesterday. Several freight trains were stopped on the road last evening by a mob of one hundred conductors, who assembled at some distance from the city, and meeting the cars while in motion, uncoupled the trains, carried off the couplings, and drove the engineers and firemen into the woods.

There is great excitement all along the road, the strike being very general throughout the line. Efforts are being made to induce the engineers to join the conspirators. The company finally refuse to make any compromise with the disaffected, and will pay them all off and employ new men. The strike occurred in consequence of the cars being sealed, at which the conductors took offense.

☞ The Cincinnati Enquirer, having tried the quarto form for a year, has returned to the folio, to obviate the complaints of advertisers.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a delicacy in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogue, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

Messrs. Editors :—Some kind philanthropist has asked a question (that should have been solved long ago) by posting a bill on the Post Office wall. Is there no law to protect ladies from the insults of rowdies, who loal in and around that much frequented place? As far as I understand the matter, I think it is the duty of the Post Master to order these fellows off; if any should be found obstinate enough to disobey his command, I think our police laws can reach and punish him as well as all other offenders. Again, it is a common practice with the above named class of persons to infest Congress street, all the way from the corner of Vaughan to Market street, sometimes in groups of a dozen, more or less; and in many places they actually form themselves into line, with their backs to the doors and shop windows, deterring if not excluding ladies and other respectable customers, while their swearing and obscene language is disgusting to passers by, and very annoying to the occupants of the stores in that locality.

How much longer this state of things will be allowed to exist, remains with our officers to say, but for my part I am pretty confident when his attention is drawn to the matter, our worthy and very popular Mayor Morrison will have one or two policemen on their track each evening; and I hope to see it ere long. A STORE-KEEPER.

NOTE.—The law of Politness would lead these fellows to give the ladies a chance to get their letters, and to let decent people walk the streets in quiet.—But if they can't understand this law, give them the benefit of another, somewhat plainer, via: a police arrest and fine.

MR. J. C. CLUER.—This interesting, witty, and ingenious lecturer, has made a successful visit to this city and delivered a number of his temperance lectures. He also spoke in a public meeting at the Temple on Saturday, April 25. Of this speech, the Ballot says:

Mr. J. C. Cluer of Boston, who has been lecturing here upon temperance the past week, was then called upon, and delivered one of the best impromptu speeches that we ever listened to. He spoke of the beauty of our city, its healthy locality, and its advantages for recreation and for business; the hospitality of our people, and the comfort and sociability of their homes. It seemed as if the people of Portsmouth should be a peculiarly happy and prosperous people; but whence, said he, come these rows and assaults that we hear of? They come from the seventy-two grogeries in your midst, where fathers, husbands, brothers, sons, obtain the accursed draught which transforms men into demons, and peaceful citizens into raving maniacs. From these grogshops, kept open in violation of law, come all the misery and crime with which you are afflicted. Shut up these, and your community will be as happy as your city is beautiful. He liked the tone of the resolutions he had listened to, and especially the extract from the Mayor's address; he thought the man who entertained such ideas of his duties and those of the City Council must be a good man and would see the law carried out. All good citizens should sustain him in the discharge of his duties. The speaker said he had attended the police court that morning, and was astonished at the low terms on which justice was satisfied,—where, for knocking a man down by a blow over the eye and destroying a five dollar hat, a rowdy was charged only $7 and costs—perhaps $10 in all. He had spent a good deal of time in police courts, he said, having become bail for some hundreds of drunkards, but he had never seen justice so easily satisfied. He had been deeply moved by the eloquent appeal of a learned lawyer in behalf of a drunken police officer going about with a pot companion to protect him from injury, which companion accidentally knocked down a respectable citizen and then accidentally tore up his hat! He was deeply moved by the lawyer's appeal for the penitent assailant, but in all his experience he had never seen such an exhibition of penitence as there presented.

Mr. Cluer's speech was frequently interrupted with hearty applause. At its conclusion the resolutions were unanimously adopted.

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the country, some person of influence has recovered health from alarming complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience to record; and fewer are the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous diseases of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. We have abundant grounds to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL has saved more lives by the early suppression it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, nor neglect them until so human skill can master the inexorable disease that fastened on the vitals of your lungs while you slept. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not deplore their ignorance than to sign and seal their doom.

We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can furnish for their cure.

LOTTERIES.

THE well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & CO are managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to supervise the drawing and see that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present. The Commissioner, another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, the lotteries being legalized by the laws of that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the order is received, whether it be for a single ticket or tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prize vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.,
(Sign of the Chinaman grinding Coffee,)
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the prices low.

Their Stock consists of:

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Saleratus, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Tarrazona, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, they publish their wares upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

4 lb. Oolong Tea, 1 00 | 1 lb. Mocha Coffee, 1 00
5 lb. Oolong do. 1 25 | 5 lb. Java do. 90
6 lb. Y. Hyson do. 2 25 | 5 lb. good do. 1 00

☞ The Spices are put up 1 and 1 lb. in cans, convenient for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to two of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages bearing our trade mark, and name, and is equal to any of the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARRAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root. This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine and best. The prepared root is about one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 25 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same article which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. It is a preparation of the ROOT, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a limited quantity of the ROOT which costs only nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Tarraxacum bears our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Tarraxacum, in the market.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we continue to sell an exceedingly low price the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1836.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in France, England, Canada, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into any American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. A FIRM WELL ESTABLISHED, has the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that in other cases, where he has not the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access to the patent records in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy was in the habit of transacting business at Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and his clients were those who chose it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in such form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and reliable practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

RUSTIC ADVENTURES.

Messrs. Editors—Poets may compose lays and pastorals setting forth the beauties of life in the country, and orators may set forth in the most glowing terms the advantages to be derived from a residence in a thinly settled region, overgrown with bushes, swamp and woods, composed of poor pasture land, rocky mowing fields, and patches of alluvial soil, yclept "country;" but still, although not a Socialist, I must adhere to my opinion that it is better to live where there is more society and less danger.

Is the dread of cholera morbus for a few months to be compared to the dread of choleric bulls the year round? The horn of plenty may be very pleasant to contemplate, but to have your meditations disturbed by the application of a horn in the rear is not so pleasant. Is the fear of garroters winding their arms around your neck as bad as the fear of serpents winding their whole bodies around your legs? Are the efforts of the young man who is learning to play the bugle (without a teacher,) next door, to be classed with the din of frogs, tree-toads and crickets, assisted by the dismal chirp of the whip-poor-will and the diabolical whistle of the snipe as they infest the low ground all the night searching for food, never failing to emit that peep—peep—peep? Allow me to cite one or two instances to show that I am not prejudiced without cause. NAUTA.

BATTLE WITH THE SNAKES.

I started on a fine summer afternoon, while on a visit to the farming village of S——, in company with my cousin Julie, to enjoy one of the much vaunted rural walks. It was in fact very delightful. Julie had only one wet foot, and I had torn my best pants in but four places in my struggles to escape from a large cat-brier which seemed determined to cultivate my acquaintance and commenced by harrowing up my sense of feeling when we arrived at the foot of Adder Hill. This was a ledge of porous rock, the favorite resort of all creeping things, on the western slope of which stood an old barn, and from the window of this barn a magnificent view could be had. Upward and onward we went until we reached the enclosure around the barn. I assisted Julie over and found we were in a large yard the bottom of which seemed perfectly alive with snakes.

There were large snakes, small snakes, long snakes, short snakes, snakes in black and snakes in gain-dresses, in fact the whole area was full of wriggling monsters, who, attracted by the warm sun had come out to enjoy its genial rays in this sheltered spot. Quite a romantic situation,—not a stick or a stone handy. Casting a glance around me I perceived a piece of timber which had been used as a top finish on the wall of masonry. This, the only remaining piece, was about six feet long. With a desperate effort I seized it, raised it on high, and brought it down with a tremendous crash right on the back of the nearest and largest snake of the whole.—By the way, I concluded this old fellow must have arrived at his second childhood as he carried a rattle about with him, but Julie informed me that it was the much dreaded rattlesnake for whose bite there is no remedy except drinking whiskey, and then I was sorry that I didn't let him bite me.

At the first stroke about half the stick, weakened by exposure, dropped from my hands, and at each succeeding stroke continued to crumble away, so that at the end of ten minutes I had a piece left the size of a cabbage stump. However, as I found myself master of the field I did not longer need the weapon. We ascended to the barn loft, where nothing but bats, rats, and straw were to be seen. Seated on a pile of straw near the window, after viewing the landscape we engaged for awhile in conversation from which we were aroused by the smell of smoke.

Looking inward the straw was in flames I had placed my eye-glasses on the window sill, the rays of the sun had been drawn to a focus, and the result was that we were obliged to make a very unceremonious exit from the premises. With the exception of being bitten by mosquitoes until we appeared to have a touch of the small-pox, we reached home unmolested. There, on changing my clothes, I found a tree-toad in one pocket, a green snake in my boot, and a caterpillar's nest on my hat. Next night I left the place, but I wouldn't have you suppose that the suit which I learned was to be commenced against me for burning the barn accelerated my departure.—O, no!

THE HELLS.

Under this head, the Newburyport Herald gives us the following essay, full of terrible truths.

Some persons believe in a hell; and some in the hells. Some locate their hell or hells in another world, and others in this; but all alike make them places of wickedness and depravity, and therefore of miseries and punishments. Even the most ancient nations filled their mythological hells with fantasies where labors were accomplished in vain mockeries presented to the view, and hopes excited only to be blasted, and this repeated forever. The most recent hells are like those ancient ones, except that they are in no future or spiritual world, but are located in the most public places of the most populous cities, where there is not even the river Styx dividing them from the living busy multitudes, and it needs no special guide to find the way to their outer courts, though sometimes the innermost hells, which possibly may be connected with the outer by a wire that rings a bell of warning upon the touch of the outer guardian, are not accessible except by signs and pass words.

These most modern hells are deceptive, like all hells. Sometimes they are dark without and lighted within, then they are light without and dark within. They assume false names, even the names of Saints; and they advertise to restore, invigorate, and cheer, while their work is to sap, weaken, and destroy. They seem the safest places of all, since when darkness reigns every where else, they will frequently display great lights in the streets, though they generally prove to be like the false lights of pirates and wreckers upon the beaches where the misled ships are stranded and their crews drowned or murdered; and often too the police officers, appointed to protect life and property, are in their vicinity, as much as to say—"we'll see that right is done, just laws obeyed, and innocence protected," though this too is one of the delusions—for not once in a generation is the name of the law outstretched to protect anybody there.

Thus far, we have only spoken of outside appearances; within, they are full of rottenness and dead men's bones, like the sepulchres of olden times that were whited without. But here, too, they maintain their true character, and the work of deception is even more perfect. The gas lights flame up from the gilded burners, giving a view as of a palace where a feast had been prepared by some lordly occupant. The invited, as they arrive, gaze upon the frescoed walls, paintings displaying art and nature, rich drapery and heavily curtained windows, marble tables covered with clear glass and colored beverages, and surrounded by serving men, attentive to every call of the young and gay—the fashionable and laughing, who seem to be enjoying human happiness to the brim. Who has ever looked into this first hell, without knowledge, that did not say—"here is pleasure—here is happiness." But all this is delusion, too; the friendship that invites here, the proprietor and servants who receive here, the promises that are made here are all false—false as the real hell the place represents. They promise pleasure, and give pain; they promise the flush of health, and really it seems creeping over the cheek, while disease is laying hold upon the vitals; they promise life, while death is all they have to give.

The flowing liquors that sparkle and foam; that look red in the cup, and are sweet to the taste—what do they say? "Take me—forget what father and mother have said, what sister and lover have told you; I am knowledge; I am happiness; I am health and life." He looks—he yields. "I have been taught differently," says he, "but why should young men adhere to these rigid notions. Life must have enjoyments. If this seductive charmer has not told the truth, I can stop when I have tried her; I know my strength, I can command my appetite. Here are others enjoying life, why not I enjoy life, too?" He takes the glass; it sparkles and laughs at its victory: it rushes up to kiss his lips—a Judas kiss—as he quaffs. It goes foaming to his head, where new fancies steal in; it urges the warm blood to his cheek and makes his eye sparkle; and he begins to feel happy. "It told me the truth," he says, "If a man knows where to begin, and where to leave off, a little will do him good. I have no notion of being odd, of turning fanatic on these matters, and making a fool of myself." He drinks again, and he grows stronger—there is nothing but what he can do: he grows wiser; how rapidly and eloquently he talks—how he argues—how imagination enriches his language; he grows richer—and sees where he is to make his fortune in successful business; and so from night to night, he drinks on.

And here is the deception and falsity. Look at the end, and where are all the promises held out! Has he become happier, stronger, wiser, better? Oh, poor miserable man. I met him yesterday, and he was prematurely old, with haggard look and swollen features, with blunted intellect and depraved mind, with dilapitated garments and staggering step. His mother that worshipped him, had gone to the grave of the broken hearted; the father that was proud of him, was bent in grief and covered with gray hairs: the business that was enriching him, had been dissipated; the friends that had stood by him, had despaired and fled; the proprietor who had invited him to his hell, had denied him rum and kicked him from his door; a disconsolate, wasted woman had helped up her maniac husband, and a little daughter with the tears streaming from her eyes, was aiding to lead him to his hovel home. Last night, when the moon was up and sailing like a queen through the skies, and the tide was full, gently washing the river banks, and all nature was calm and glorious—just when other young men were entering that same palace hell where he had taken his first glass, and promising themselves happiness, as he had—just when they were feeling richer and stronger and wiser from the inspirations of the wine cup—he tottered, fell and died. In middle life, having become old and weak, and worn out, and tired—he stopped; one groan, one quiver and he was gone. To-day he is rattled off to a pauper's grave, where the mourners are few and poor, and where no head stone shall tell of greatness and goodness and wisdom that might have been, but never were his. The mound shall subside, the grass shall grow anew, and the spot and the name be quickly forgotten. Oblivion is his last friend.

We will not penetrate further into our modern hells—to the apartments where the gaming tables are surrounded by men who are throwing away the substance their fathers left them, or the avails of their own earnings, and where clerks assemble to hazard the stealings from their employers. We will not look further yet, where women do congregate, of whom Solomon spoke, when he said—"With her fair speech she caused him to yield, and with the flattering of her lips she forced him. He goeth after her straightway, as an ox goeth to the slaughter. For her house inclineth unto death, and her paths unto the dead."—Already we shall be told that we give a fancy sketch. Let it be so; but is it not a true one? Here, there, and in all parts of this city are their victims. There is not a street where they do not cause wretchedness and misery. There is scarcely a family to which they are not bearing death, or what is worse than death, crime and disgrace. If the grave yards could speak, their names would be pronounced; if those who suffer in silence and cover up their wrongs from the world, would give utterance to their woes, a voice would go up like thunder into the heavens, and more terrible would it sound than the mutterings of the earthquake.

We speak not of mythological but actual hells; not of hells in another world, but of real and visible hells here; not of hells divided from the innocent by an impassable gulf, but those around whose doors children play at marbles—into whose windows infants look and wonder what can be going on. Is it not strange that such places should exist?—is it not passing strange that the community should suffer them for a day? They can't complain of their ignorance of them. The city authorities know where they are, yet we never heard of an order for their suppression. We have known them to hurry with men and teams, to fill a little hole in the street, for fear a horse would break his legs, and they have to pay for him; but if they have tried to stop these places, where mothers have their hearts broken, men lose life and character, wives are made widows, and children orphans, where the property of employers is squandered, and a flood of crime let loose upon the world, the fact is yet to be recorded.

The police know that these places exist. The other night they made a sham arrest of a half-dozen persons in one of them, on the Lord's day; but they let their prisoners go without trial; and hereon hangeth mystery. They know those haunts where congregate the vilest of the vile, in this peaceable city, drunkards, blacklegs, cutthroats—such beings as were used by the Vigilance Committee of San Francisco to ornament scaffolds—who carry on their robberies and villanies by day and night, week days and Sundays, and do it with perfect impunity. They arrest the barefooted child that steals a pair of old shoes, or the starving woman who takes a stick of wood to keep her children from freezing—who are starving and freezing from the robberies of these same hells—or the Irishman who sells for rum a single glass of liquor that may have been so diluted that not more than one drop of alcohol remains, and a person would commit perjury to swear that it was spirituous: but why are these not arrested?

And there is another class that knows of these hells—the men who own the buildings and take their rents monthly. They are gentlemen and scholars and christians; go to church every Sunday to doze in well cushioned pews, and to Sunday schools to teach the catechism. They are men who would not own a pirate ship nor engage in slave trade, or do anything else that was illegal, if the laws were to be enforced, or they were to lose their standing in society thereby. But it is not so; they are honorable men—active in religion, law-abiding citizens, and move in the first classes, wear the best clothes, stand well on 'change, and pay high taxes. And when we have such a cloud of witnesses, who will hereafter deny that a hell or the hells do exist?

☞ The Boston Traveller understands that Thomas Gill, Esq., a number of years since Reporter of the Boston Post, and afterwards Register of Probate, has had notice to quit the Boston Custom House.

☞ The Phrenological Journal for May, 1857, contains a portrait, description, and brief biography of Madam Ida Pfeiffer, the celebrated Traveller.—Fowler & Wells, publishers, New York and Boston.

☞ Bent Ship Knees, are said, after trial, to be cheaper, easier to be procured, and more durable, than the natural angles which have been used till recently. The latter are getting scarce, too.

NEW HAMPSHIRE METHODIST CONFERENCE AT LAWRENCE.—On Saturday the Conference was occupied with a variety of business. Bishop Baker, of Concord, N.H., was present. The candidates, eight in number, for ordination as Deacons, were examined, and addressed by the presiding Bishop. The Committee on the New Hampshire Conference Seminary and Female College made their report. Rev. E. Adams, the Agent, spoke on the subject. He said that large, new, and beautiful buildings had just been erected at Northfield, N. H.; that there would be 186 new rooms for students to reside in, and 60 other rooms for the various purposes of teaching, lecturing, &c. The entire cost of the building will be $20,000. There remains $6000 yet to be raised.

☞ Michael Corcoran, a half-drunken Irishman, at Edgeworth, near Boston, beat his wife Mary, on Friday afternoon, with his axe. She died,—and the coroner's jury found a verdict of death by means unknown.—The man was drunk; and the woman was drunker.—It was a rum victory.

☞ The slavery question still agitates the Young Men's Christian Association of New York. Fourteen clergymen have withdrawn from the institution because it thinks proper to discuss the moral questions involved in the peculiar institution. A large number of lay members withdrew at the same time, but their places were more than supplied by new members.

Dr. Jewett, the temperance lecturer, says that a friend of his residing in Coventry, R. I., came into possession of the leaf of an account book, on which a poor drunkard had been charged with a quart of gin per day for five successive days. On the night of the fifth he died in a drunken fit; and on the sixth day the entry on the rumseller's book was—"To five yards cloth, for winding sheet."—Exchange.

FIRE IN DUNBARTON.—On Sunday, the house of Mrs. Wheeler, widow of Robert Wheeler, in Dunbarton, took fire on the roof, and was consumed. Some of the goods and furniture were saved. Loss about $2000, insurance $500.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Lawrence's Carminative is the grand cure all for childrens' complaints.

INDIVIDUAL GAINS FROM COURAGE ALONE. It seems to be a law of nature, that man shall not only earn his bread by the sweat of his brow, but that he shall be indebted to an exercise of his courage for any prosperity. This is a wise provision, too; for if all men were timid or sluggish, the springs which move society and bless communities would soon rust and decay.—The man who buys a ticket of Swan & Co., of Atlanta, Georgia, in one of their lotteries, (which draw every Saturday,) displays a spirit of enterprise that will benefit him, perhaps, to a very great degree. His individual risk may return to him a handsome sum, and possibly a fortune. His courage may be a blessing to him.—He has many chances above his cautious neighbor who is so selfish as to hoard money, which in a proper view of finance and public economy, is the property of all, and the purpose of which is speedy distribution. Ten dollars expended for a whole ticket, or a proportionate amount for the half, or quarter of a ticket, may be a prudent investment, and possibly an exceedingly profitable one. A.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and are not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every week days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ninevong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union store, No. 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

FRIGHTENED TO DEATH.—Recently, as a gentleman was about to cross a railroad track, in Pennsylvania, on horseback, a train of cars rushed suddenly by, and so frightened his horse, which was a fine high-spirited animal, that he reared several times in the air, and then fell dead. We have recorded three or four cases of this kind during the last six months, and that is enough to serve as a caution to persons riding in the neighborhood of railroad tracks in future.—Porter's Spirit.

SINGULAR ACCIDENT FROM FIRE.—A young woman named Mary Hall, residing at New York, was terribly burned on Monday afternoon, in consequence of her clothes having taken fire from a grate. She had dressed herself handsomely and expanded her frock to an extensive circumference by means of a hooped skirt, and was quietly sitting by the fire, when suddenly her dress was enveloped in flames, and she screamed for help. Assistance was at hand, but before the flames were extinguished, her lower ribs and body up to her waist were frightfully burned. She lies in a very critical condition.—Boston Courier.

☞ The Counting-Room, Composition Room, and Editors' Room of the Chronicle, are for the present at the Journal Office. We print in our own Press-Room, and may be found there, morning and evening.

REV. MR. HOLMAN. — This excellent christian gentleman, who has filled the pulpit of the Methodist Episcopal Church, with such signal ability, two years, preached his last sermon on Sunday evening last, to a very large and attentive audience.

It is indeed a great loss to this community that such a man as Mr. Holman should leave it at this time. To the large congregation to whom he has broken the bread of life, it will seem like the departure of a kind brother or a very dear friend, and to many whom he has induced to follow Christ, his going will be that of a father from the household where childhood has grown to manhood under the paternal smile.

Mr. Holman leaves his people, loaded with their prayers and benedictions. We hope his lines may fall to him in pleasant places and that all his labors of love may yield him a full return, wherever in the good providence of God he may be called to minister to men the things pertaining to the life beyond. S. W. C.

☞ Lieut. Clary, for the past two years located at this naval station, has been ordered to the U. S. Steamer Minnesota, lying at Philadelphia. Mr. C. came here in the frigate Constitution, and his departure is regretted by all who have dealings with him. As an officer and a man, he has been one of the most popular ever located at Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, ship-builders, have now on their ways at Noble's Island, the brig Arcadian, for repairs.—She was drawn up from the water, last week, in an hour, by her own windlass, tackles, crabs, cattle, &c., thus showing that such vessels can be put upon the ways here, for repairs, without delay, and at very small expense.

☞ On Sunday last, a boat containing several sailors who were said not to be very sober, was drawn, stern first, against Portsmouth Bridge by the tide, and although the boat did not capsize, still the hallooing of the men created considerable excitement until they were rescued by boats from the shore.

☞ On Sunday afternoon, there was considerable of a rumpus kicked up at a reputed groggery on South street, opposite the Haven School—so much so that some of the neighbors responded to the outcries of the proprietors or patrons of the establishment, for assistance. No arrests have been made, that we hear of—unless the fighters may have got out a writ for the neighbors aforesaid!

☞ See Auction column, for sales this forenoon, of furniture, carriages, pianos, trees, &c.,—if the storm don't prevent again.

☞ Sanford's celebrated Ethiopian Troupe open at the Temple this evening—and if all that is said of them is correct, this will be one of the best entertainments of the sort. See their advertisement and attractive programme.

☞ Mr. Lamprey commences a term of his Dancing and Waltzing Academy, tomorrow afternoon, at Congress Hall. Of course all the juveniles who wish to learn the most approved style of tripping the light fantastic toe, will be on hand.

☞ Mr. Valentine P. Dow,—who was reported in the newspapers as having died on board a ship bound from Boston to New Orleans,—is not dead, but living at Cambridge, Mass., where he has been at work. The fabricator of the falsehood must find it difficult, we think, to account for his conduct, or to atone for the pain inflicted on the friends over whom he threw the shadows of bereavement, without a cause.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—(Herald Correspondence.)—Gen. Cass has just received a communication from Mr. Dallas, announcing that the British Government has rejected the Dallas-Clarendon Treaty. No explanation has yet been made, but by the next steamer a full statement of the views of the British Government will be forwarded by Mr. Dallas. Lord Napier has also received the same intelligence.

The merchants and business men in this city are taking up a subscription of $10,000, which will be paid to any person or persons ascertaining the cause of the poisoning cases at the National Hotel.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The New Orleans mail of Monday came in this morning. We have no train yet from the North, probably having been thrown back or obstructed by the rioters beyond the relay house.

Pittacus, one of the seven wise men of Greece, made a law, that every man who committed a fault in a state of intoxication, should receive a double punishment.

OCCASION OF THE RAIL ROAD RIOTS.—The Traveller says:

The Railroad Riot at Baltimore is the result of a circular from the office of the Master of transportation on Monday last, to the effect that thereafter, each and every car containing merchandise to be transported over the road, should be delivered into the charge of the conductors sealed, and a receipt taken for the same. The issuing of this order arose from the fact that for a long time, the company has been required to pay claims for goods lost in transportation over the road, and this plan has been in successful operation for a long period on the New York Central Railroad, and also one somewhat similar upon a number of the Western roads. The Baltimore Patriot says there is no greater responsibility resting upon the conductor than heretofore. He is required to be more careful, and a receipt is asked for the safe delivery of the car sealed in his charge, and no such thing as security required.

The whole case looks as if the the rioters were a combination of thieves, made angry by proper efforts to stop their pilfering.

BALTIMORE, May 2, 10 P. M.—The Railroad Riot is not yet fully quelled. The evening freight trains were sent out under a military guard, consisting of three companies that were ordered out by the Governor. On reaching Jackson's Bridge, they were fired upon by the rioters, the military returning the fire, killing one rioter and wounding others. The trains then passed on.

May 3—9 P. M.—The Riot still continues. This morning, the train which was returning with the military guard, was thrown from the track by the rioters, and several of the cars were smashed. Two soldiers were injured; one had a leg broken. Two military companies were sent out to protect the freight trains which were to come in. The result we have not yet heard.

THE TRANSATLANTIC TELEGRAPH.—Halifax, May 2.—The bill granting to the New York, Newfoundland and London Telegraph Company the exclusive right, for fifty years, to land upon the shores of this Province, submarine telegraph cables, passed the upper House by a large majority on Thursday, and has since received the signature of the Governor.

Parliament was formally prorogued on Thursday.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling these articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which B. Faxon & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the drawing is conducted in honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which I would call your attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. Persons sending every order of a number of dollars, if no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of whole tickets is $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, after the Havana plan, and Tertars from combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 ea. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

(Sign of the Chinaman grinding Coffee,)
141 Washington St., Boston.

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.—

Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamons, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Tarraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following sale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Imperial Tea,	1 25	5 lb. Java do.	1 00
5 lb. Y. Hyson do.	2 25	5 lb. do. do.	1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in ½ and ¼ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2 lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in Boston, and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the best article in market. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee. Put up in 25 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound for years.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, retains all its medicinal virtues unimpaired, and mixed with coffee or not, as taste suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is recommended by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Tarraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, to enable them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our teas and coffees, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

A PRACTICE extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and Models, drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and the best of advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages not to be obtained elsewhere, for ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered from any other quarter. Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The long and extensive practice of the subscriber, of twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I worked in the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business at the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Agust 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the office, and regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. THE SPIRITS.

Messrs. Editors:—In looking over your paper of April 30, I found an article ever the signature of "Philos" on the subject of Spiritualism, wherein he makes many grave charges, such as "imposition on the credulity of the people," and a "want of moral honesty" in not revealing the way the "wonderful deeds" are done. Now being myself a Spiritualist and a partial medium for certain kinds of manifestations, why of course I came under his censure, and in justice to myself and those who believe as I do, I deny those charges.

It seems to me that any one who has not investigated the subject cannot speak wisely or truthfully on Spiritualism, although the desire of that person may be to do it justice; and such is the case with "Philos," if one may judge by what he has written on the subject.

There may be impostors in this new theory; if it were not so it would be unprecedented; but to charge all as being "impostors" is to fail in one great attribute in the truly good man, "christian charity."

I have been an investigator of Spiritualism for two years and upwards, and though not possessing the scientific attainments and profound wisdom of brother "Philos," yet I think I possess a good share of common sense, and a small share of that intuitive perception of which he possesses so much; yet I have failed to discover the "electric wires," or "magnetic battery," which cause such wonderful manifestations. No doubt, however, the "contrivances, when understood," will be found "perfectly simple," and perfectly natural, too.

"Philos," in his article, says, "Mr. H., with all his superstitious belief, does not hazard his opinion that the phenomena could have taken place in the absence of Mr. Willis." Why not? if it was impostures there were other spiritualists present at the time, and according to "Philos," all in possession of the secret, and if so, the absence of one would not materially affect the manifestations, and the fact of the necessity of Mr. W.'s presence, in order that the phenomena may be produced, should prove to any one (less obtuse than our brother) that there was a wonderful power embodied in Mr. W.

The idea that a man, possessing only common muscular power, could, by the mere touch of his finger, (and he standing erect at the time,) to a piano weighing over nine hundred pounds, on which were seated four stout men, cause that piano to move about a room, while raised six inches from the floor, to give forth beautiful music at the same time, calls forth (it seems to me) a larger share of credulity than it does to attribute it to the true cause, "spirit agency," for such it really is, "Philos" to the contrary notwithstanding.

He says "we do not attempt to disclose the deceptions of Spiritualists;" I should advise him not to attempt it, until he has informed himself more fully on the subject. At present he has only proven his ignorance, and if the subject is not worthy of investigation, it certainly is not worthy of comment in a public paper.

And an investigation into the principles and teachings of Spiritualism will do him no harm, but good—a theory which teaches us to understand the laws of nature and of our being, our relations to God and to each other, teaching us to understand Christ's promise when he said (alluding to the wonderful works then performed,) "Greater things than these shall ye do, because I go to the Father." I say a theory which teaches such things, can be safely investigated, and I would advise "Philos," in justice to those he has wrongly accused, to search thoroughly, and his acute perception will aid him greatly, and try to understand a subject before he stigmatizes its advocates as impostors and cheats.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—The Boston Courier asks two questions. 1. Did these things really happen. 2. What caused them?

MASSACHUSETTS CONSTITUTION.—On Friday, the people of that State voted on three proposed amendments to the State Constitution.—Returns from 101 towns, including Boston, show that all three were approved by the people.

1st propostion—No person shall have the right to vote, or be eligible to office, under the constitution of this commonwealth, who shall not be able to read the Constitution in the English language, and write his name. Provided, however, that the provisions of this amendment shall not apply to any person prevented by physical disability from complying with its requisitions, nor to any person who now has the right to vote, nor to any person who shall be sixty years of age or upwards at the time this amendment shall take effect.

This is adopted, by about 2 to 1, so far. In the whole State it will be more than 3 to 1.

The other two amendments reduce the House of Representatives to 240, chosen by Districts,—and fix the Senate at 40, also by Districts. A quorum of the House is 100; of the Senate 16. These amendments passed by 10 to 1.

☞ A correspondent of the New York Herald, writing from Paris, says:—"A notion prevails among the knowing ones that Napoleon is not the man he was; that pains of body and mind have rendered him indifferent, and that he is gradually falling back into those voluptuous habits, reports of which were so prevalent before his marriage. It is tolerably certain that the fascinations of the Empress keep him at home less and less, and that those of the Countess Castiglione are immensely in the ascendant.

WILLIS'S SPIRITUAL EXHIBITION.

It has been said that "the history of superstition is more than half the history of man." Certain it is that the grossest absurdities and the wildest vagaries of fancy have gained the credence of the credulous multitude. In the darkest ages of the world, the people were the most superstitious. A belief in demonology and witchcraft, astrology and the magic arts, jugglery and the art of divination, and that disembodied spirits communicated with the world of humanity, was prevalent.

Such belief has not yet ceased in the dark corners of the earth, and some of the popular delusions and chimeras yet prevail to a limited extent among enlightened nations. The lights of christianity and science have not yet wholly banished all such delusions from the land we inhabit.

Spiritualism, clairvoyance and kindred arts are but a new edition, under a new name, of some of the ancient popular superstitions. The art or skill of the performers consists in deceiving. Volumes which have been written on these subjects have fully exposed the deceptions—deceptions far more ingenious than those to which Rev. Mr. Higginson, has given his testimony. His narrative, which may be true in words, may justly excite suspicion that he was an accomplice of Willis, for a joke upon the officers of Harvard College, on account of his expulsion. But we believe that truth will justify the assertion that the table did not move—the bells did not jingle—the guitar did not move from its position under the table and play a tune, without human agency. If we are right in this position, then Mr. Willis's Spiritualism is a mere hoax. We can conceive of several ways in which the table or "one of its planks" might be moved without the action of Mr. H.'s or any other knee, without exciting suspicion of a trick in the minds of the credulous.

But how did the guitar play a tune, keeping time with the clergyman's song? That's the great wonderment of the show. He admits that he felt something like an electrical human hand grasp his foot—still stronger when he took off his shoe! Was there no well contrived trap door or movable board under the table? Was there no performer on another guitar underneath the flooring? We think that neither the electric fluid nor a spirit from the dead, played the tune, joining in sweet harmony with the priest.

Numerous feats of the kind, which at the time astonished "the natives," might be mentioned, which excited laughter when the tricks were exposed. The haunted castle in England, to which there were different claimants, recorded in Hume's history, is one. "The invisible lady," half a century since, in this country, is another.

The lady dwelt in a two-foot box, suspended in the centre of a hall, guarded by a square frame, around which the spectators stood, in order to converse with her.—In respect to what the human eye could see around the frame, her answers were very correct. Men of science, although not joining in the popular delusion, could give no rational solution of the mystery. The secret was profound. At length the discovery was made that the invisible lady in the box was a full-grown man concealed in a closet, having an aperture for the eye, and a secret tube underneath the floor conveying his voice to one post of the frame which guarded the lady. The contrivance was ingenious—perhaps more so than that of the Spiritualists, although the latter has not yet been fully detected as a base imposition.

PHILOS.

EDITORIAL NOTE.—This subject is finding its way, more and more, into the newspapers and among the scholars. Professor Hitchcock, in his "Religion of Geology," has a chapter upon the "Telegraphic System of the Universe," which has never attracted half the attention which it deserves. In this chapter he broaches the startling theory that "our words, our actions, even our thoughts, make an indelible impression upon the universe." Professor Hitchcock contends that "analogy does make it a scientific probability that every action of man, however deep the darkness in which it was performed, has imprinted its image upon nature, and that there may be tests which shall draw it into daylight, and make it perfect so long as materialism endures." Other arguments are adduced in support of this remarkable theory, and particularly the phenomena of mesmerism, somnambulism, &c., which are classed under the head of mental reaction, and concerning which Professor Hitchcock says:

Now, if we admit that mind does operate upon other minds while we are in the body, can we tell how far the influence extends? If electricity, or some other subtle agent, be essential to this action, it would indeed transfer this action to chemical reaction, but still it would be real.—Yet, in the absence of all certain proof of the electric power in this case, and with certain proof of the existence of such an influence, we may place it among those marvelous means by which man makes an impression, wide beyond our present knowledge, upon the universe, material and mental; and it ought to make us feel that our lightest thoughts and teeblest volitions may reach the outer limit of intellectual life, and its consequences meet us in distant worlds, and far down the track of eternity.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

EXETER, May 4th.

The case of Little v. Little was given to the jury on Saturday afternoon at 5 o'cl'k. After staying out till one o'clock Sunday morning, they stood six for the one, and half a dozen for the other; with no prospect of agreement; at which time they came in without any verdict.

No. 156, Beal v. Locke, was taken up this morning. Wells for deft, Christie for plff.

THE HOG CHOLERA.—The Worcester Spy reports that many farmers in that city and vicinity are losing their swine, by the mysterious and fatal disease known as the hog cholera. In the south-east part of the town, it prevails to a greater or less extent upon nearly every farm. In most cases, the disease is traced to Western hogs that have been sold by the drivers the present season, and which seem to have communicated the contagion to the other inmates of the sties in which they have been kept. It is known that of many Western shoats that have been sold at Brighton this season, and peddled about Massachusetts, nearly all have died.

HOG EPIDEMIC.—This Spring, says the Newburyport Herald, many diseased pigs have been driven into town and sold, that have shortly died on the hands of the purchasers. And that is not the worst of it. Some have been killed to save them from dying, and then retailed about the streets—deseased meats from poisoned hogs, that were brought from around the distilleries of the West, where they manufacture strychnine whiskey.

A GRAND GLEE BOOK.—Russell and Richardson of Boston, and Mason Brothers of New York, have just published a noble Glee Book,—which is laid on our table by Messrs. Harvey & Son of this city, where the book is for sale at the low price of $1,25.

It is called the Family Circle Glee Book, and contains no less than 200 pieces, embracing many of the most celebrated and popular songs and airs, arranged in four vocal parts in score, with a full accompaniments for the Piano, Melodeon, &c. It must be a popular and saleable book.

GARROTING AND ROBBERY.—In Boston, on Monday evening, about 9 o'clock, near the corner of Brookline and Tremont streets, Mr. Cyrus Smith, of Piermont, N. H., was assaulted by two unknown men. One of them clasped him around the waist, binding his arms to his body, the other covered his mouth and clutched his throat. Smith was then thrown over into the mud, and his pocket-book, containing $1100, taken from him. Smith is a trader in Piermont, and had gone to Boston to make his spring purchases. He is stopping, with his wife, at the house of a friend near the place where he alleges the robbery took place.

☞ The Boston Herald states that four mercantile firms failed in that city on Monday; one of them was that of the long established firm of Whitney, Fenno & Co., Milk st., dry goods dealers, and their financial embarrassment was caused by the embezzlement of something over one hundred thousand dollars by one of their head book keepers.

The defalcation was discovered about 2 months ago, and restitution of part of the money was made. About three weeks ago, the defaulter left town, and the firm are obliged to suspend payment.

The old story is told in relation to the causes which led to this financial catastrophe—lottery tickets, stocks, and other gambling, led the defaulter to his ruin, and that of a rich and honorable firm.

CORONER'S INQUEST.—The Jury of inquest sitting on the body of Owen Mulcock, who died at the Boston Hospital on Thursday evening last, returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from being run over by the cars of the Worcester Railroad Company, while in a State of intoxication, and the jury further absolved the employees of the Company from any blame in the matter.

FROM EUROPE—FOUR DAYS LATER.

QUEBEC, May 4.

Steam propeller Indian, from Liverpool, at 9 A. M., 23d ult., arrived here this afternoon.

Great Britain.—There is no political news of an exciting character, but speculations in endless variety as to the Ministerial programme for the new Parliament; Reform of law and chancery courts; continuance of the General Board of Health; rights of married women; medical reform; and revision of the whole system of taxation.

It is officially announced that Evelyn Denison is the ministerial nominee for Speaker.

France.—The French government has resolved to adopt the English system of transportation of criminals.

Accounts from the French manufacturing districts are not satisfactory. Raw wool and colonial produce rising. There has been very little business in the corn market, and a considerable decline has been experienced in Bordeaux and Toulon. It has been officially ascertained that there is more than sufficient wheat in France for consumption until next harvest. The growing crops look most most favorably.

Spain.—Madrid correspondence indicates that the Mexican difficulty presents a fair chance of pacific arrangement.

SANFORD'S TROUPE.—This excellent company give their second and last concert at the Temple this evening. The Manchester Mirror says of them:—

The concert was the most satisfactory of the kind we have ever witnessed here.—While the performances contained nothing objectionable to the most refined ears, they were the most mirth-provoking that could be imagined. There was nothing coarse or rude, but the merits of the pieces were the keen wit embodied in them, and the highly artistic manner in which they were rendered. * * * Those of our friends who were so much delighted with the Campbells, will find in these what they want to see, a match for anything that travels, in artistic skill, wit, fun and the soul of music.

NEW YORK, May 4.—The Burdell murder trial commenced to-day, before the Court of Oyer and Terminer. A large concourse was present. Mrs. Cunningham was present with her two daughters, all dressed in deep mourning, but looking very cheerful. Eckel was also present. The whole day has been spent chiefly in getting a jury. One hundred and fifty jurors were fined for non-appearance. Mrs. Cunningham's counsel waived the reading of the indictment, her counsel pleading not guilty, and demanding a trial of the indictment.

THE NEW POLICE.—Judge Roosevelt's injunction in the matter of the police commissioners was dissolved this morning, leaving the new commissioners at liberty to make their appointments and go on with the other business of their office.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(Correspondence of the New York Times.)—It is reported here that the cause of the British refusal to ratify the treaty, relates to the affairs of Honduras, which are still in an unsettled state, and that the English government will insist upon their right to receive stipulations of the Honduras government for the perpetual exclusion of slavery from their territory, and make it a matter of treaty obligation. The administration has been engaged to-day on Central American affairs, and especially upon the question whether our government shall interpose for the relief of the filibusters in Nicaragua, by bringing them away. It is conceded that Walker's career is ended, and that all that can be now done is to aid his men in regaining their homes in the United States.

FROM MEXICO.—New Orleans, May 3.—Advices are received from the city of Mexico of March 18. The Archbishop and several priests have been arrested for being implicated in the late attempted insurrection. The Archbishop is to be banished. Two British war vessels had arrived at Sacrificios, causing some excitement, as it was supposed their object was to bully the government, and hasten the settlement of the English question. The threatened fillibuster demonstration from California upon Sonora has created much anxiety.

BALTIMORE, May 4.—The Railroad difficulties are not fully settled, but there is a prospect of a speedy adjustment. Several military companies which went out this afternoon with the trains, returned at 9 this evening, unmolested, the rioters having dispersed on their approach.

MUNICIPAL COURT, BOSTON.—The May term was opened by Judge Huntington, who charged the grand jury on the subject of dram shops and the implements used in the sale of liquor by the glass, &c. So says the Boston Courier. This looks a little as it the rum power in Boston had become a burden too grievous to be borne.

☞ The St. Anthony, Ma., Express states that a man named Hook, a native of New Hampshire, who was left in charge of some town site in the Kandizohi country, would have starved the past winter, had it not been for the Indians. The owners of the town site neglected to send him provisions. He reached Hutchinson a few days since, more dead than alive.

☞ Rev. E. Bacon will preach in Eliot, at the Congregational Meeting-house, next Sabbath. Mr. Bacon was formerly pastor of the church in Eliot, and his visit there, on the Sabbath, will draw a house full.

EDITORS ON DR. COGGSWELL'S SALT.—We think the following testimonials from publishers who received the salt in payment for advertising, entitled to higher consideration and more confidence, than the certificates ordinarily attached to advertised medicines.—Boston Traveller.

Norway Advertiser, (Me.)—"All who have used the Salt have derived the most beneficial effects from it."

Piketown Journal, (O.,) edited by Mrs. E. S. Dexter.—"We can say from experience, it is an excellent remedy for Headache, Neuralgia, Ague, and Palpitation of the Heart—indeed we are sure it will do all it professes, and we say God speed the new medicine."

National Democrat, (Ind.)—"It has cured several cases of Rheumatism, Bronchitis, Croup, and Erysipelas."

Democratic Advocate, (Me.)—"Our journeyman was cured of severe Neuralgia in one week."

Cape Cod Advocate.—"This valuable medicine is fast gaining ground in the estimation of the public."

East Tennessean.—"It receives commendation from the highest sources."

Lynn Reporter.—"THE NEW MEDICINE—The Antiphlogistic Salt—is working wonders. Accounts come from various parts of the country, telling the good it has done."

Boston Herald.—"There is a deep interest felt by the community in regard to this extraordinary medicine, whose operation is as mysterious as that of vaccine matter."

Lynn News.—"Over 400 newspapers have published Dr. C.'s advertisement, and he is flooded with orders by mail and express, for his salt."

Niagara Democrat, (N.Y.)—"The greatest discovery made in medicine for the last thousand years."

Old Colony Memorial.—"It is for the public to see that no ancient and long-honored theories crush out a truth, in its infancy."

Boston Times.—"A medical discovery equal in importance to the application of the great antisthetic agents, Ether and Chloroform."

Fremont Democrat, (O.)—"It is attended here with great success."

Genessee Democrat.—"In a case of Fistula, its use has resulted favorably."

Waterford Sentinel, (N.Y.)—"A scrofulous Carbuncle of 18 months standing, was cured by using the Salt 2 weeks."

Banner of Liberty, (Md.)—"It has cured Humors, Cutaneous Diseases and many Inflammatory Complaints."

Westfield Republican, (N. Y.)—"The physicians of this town are favorably impressed with its claims."

Another editor, by letter to Dr. C., says:—"It has cured Catarrh, Canker and Croup."

Another:—"We have heard of several cures of Scrofula, Salt Rheum and Ulcers."

Another:—It is very popular with the ladies in Nervous and Female Complaints."

Another:—"A case of Chronic Rheumatism cured in three weeks."

Another:—"One of our physicians, afflicted with Asthma for seven years, is using it, and says he is nearly well."

Another:—"I have been a Dyspeptic for three years—have taken the Salt four weeks, and am entirely cured."

Another:—"A son of mine, subject to Fits from boyhood, used the Salt one month, and is well."

Another:—"One of our firm has taken it for Pleurisy and Heartburn; and is loud in its praise."

Another:—"It is the best remedy for Fever and Ague ever used in the West."

Another:—"My wife has long been afflicted with Inflammation of the Lungs and a hard Cough; she has used the Salt less than one month, and her complaints are wholly removed."

We concur in the views of the Traveller, that these editorial verdicts, under the circumstances, are entitled to more than usual consideration.

The Anti-Phlogistic Salt, with full directions for using, may be had in Portsmouth of J. H. Thacher.

MORAL ANALYSIS.

Messrs. Editors,—As my remarks at a late meeting at the Temple have been taken by some persons to be entirely obscure, and beyond the compass of their understandings, I now give you the outline and substance of them.

As preliminary I remarked on the propriety of spending time in the discussion of moral subjects;— [1] I charged upon our people generally, a heedless precipitancy in matters of worldly enterprise; and that the same characteristic existed in regard to morals.—Problems demanding investigation and careful judicious action were summarily disposed of by resort to the sword. [2]

Further, lest I might be understood as favoring a wrong cause, I made profession of my own practice as being entirely adverse to the use of artificial stimulants. [3] I then spoke of my confidence in moral light and moral principle; that one iota of these was worth more as an agent of reform, than all State Laws combined; [4] of the power of consistent example, that one man having adopted and maintained a sound principle, the influence would spread to others. I cited an instance of great inconsistency in relation to these matters. [5]

I stated that my opinion had from the first been, that the question in regard to the use of ardent spirits, and some other evils, were not subjects for the exercise of State authority; [6] but that, in the counsels of Christianity they presented vast problems demanding a patient, skillful, and persevering moral analysis,—[7] (somebody's ears twisted this so as to understand that I was speaking of something that we must "bear patiently.")

I stated that these problems were as capable of solution as any problem in algebra—What is the origin of the evil? [8] What its extensions? Where its hiding places? What its nutriment?

I intended in some further remarks, to state my belief that the use and traffic in ardent spirits had become so interwoven into the operations of the world, as to have become part and parcel of the social fabric—financially, morally, religiously—and that a cure of the evil by a direct assault and cutting off is impracticable,[9] but the awful evil must be brought to an end by retributive Providence, consigning its victims to rottenness and premature graves: [10] and as far as human effort is concerned, by an ingenious circumvention, [11] placing the antidote of a counter food at its roots and extensions, laying bare to a moral scrutiny its hiding places—cutting off the sources of its nutriment.

I might add—let ten men come together, unbiased by political or selfish ends, and with a single eye for the purpose of eliciting truth on moral subjects, and a light and influence would go forth from such a meeting sufficient to regenerate the world. [12]

I have long been of the opinion that some general plan of moral and religious influence beyond what our different religious organizations furnish, should be adopted, with a view to interest and engage the young and others who are destitute of such advantages, [13] and were such an operation within the compass of my ability, I should not wait for any one else to move in the matter. [14]

A. J. PENHALLOW.

We cheerfully and gladly give our friend Penhallow the opportunity to have his true meaning shown before the people, and append a few notes, by Uncle Toby.

NOTES.—1. Much time has been spent by temperance men in this place, during the last 25 years, in discussion of the moral subjects of temperance, total abstinence, &c.

2. The problem under consideration in that meeting, is not yet disposed of. That problem was not that of total abstinence, or even temperance,—but, Shall we be ruled by the laws, or by the rum power?

3. Happily, Mr. P.'s character is fully established and unquestioned as a man of temperance, integrity and uprightness. He is a worthy total abstinent, and a law abiding man.

4. True; and without them State laws would be nearly or quite powerless for good. The principle of Moral Honesty expressed in the command Thou shalt not steal, existing in Mr. P.'s character, strengthened by education, and confirmed by his excellent habits, is a great power in the moral education of his and his neighbor's children, and is a valuable aid toward reforming a community which is by no means honest overmuch. But what then? Does it follow that we should have no laws by which we can shut up little thieves in the the common jail, and great thieves in the State Prison?—Or does it follow that, having these laws, we must not use them? Or that we must not invoke the officers to use the sword as a terror to the evil-doers?

5.—No doubt there are lots of such.

6.—Every State in Christendom has some law on the subject of drinks,—and every community has the right to protect itself against all evils, as well as it can.

7.—They certainly are worthy of all this.

8.—The evil of intemperance, we suppose;—and this would seem to involve the great and general question of the origin of all moral evil:—a problem which all the wise men of the world have as yet never solved.

9.—No doubt true to a great extent,—but not under discussion at all in that meeting.

10.—This might be the end of drunkenness in one poor victim,—and it has been in hundreds;—but not any approach to the end, or even to the diminution of drunkenness in a town or city.

11.—We have need of all the ingenuity we can get, in this matter. Do tell us what it is.

12.—We hope these ten men will soon get together.

13.—Something like this, has been attempted in the Youth's Temperance Meetings, on Fast Day, and one day since.

14.—No true friend of temperance will offer the least objection to the closest and most searching analysis of the great moral questions of temperance and total abstinence. The moral analysis of the grog-shops, however, is short and simple. They are an unmitigated nuisance, sending out drunken men to beat their wives, drunken boys to pollute the schools and infest the streets, and brutal assaulters to make wanton and murderous attacks.

And the object of that meeting was, to ask the question, Shall these institutions rule us, or shall the laws govern, and keep order?

Society has a right to protect itself against such evils! Shall it be done?

☞ An Irish woman, drunk, was brawling and raving in our streets on Monday afternoon, in a most pitiable and disgusting manner; and was placed in the lock-up.—Who says it is any business of the public whether rum is sold or not? It was reported that this woman got her liquor at the South Street groggery, opposite the Haven School.

☞ We learn that the U. S. Ship Vandalia is to be raised from the Dry Dock to the land back, at the Navy Yard, to-day, if the weather is favorable. This will be a most novel and interesting sight.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1863, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Schiedam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be mulled to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from it the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants.

CRINOLINE.
NEW PATENT LINING
BLACK, white, slate, drab, and pearl, just received by ALFRET LAIGHTON.

CLOSING.—The Herald of a day or two after, adds:

We are happy to learn that the owner of one of the buildings used as a drinking saloon in this city, upon being notified of the uses of his property, promptly visited the premises and closed its doors. It is just what we might expect from an honorable and high minded man. This makes two of those saloons that have been closed this week, the law having been applied to another by City marshal Westcott, and the keeper thereof sent to jail to answer for drugging the captain of a vessel, from whose pocket a hundred dollars disappeared, and who would now have been beneath the turf but for the timely aid of two physicians.

We record the progress of these events with much pleasure, hoping to hear of others like unto them, very shortly. We feel sure that there are owners of buildings in this city, men of wealth and character, who must be utterly ignorant of facts in relation to their property, and we trust that they may be induced to make inquires that cannot fail to convince them as they do convince attentive observers.—They have not labored and toiled to acquire property that it might be a curse to mankind and a continual source of demoralization to the community where they live; and when they once look at this matter they will say they would rather their houses should be empty forever—rather they should lie in ashes at once, than thus used. They mean to live to do good, not injury; and to have a memory behind them, unstained; that none shall speak reproachfully of them when they are gone, and none shall taunt their children with the color of the legacies that come to them.

When in a few days such proprietors pass away, as we are all passing, and their monuments shall rise on yonder hill side, and the passers by stope to read the name and the record of their acts—really noble and praiseworthy—there is not one of them who wishes to think that the living will add to the record from their own recollections, and speak of a mean way in which their wealth was accumulated; they would not wish to have the poverty stricken widow say—"and a monument might have been erected to my husband who sleeps not far off, as high and as elegant as that, but for the doors he left open to entrap him;" they would not wish a barefooted child to look up and say, "that monument was built with what should now purchase me shoes." Life is not long enough to repay for such a reputation; all the enjoyments of life are too mean and too cheap to be had at such a price; and so any thoughtful, considerate, and high-minded man, who wishes well to his family, his neighborhood, and the world, will so decide. We beseech of them to act as they would have others act, if circumstances were changed, and they were the fathers of lads being ruined in these establishments, which were owned by somebody else, and could be closed in an hour.

☞ The proceedings in the Massachusetts Legislature receive some attention from the religious newspapers. Zion's Herald (Methodist) has the following fitting rebuke of the spirit which resisted and defeated the Atheist Witness Bill:

We are sorry to see that the bill to allow all to give testimony in courts, whatever their religious opinions, has failed in the Senate of Massachusetts. Manifestly every human being capable of witnessing a fact and describing it, should be allowed to testify; and the judge and jury should take his testimony for just what they think it worth. We hope the religious press will show that they understand freedom, and not betray a lurking inclination to persecute, by opposing this bill.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & CO are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commission issued by the Governor of Citizens, to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled from the whole, unless a choice offer after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 $0. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.
WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.
E. E. DYER & CO.
(Sign of the Chinaman grinding Coffee.)
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.—
Their Stock consists of:
Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Cloves, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Saxaparilla, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up—each bag and box bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Oolong do.	1 25	5 lb. Java do.	90
5 lb. Hyson do.	1 25	5 lb. Rio do.	80

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish their superiority.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with spices and sugar, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of Dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and is sold under our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee, and costs 12 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medicinal properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be used as a beverage or not, as better suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c. &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, equal in appearance, but in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system, and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

They offer to the public a safe and sure prior investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms. Advice with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions.—Also legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unexcelled by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below show what some of the MORE EMINENT SUCCESS AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber, during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of mechanical and scientific works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business as he; the business of the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.
DR. CHRESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,
Prepared by an old Physician of 40 years experience.
THE combination of medicinal ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice, and they are mild in their operation, and certain to restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance where they have proved unsuccessful. They are certain to open those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature into its proper channel, when the body health is restored, and the mind is cheerful, the spirits buoyant, and the body in a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the want of such a remedy has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Such as pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always arise from the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case, these pills will generally remove all these evils. In all cases of painful menstruation, or nervous and spinal affections in the back and limbs, such as epilepsy, hysterics, &c. Nor are they less efficacious in the cure of Leucorrhœa, commonly called the "Whites." These Pills should never be taken during pregnancy, as they would be sure to cause a miscarriage. Warranted purely Vegetable, and free from any thing injurious to life or health. Full and explicit directions which should be read, accompany each box.
These Pills put up in square, flat boxes.—Persons residing where there are no Agencies established, by enclosing One Dollar in a letter, prepaid, to DR. CHRESEMAN'S, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City, can have them sent to their respective addresses by return of mail.

THE WIDOW OF TOLEDO,

A TALE OF

"Low Birth and Iron Fortune."

BY DR. S. P. BRONSON.

CHAPTER I.

THE RUFFLED MARQUIS.

"I say I will, count!" cried the young Marquis de Sorbano, to his companion, the Count de Perez, as they walked along the Plaza Real—the great square or lounging ground in the good old city of Toledo. The marquis was in his five-and-twentieth year; an only son; very proud, very sensitive, very rich, and, from boyhood up, very much accustomed to have his own way.

The count, his companion, was a bachelor, rather thirty-five than thirty, with a bold, commanding air, a moderately good-looking face, of modest fortune, and with a fine reputation as a soldier, having had the honor, with a small handful of men, of thrice rescuing the standard of his native city, in a single battle, from the Moors. He was a laughing, careless, good-humored gentleman, with no particular object in life except to amuse himself, and was withal, partly from nature and partly from experience, somewhat of a philosopher.

"I say I will, count!" cried the marquis, who, as the reader will readily understand, was considerably excited. "I will call him out and run him through. My honor demands it!"

The count laughingly shrugged his shoulders.

"O, if you honor demands it," he returned, "have nothing more to say. Still, I would like to urge one little thought for your attention."

"What is it?" asked the marquis.

"This: What if Juan, who, as I can testify for he gave me a sword thrust once for intruding incautiously on his shadow!—what Juan, I say, who wields as dexterous a rapier as any man in Toledo—"

"Except Leon, the fair widow's secretary," interrupted the marquis.

"Of course — always excepting Leon," laughed the count. "But what if Juan should chance to be run through? He is proud, and, you will take pains to remember, not over ready to follow any man's bidding. He is impulsive, high-spirited, brooks neither threats nor counsel, is wiry, supple, and quick of eye and hand. As for myself, though I have been some service, and am considered to possess some skill in the use of the sword, I would be careful to fee a priest for masses for my soul, ere I voluntarily went out to match my blade with Juan's!"

"But my honor demands it!" repeated the marquis, upon whom this gentle admonition had no effect. "Juan must meet me!"

"O, you will not have to ask him twice," laughed the count. "But, seriously, now—you would not fight a man about a woman who would consider it a blessed thing if seven-eighths of her suitors—Juan and yourself amongst them—would only kill each other, and thereby relieve her of their importunities!"

"No matter!" said the marquis, proudly.—"I will fight him!"

"Eve you do!" said the count, as they approached a noted tavern, the resort of the gay cavaliers of the day, "let's into the lodge of our Blessed Lady," and try a flagon of 'Cadiz.' Since nothing I can say will drive this thought out of your head, let's see if the generous grape will not be more successful."

The count, followed by his companion, pushed his way through the garden, which fairly hummed with the voices of a gay throng, to an unoccupied table near the fountain, and after giving an order for two flagons of his favorite 'Cadiz,' he ran his clear dark eye rapidly around to observe his immediate neighbors, and perceiving an old acquaintance smoking a cigarette in a brown study, and occasionally moistening his lips with a measure of wine, he smilingly muttered—

"Poor Lopez! he is meditating upon the lecture that awaits him from the gray mare, and wishing himself a free cavalier once more!"

"Stay!" said the marquis. "Something is going on!"

He made this remark on noticing that there was a general movement on the part of the throng towards the entrance of the garden.—Looking in that direction, he and the count beheld a short, stout personage, with a small round head, a sugar-loaf hat, a turned-up nose, small thin lips, a retreating chin, round shoulders, and short arms, standing, in scarlet trunks and hose, on a large table between two alguazils, one of whom held in his right hand a long narrow rod emblematic of his office as a constable, and in the other a small handbell, which, at a sign from the short, stout individual, who was none other than the city crier, he now rang to attract attention.

"Hear, hear, all ye people!" cried the crier, in a wheezy voice. Then turning to the alguazil on his right, he commanded him to "sound;" whereupon that worthy raised a long narrow trumpet to his lips, and blew a loud, shrill blast, which grated on the ears of the crowd with a sharpness that caused many to shrink back with every nerve on edge.

The crier, unfolding a roll of parchment, from which dangled a large circular blue seal, held it up, and cried aloud in his wheezy tone, which was scarcely heard through the din:

"Hear, hear, all ye people! In the name of his most Catholic Majesty, Charles the Second, by the grace of God and the Spanish Monarch, King of Spain, give audience!"

"In the name of the King!" shouted the alguazil with the trumpet, in a voice of thunder.

Every voice was hushed and every hat off, in an instant!

The alguazil smiled triumphantly and glanced at the crier to proceed.

The latter cleared his throat, with an air of importance that provoked a general smile, and then read as follows:

"Whereas it has been represented to us that Don Garcia de Vega, whilom of this court, is living concealed under a false name in our good city of Toledo, this is to inform all to whom this, our proclamation shall come, that whoever is cognizant of his abiding place shall reveal the same to the judge of the city tribunal, who is hereby charged to deliver him, bound hand and foot, if needs be, into our royal hands.—And if any person or persons, to whom this proclamation shall come, be aware of the abiding place of the said Don Garcia de Vega, and shall withhold his knowledge of the same from the officer aforesaid, such person or persons shall forfeit all he or they may possess, to the crown, and his or their bodies be publicly burnt on the market place.

Signed with our hand and sealed with our most royal seal. CHARLES, REX.

Having finished the reading of this epistle to the Toledans, the crier, throwing up his short, round arm, shouted "Long live the King!" and then, followed by the alguazils, stepped carefully down from the table, and, with a ludicrous air of assumed dignity, took his departure.

As he disappeared, the spectators breathed freer, and resumed their seats and wine; and ere long the atmosphere was as heavy with the buzzing murmur of their voices as before.

'Don Garcia de Vega,' said the marquis to his companion, who was looking down musingly, 'who was he?'

'I am trying to think,' answered the count; 'but for the life of me, I cannot. The name is floating dimly in my memory, like a wrecked ship on the sea; but I am unable to make, out when, where, or under what circumstances I first heard of it. It seems to me as if it belongs to one who made a noise in political circles a long time ago, but I am not sure.'

'Let me enlighten you, gentlemen,' said a voice near them.

It was that of a personage at an adjoining table, whom the count and marquis recognized as the city recorder's clerk.

'Don Garcia de Vega,' he said, 'three and twenty years ago, was one of the King's counsellor's, and stood high at court; but having incurred the enmity of Don Ramirez, the prime minister, whose brother he slew in a duel, he was charged with treason, his estates confiscated, and himself sentenced to the headsman; but, through the instrumentality of friends, he avoided the axe by escaping from prison on the night preceding the day appointed for his execution, taking with him, as was supposed, his wife and babe, since neither could be found after his flight. Public sympathy was with him at the time, as few believed him guilty of the charge on which he was arraigned: most regarding it as trumped up by the prime minister to avenge the death of his kinsman, who, as was reported, had made dishonorable proposals to Don Garcia's wife, who repelled them with the indignation of a virtuous and high-born lady.'

'Poor Garcia!' exclaimed the count.—'He did right in punishing the impudent rascal; but, by St. Francis! it was a mean act in Ramirez to take so circuitous a revenge.—If he had been a man, he would have sought satisfaction for his brother's death, steel to steel. The King ought to have kicked him into a kennel! But,' he added, smilingly checking himself, 'as my sympathy will be of no avail to the poor fellow, I'll bottle it for a more opportune occasion.'

'Sensibly said!' remarked the clerk, playfully tapping him on the shoulder. 'Hark! what is that?'

The occupants of the garden looked at one another a moment, and then simultaneously rose from their seats, and rushed precipitately through the garden to the plaza.

'Let us follow!' crid the count. Something is going on! Come!

As the trio pushed towards the entrance, the marquis suddenly felt a hand pressing him on the shoulder. He turned and beheld a young cavalier, of about his own size and age, eyeing him sternly.

'Juan de Mendoza!' he exclaimed, 'I have a word for you. Will it please you to step back a few paces, so I can whisper it?'

'With pleasure, Marquis,' returned the other, leading the way toward the fountain.—'Now, sir,' he exclaimed, pausing and drawing himself haughtily up, 'say it!'

'It,' said the Marquis, 'you know the use of the blade at your side, meet me, with your best friend, at day-break to-morrow, under the old locust tree in the wood behind the convent of St. Clara.'

'I will meet you there!' said Mendoza.

Toledo is built upon a rocky hill, nearly environed by the Tagus, and is encompassed by a wall flanked by small towers, built by the Moors. The streets are narrow, and sloping in their descent towards the river with a steepness that makes running up a task of fatiguing difficulty, and running down a matter of great danger. The summit of the hill is very extensive in breadth, and is by far the fairest portion of the city. There are all the chief public buildings; here are the gardens and hanging grounds; and here dwell the noblemen and princely merchants and other opulent citizens of note; the descending streets being left to the humbler classes, who regard with mingled hatred and envy the inhabitants of the plateau above them. Behind the plateau, or summit, the dark range of the Toledo mountains forms an imposing back-ground, through which stretches a long, sinuous high-road to Madrid.

On the afternoon of the day of the commencement of this story, the viceroy, a small, slender, elderly personage, whose brow was silvered by the cares of office, went out, after the siesta, which commences at two and terminates at four o'clock, during which every body in Toledo is supposed to be sleeping off the heat of the sun, to take his usual quiet evening ride. On his return, weich was just as the sun was going down behind the mountain, the horses, startled by the flapping of the gray hood of a passing friar, took fright and became unmanageable; plunging forward with indescribable fury and swiftness, wrenching the carriage almost in pieces;—pitching the driver headlong to the earth, and whirling the driver down a deep gully, from which he was taken on dead.

On reaching the plaza, the count beheld it swarming with terror-stricken runners, who were speeding with loud cries in every direction to avoid an approaching carriage, without postillion or footman, borne threateningly along by two coal black, high-mettled Arabians, whose flashing eyes and blood-red nostrils and foam-reeking sides announced death to whoever crossed their path. On they came, with the fleetness of the wind, their small, light hoofs scarcely seeming to touch the earth, and yet speeding over it with the rapidity of light, their manes waving, their necks arched, and the heads proudly tossing in the startled air.

'Make way! make way!' shouted the throng, fleeing to the right and left, and when the vehicle had passed by, bringing up behind and following after, as they previously had done before it.

Suddenly a cry of horror rose from the multitude.

Having cleared the plaza, the coursers were plunging down the steep street leading to the river!

A few moments, and the steeds and carriage would be in the Tagus, and Guzman the Beloved beyond human reach!

Suddenly as if by common consent, the spectators held their breath.

Horse and carriage had reached the foot of the hill, and only a few yards intervened between them and the water's edge. The people were flying in all directions, and the Arabians, blind with their wildness, were rushing forward, with their precious freight, (whose small form was seen tossing from side to side of the vehicle,) over the open space, to certain destruction.

An instant, and all would be over. Many, unable to endure the appalling sight, closed their eyes, and turned aside their heads.

A moment later, a faint cheer rose upon the air. Looking down, the throng beheld sweeping down a neighboring street, with the rapidity of light, a solitary horseman, his hat flying far behind him, and his long, dark hair, like his short shoulder cloak, streaming behind him, upborne by the passing breeze. He He was evidently aiming to head off the flying Arabians, whose swiftness scarcely equalled that of his own gallant roan. Both reached the base of the hill together, and only a few yards were outspread between them. But those few yards were everything. The rider buried his spurs in the flank of his steed, whom he also urged on with shrill and exciting cries. But in vain; the few yards still stood between him and the Arabians, who, like himself, were springing towards the river.

An instant, and they were in, and amid a cry of horror from the spell-stricken crowd above and below, horses and carriage went down beneath the glittering waves, whose white foam closed for a moment over them, and then glittered evenly as before.

But they had scarcely settled, when the horseman reached the brink, and suddenly turning the head of the steed, sprang from the saddle, and shouting 'A boat, varlets,' plunged like a diver after pearls, into the water.

The two words he had spoken recalled the presence of mind of the crews of the adjoining vessels, and yawls were hurriedly let down from the ships' stern and sides, and the oars rapidly inserted in the row-locks, and the boats themselves well-manned, and hastily drawn towards the spot where the young man had gone down. But moment after moment went by, and he appeared not, and the heart of the multitude on the heights shook as if with a death chill.

The rowers in the yawls, carefully watching every sign in the waves, instinctively formed a large circle around the spot where the Arabians had sunk, and breathlessly awaited the result.

Suddenly there was an agitation of the waters near the centre of the circle, as if Herculean efforts for life were being made by man or beast.

A moment later, a loud shout from the sailors and from those on the surrounding piers rent the air, and was caught up by the great throng on the heights, till the arches of the heavens seemed to ring; for the young man, pale as a winding sheet, appeared above the surface, struggling violently, with the viceroy on one arm, and holding up the other as a sign for help.

The struggle for his own and another's life must have been fierce, for on being relieved of his burden, he gave a convulsive throe, as if the last spark of his expiring energy had been consumed, and then lay like one dead upon water.

He was lifted, with the viceroy, into a boat, and borne ashore. The latter, though pale, still breathed, and evidently had become insensible ere the Arabians had reached the base of the hill. In fact, it was a question with the crowd, whether, on waking, he would be conscious of having been in the Tagus at all.

Both of the bodies were conveyed away—the one to the palace, the other to a neighboring convent, where the young man was soon restored to consciousness, when at his own request, he, though still weak and pale, was permitted to go forth unattended. He modestly insisted upon not giving his name, selected an unfrequented street, and quietly made his way home.

CHAPTER II.

THE MAN IN GRAY.

As the young deliverer of the viceroy passed through the small gate leading to his residence, a man, in a short cloak, jerkin, trunks, and hose of a seedy gray, and with a countenance in which good humor and low cunning were singularly blended, approached from the same direction, and paused a while to carefully impress the form and situation of the building upon his mind. This accomplished, he passed on to a baker's shop at the next corner, and calling up an engaging smile, said to the keeper, who was leaning abstractedly over the counter,—

'Good evening, senor! I am, as you will see, the most unfortunate fellow in the world.'

The baker looked at his seedy visitor with a dubious eye, as if he half fancied that he had come to beg, and yet was not quite confident of the truth of the suspicion.

'I have an errand up the street,' added the man in gray, with the same suave smile, 'but unluckily I have lost the exact direction and the name. It is one of the first seven houses, from your shop, but whether the first or seventh, or the one next to the first or seventh, I, for the life of me, cannot tell. Perhaps,' he added, artfully throwing down a marved and picking up a cracker, a proceeding which he felt quite confident would open the heart of the dealer in baked dough, 'perhaps, senor, you can aid me.'

'In what way?' asked the baker, carefully dropping the coin through a narrow hole in the counter, into the money drawer.

'By kindly giving an unfortunate fellow the name of the gentleman who lives in the first house?'

'It is a gentleman, then, you are in search of?' asked the baker.

'A gentleman, senor—a young gentleman.'

'O, a young gentleman?' repeated the man of bread, stroking his small black beard, and thoughtfully looking sideways. 'Good looking?'

'As yourself, senor!' answered the man in gray, munching his cracker.

'Um—ha!' muttered the baker, like a man who is deliberating.

The man in gray observed him in silence and anxiety.

'No good-looking man lives in the first house,' at length said the baker.

'No, senor?' said the man in gray, in the tone of one who is very much disappointed, but still is not without hope.

'No,' returned the baker, confidently. 'The man in the first house is a hunchback. No young men live there. Hence, your friend must reside further up.'

'Perhaps in the sixth?' suggested the man in gray.

'In the sixth?' said the baker, with a thoughtful, sidelong glance.

'In the sixth,' said the man in gray.

'Um—ha!'

And the baker was evidently thinking that possibility over.

The man in gray nervously awaited his reply; for it was at the gate of the house under consideration that the brave deliverer of the viceroy had disappeared.

'The sixth is a large house,' slowly observed the baker, without withdrawing his abstracted gaze from the fragment of cake.—'Stands in the middle of an extensive garden, with pebbled paths. A line of lime trees in front, near the railing; orange trees running up on the right; lemons on the left? Very nice house. I serve her with bread.'

'Who?' asked the man in gray.

'Donna Isabel de la Monteça,' replied the baker.

'A widow?' inquired the man in gray, not wishing to appear to know more than became his rank, but who, notwithstanding, was as familiar with the name of the lady in question as with his own.

'Relict of the viceroy's late counsellor,' answered the baker.

'I see,' said the man in gray.

'Very rich and very handsome,' said the baker. 'Has the greatest run of suitors of any senora in town. There is a young man there,' said the breadmaker, after a pause.

'Yes?' inquired the man in gray, who fancied he knew there was.

'Yes, there is a young man there,' repeated the baker.

'Good looking?'

'Rather. Is quite learned, too, they say,' he continued, slowly, as if the effort to speak were painful. 'Is familiar with several languages, all of which he has taught himself.—Fences, also, with great skill. Is graceful.—Full of courage. Proud as Lucifer. Sings and dances well. Tall, slender, vigorous.—Large eyes.' Looking at the man in gray.—'He may be the one?'

'His name?' asked the latter, cautiously, but with the same blank smile that his features had worn throughout the conference.

'Leon.'

'Leon, what?'

'I never heard him styled anything else,' said the baker. 'The widow calls him so, and so do all the girls in the neighborhood, who are crazy after him; but he pays no attention to them.'

'I see. Who is his father?'

'A poor woodman on the widow's country estate. Not much to be proud of?'

'No,' answered the man in gray.

'No, not much to be proud of,' continued the bread-maker. 'Is he the one?'

'No,' returned the man in gray, who had no idea of betraying himself. 'But he may dwell in the seventh?'

'You think so?' asked the baker.

The man in gray bowed.

The bread-maker, clearing his throat with another 'Um—ha!' turned his eyes sideways at the scrap of cake on the floor, in deep, hard thought.

'I don't think he lives there!' he remarked at length; 'no, I don't think he lives THERE!'

'Why not?' asked the man in gray.

'Because,' answered the bread-maker, raising his dull eyes and throwing them with a light, dry twinkle, upon the man in gray, 'that house is empty—nobody lives there.'

'Then,' said the latter, smiling, as in duty bound, at the joke, but immediately after assuming a lugubrious air, 'I must give it up for to-night, and try again to-morrow. Many thanks for your courtesy, senor. Adieu!'

And he turned from the shop. But once in the street, his countenance lit up with triumph.

'Leon, secretary to Donna Isabel de la Monteça!' he exclaimed. 'I have the secret! To-morrow I shall make an honest penny!'

CHAPTER III.

THE FIGHT.

As day broke, on the following morning the Marquis de Sorbano might have been seen leaning against the trunk of a huge locust in the small wood appointed for his meeting with Don Juan. He was alone; but calm and collected, every nerve braced to a combative edge, but yet firm and confident.

His eye kindled with pride as he reflected that he was first upon the ground; and a smile rose to his lip as he fancied the mortification that would fill the breast of his rival at the discovery.

Remembering that in the coming conflict, he had a skilful swordsman to contend with, he lifted up his weapon, and withdrew the blade carefully examined both the point and the edge. This done, he stepped back and tried its temper against the body of the locust.—The steel yielded to the pressure of his hand till it assumed the shape of an inverted pear, and the point and hilt had met together.

'It will do!' he exclaimed with an air of satisfaction.

'Yes, if its owner's hand and heart be made of as good stuff!' said a mocking voice behind him.

He recognized the tone, and quickly turning, beheld the heated form of Don Juan, who, with folded arms, was proudly observing him.

'You are alone?' said the marquis.

'The friend I had expected to accompany me was suddenly called from home,' returned Don Juan.

'Where is yours?'

'The gentleman to whom I looked to attend me, was injured yesterday in attempting to stay the flight of the affrighted horses of his highness the viceroy,' replied the marquis.

'Then we will settle this affair without witnesses, senor, said Don Juan.

'I think not,' muttered a voice amid the branches of the locust. It was that of the man in gray. 'Gentlemen who make appointments in a public garden, without looking around to see whether they are observed, sometimes discover that they have been overheard!'

'In the event of my falling, senor, said Don Juan, who was now in his shirt sleeves, and nearly ready for the combat, 'you need give yourself no uneasiness concerning me, as, if I do not return before eight o'clock, my valet will find, lying on my dressing table, a note addressed to my father, stating where my body may be found.'

'I have taken no such precaution,' observed the marquis. 'But in case you should be the only survivor, I will thank you to leave a note at the lodgings of my friend the count, with whom you saw me yesterday, informing him of the result.'

'I will do so, senor.'

'Enough. You are a gentleman, senor, and I have your word.'

'As for me,' said the man in gray, 'I promise that the pockets of the defunct shall be picked so clean as to leave no cause for wrangling among the relatives.'

Having rolled up the sleeves of their linen, the cavaliers grasped their rapiers, and threw themselves into position.

'Come on, senor!' cried the marquis.

'I am ready!' was the response.

And their swords crossed.

The combatants eyed each other warily, and appeared to be mutually conscious that the slightest mistake or want of caution was certain death.

'You are giving ground,' cried Juan, mockingly.

'And your thrusts are worthy only of a girlish page!' replied the marquis. 'Where is your boasted manhood? Did you leave it at home, senor, in your note?'

Don Juan's eyes flashed lightning.

'This is my answer!' he cried through his pent teeth, as, after a few quick passes, he again lunged fiercely at his foe.

But the latter had his wits about him, and hastily pushing aside the weapon, plunged his own into the young man's chest, and then drew back.

'Why did you not drive it home?' demanded Don Juan, satirically.

'The bone was in the way,' replied the marquis. 'But I will try and do better next time.'

The combatants were now fairly aroused.—The rapiers became, as it were, inextricably intertwined—so rapid, skilful and energetic was their mutual play, till eventually they appeared to be one piece of steel, of which each combatant held an end.

But this kind of work, as the man in gray observed, could not last. It was too trying. Human strength could not endure it. Already great beads of sweat were dropping, every other instant, from the forehead of each cavalier. Their teeth were set, grating now with a discordant harshness that was intolerable, especially to the ear of the worthy up in the branches of the locust, whose nerves it set on edge. Their breathings too were becoming short, and quick and dry. While their faces had the peculiar paleness of men conscious that they are in extremity, but who would sooner die than yield or retreat.

Don Juan felt that his wrist was gradually becoming weaker and weaker, and that he could not hold out much longer. As this conviction settled in his mind—and certainly it was not a gratifying one—his eyes fairly glittered with rage, and hastily unwinding his weapon from that of his antagonist, he stepped back and as suddenly darted forward and, beating aside the marquis's rapier, made a last desperate lunge.

The latter, comprehending the idea of the movement, lightly fell back a single step, and evaded the thrust; then quickly twining his own sword with that of the panting Don Juan, he dextrously twisted it from his grasp and sent it whirling through the air. In another instant his Toledo was up to the hilt in the breast of his adversary, who glared at him with an air of baffled hatred, reeled, and then fell at length upon the green sward, which ere long was crimsoned with his blood.

At sight of his prostrate enemy, the marquis was unmanned. This was his first duel, and the sight of blood unnerved him. His enmity fled, and with it all unfriendly thoughts. Tears started to his eyes, and throwing down his weapon, he rushed up to the dying man, and beseeching his forgiveness, generously tendered his hand.

Don Juan shrank from him with a vindictive frown, and gathering all his energies for a last effort, spit at him in mingled venom and defiance, and fell back—dead!

'I never shed blood before!' murmured the marquis, despondingly, as he slowly prepared for his departure. 'And the memory of this sad instance will hang upon me, like an ever-present gloom, all my days!'

And dashing the spray from his lids, he moved, with a sorrowful step, from the wood.

As he disappeared, the man in gray dropped lightly down from the tree, approaching the body, laid his hand upon the heart.

'Gone—gone to pot!' he muttered, shaking his head. 'And I'll wager he hasn't left enough in his pockets to pay me for the trouble of emptying them! I wonder how his boots would fit me? No, his feet are too small. What's this under his girdle? A paper! of importance, perhaps. Ha! what's this? 'Notes confirmative of the whereabouts of Don Garcia de Vega.' Why, that's the knave to whom the crier alluded, I must look to this, I may make a pretty penny by it.—Therefore, for the present, precious document, do thou keep close companionship with my shirt—thou perhaps mayst help to make it a little nearer to thine own white color! And now, friend Pequilo, let's see what we shall find in his pockets. Ha! a knife! a good beginning; I have wanted one a long time. A ring, too? But, hah! only a plain one. Pequilo, let's see what the defunct has in the pouch on the other side? As I live! a purse, and fat as a greasy priest's too! A hundred golden pieces! O, won't I have a jolly drunk! No more of Burgundy lees, but the pure liquor itself! Hark! (putting his ear to the ground.) I hear footsteps. Parties are entering the wood. I must be off. But before we take to our heels, Pequilo, let us sound the depths of the worthy senor's doublet. What—nothing! Let us respectfully withdraw, and prepare ourself for a visit to his excellency the viceroy.'

CHAPTER IV.

FURTHER PROFITS OF THE MAN IN GRAY.

The daring feat of the mysterious stranger, in the preservation of the life of the viceroy, was the one theme everywhere; that is to say in the good city of Toledo. It created a general sensation. But unfortunately for public gossip, nobody could tell the hero's name. One thought he looked like a certain cavalier; another that he bore a striking resemblance to Don somebody; a third, that he appeared like Don so-and-so's son or nephew. But none could say with certainty; and therefore, for want of something better, they, by general consent, styled him 'the mysterious stranger.'

Throughout the city, curiosity was strong; but at the palace of the Viceroy it literally raged. From the audience hall even down to the porter's kitchen, 'Who is he?' and 'Who can he be?' were about the only words that fell upon the ear. This was in part owing to the anxiety of the Viceroy himself upon this point, and partly to the favor which all knew was sure to follow to whoever could answer the query. But the night wore away, and the day also, and the mysterious unknown still remained undiscovered.

At length, as the dial announced the hour of noon, a stranger, evidently fresh from his toilet, and smelling of the stupifying scents which are thrown out by those who have recently emerged from a barber's, presented himself to the first porter, with a bland smile.

It was the magnificent patron of the national saint—the man in gray; but in a new suit of glittering velvet, of the same color as his old dress, thereby showing that gray was with him the one great color, if not part and parcel of his individuality. In his new clothes, his slender, middling-sized figure showed to advantage; and his face being clean, his bold, saucy and somewhat handsome features were admirably adapted to inspire the first porter with a proper degree of respect.

'I learn from public report,' said the man in gray, 'that his excellency is in great distress concerning the name of the horseman who yesterday rescued his excellency from an untimely death in the Tagus.'

'True, senor,' replied the first porter. 'His excellency, as you say, is certainly in great distress, from which I should deem it both a pleasure and a honor to relieve him. Perhaps, senor,' he added, somewhat excitedly in view of favor, 'perhaps, senor, you will graciously enable me to do so? Stand back, varlets—stand back!' he cried, turning furiously to half a score of lackeys behind him in the hall, who having overheard the visitor, were stealthily drawing near to catch the remainder. 'Return to your posts. The gentleman is kindly about to communicate his information in confidence to me alone. Back, varlets. His name you said, senor, is——'

'His excellency will perhaps inform you after my departure!' answered the man in gray, with a gracious smile.

The first porter blushed; the varlets tittered; and the man in gray, at a 'This way, senor!' from an usher, standing at the foot of a broad staircase, passed up to the audience hall, which was thronged with courtly dames and cavaliers, who surveyed the new comer with a supercilious stare, which he returned with interest.

As preceded by the usher, he approached the door of the inner apartment or cabinet, he beheld issuing therefrom a personage whose appearance caused him to blush—and avert his eyes—but only for an instant; his native impudence came again to his aid, and he passed to the next usher as coolly as though he had been familiar with such scenes and incidents all his days.

The above is all of this beautiful and highly interesting story that will be published in our columns. We give this as a sample.—The continuation of it can be only found in the New York Ledger, the great family weekly paper, for which the most popular writers in the country contribute, and which can be found at all the stores throughout the city and country, where papers are sold. Remember to ask for the New York Ledger of May 16, and in it you will get the continuation of the story from where it leaves off here. If you cannot get a copy at any news office, the publisher of the Ledger will mail you a copy on receipt of five cents. Fanny Fern writes only for the New York Ledger; Sylvanus Cobb, Jr., writes only for it; Emerson Bennett writes only for it; and nearly all the eminent writers in the country, such as Mrs. Sigourney, Mrs. Emma D. E. N. Southworth and Alice Carey, contribute regularly to its columns. Mrs. Southworth will soon commence a new story in the New York Ledger—hereafter she will write for no other paper. It is mailed to subscribers at $2 a year, or two copies for $3. It is one of the handsomest and best family papers in the country, elegantly illustrated, and is characterized by a high moral tone.

FAILURES AMONG THE BOSTON DRY GOODS MERCHANTS.—Some that have been esteemed among the strongest houses in Boston, have failed this week. Messrs. Whitny, Fenno & Co., failed through the defalcation of their chief clerk, as named before. Besides them, Chapman, Lord & Hale; Shaw, Sampson & Bramhall; Prince, Post & Co.; Sweetser, Gookin & Co.; and Bugbee, Holden & Co.,—in all, six heavy houses, have suspended. The business is reported to be dull, and western payments come in slowly; these are supposed to have occasioned the trouble. The largest of these failures is reported to be for $400,000; another is for $200,000; a third for $190,000, and a fourth for $120,000.

A post-mortem examination of Mr. Montgomery, the member of Congress lately deceased, at Danville, Pa., exhibited extensive abrasions of the mucous or lining coat of the stomach, and the entire destruction of the membrane, with a general disorganization of the thoracic and abdominal viscera. The physicians ascribe his death to poison. Mr. Montgomery stopped at the National Hotel, Washington, during the inauguration.

☞ An old lady of seventy years, named Couch, who has borne a good reputation, was detected in a petty larceny at a store in Greenbush, N. Y., one day last week, and that night, actuated by shame, she steeped a dose of poison hellebore, and committed suicide. She was a professor of religion, and much esteemed for her piety.

HUNT'S MERCHANTS' MAGAZINE for May has been received. It has a fine steel engraved portrait of W. W. Leland, with a brief biography of his business career. It has seven elaborate articles from reliable sources, of much value to the merchants and bankers.

The Prince of Prussia will not marry the Princess Royal of England, until next January. He wants to repair the old house at Berlin and get his fall crops in the cellar before marrying, we suppose.

☞ Queen Victoria's daughter, the 9th child, was born on the 14th of last month.

Madame Otto Goldschmidt's (Jenny Lind's) daughter was born on the 31st of March.

☞ The salary of the Rev. Dr. Chapin, of the Broadway Universalist Society of New York, has been raised to six thousand dollars, which is an increase of one thousand dollars.

☞ It is understood that President Buchanan and several members of his Cabinet will come to Boston on the approaching 17th of June, to participate in the inauguration of the statue of General Warren on Bunker Hill.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, MAY 7, 1857.

BOSTON POLICE.—The Courier, in its Police Court report mentions, that William Eddy, David Ryan, Cornelius Donohee, Henry Shattuck, Zephaniah Tucker, John Long, Addison S. Boss and J. B. Jacobs were severally fined $10 and costs each for keeping their place of business open on the "Lord's Day."

The same paper, speaking of Whitney & Fenno's clerk, as follows:

Here is a firm confessedly ruined by the embezzlements of a clerk who has spent his money at gambling saloons, and in the purchase of lottery tickets. The clerk is "caught" in a "trap set for him at the Post-Office." The trap was doubtless baited by the proper authorities, yet the man has "left for a distant part of the country." His flight did not follow immediately upon his apprehension. He stopped long enough to disgorge a part of his stealings, and was then, with a kindness that cannot be too highly appreciated, allowed to run away with the rest of it. We very much doubt if a man has at any time a moral right to allow a criminal to go unwhipt of justice when he can prevent it. But for men who are entrusted with the execution of laws to allow a criminal "caught" in the very act of destroying the fabric of a merchant's credit, to fly to some parts unknown, is so palpable a violation of justice, and law, and such a gross dereliction of duty, that it deserves severe rebuke.

The gambling houses where the money was lazarded, and the policy shop where the lottery tickets were purchased, are known to our police force, and no steady, concerted systematic effort has been made for their suppression; no ordinance is passed to compel them to "close at half-past eleven o'clock." This is a sad state of things. Minor offences receive all the punishment—the perpetrators of grave crimes go unquestioned. The doors of the Boston Theatre must be closed at least half an hour before midnight, but the threshold of a policy office, a gambling den or a riotous groggery may be trod till morning, and only occasionally is an attempt made to stop them, although at the former a clerk may waste his employer's means, and at the latter, a young student may be murdered.

GREAT FACTORY SALE.

The great property of the Salisbury Company, at Salisbury Village, Mass., has just been sold at auction, as we learn from the Newburyport Herald:

The property consisted of six mills, for the manufacture of woolen goods, all provided with machinery and in running order, with dye houses, print works, rolling mills, and every appurtenance requisite.—The value of the mills, may be known from the fact, that the last improvements cost, completed, $400,000, and for the Aubin factory $100,000, so that within four years they have had expenditures, for additions, of half a million dollars. There are in these mills fifty full sets of machinery, which are estimated by good judges to be worth a total valuation of $750,000.

In addition, the corporation owned several stores, 40 tenements, 3 saw mills and grist mills, a large quantity of wood and timber lands, and a brick yard. The property offered was immense, and cost originally a million and a quarter of dollars.—It stood at that on the day of the sale—the capital stock $640,000 and the debts $600,000. If the business was good they would be worth that now. The water, in river and 3000 acres of ponds, extends up into Kingston and Newton, New Hampshire, and there are few factories in the country with facilities superior to these.

It was stated at the sale that in 18 years dividends to the amount of 221 per cent had been paid the stockholders. The conditions of the sale were $10,000 within the 48 hours, or $5000 forfeiture; 20 per cent of the purchase, deducting the $10,000, on the 18th inst., and 20 per cent monthly until paid. The purchaser was Samuel May, Esq., of Boston, at $225,000.

THE GREAT EASTERN.—We learn by the late news from England that it is expected that this monster steamship will be ready for launching in August. Being 680 feet long, she is to be let into the narrow river sideways, and will truly represent a town going into the water. Lengthwise, she would stretch nearly across the stream.—Her tonnage is 22,500, which would enable her to take in the united bulk of of the Collins and Cunard lines of steamers, and sail off with them, as a soldier sails off with his breakfast. With all this great bulk, she will draw but 36 feet of water, and that, too, with twelve hundred tons of coal in her bunkers. It is thought that the first port she will touch at here, will be Portland.

☞ Great freshets are reported, on the rivers in New York and Pennsylvania, caused by the rains of May 4th and 5th.

THE BALTIMORE RAILROAD RIOTERS.—A dispatch from the Assistant Master of Transportation on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, says:

Our freight operations are now fully resumed—the strike having been put down by law. All the freight has been sent off to-day successfully. The passenger trains at no time have been kept back or molested. Let these facts be known as widely as possible."

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, May 6.—The Europa brings advices three days later than those by the Indian.

The political news is of no special interest.

The city of Sarawk, Borneo, had been destroyed by a body of Malays, and 2000 of the Chinese inhabitants killed. The attack was owing to the massacre of several Europeans by the inhabitants of Sarawk.

Cotton market dull and irregular, with a slight decline. Sales of the week 44,000 bales.

Breadstuffs steady. Wheat had advanced 2d, and corn 6d.

Provisions steady, without change.

American Securities unchanged.

NEW ORLEANS, May 5.—The British frigate Tartar has arrived at the mouth of the river, with nearly 200 of Col. Lockridge's men on board. They are in a very destitute condition, and many of them are down with the measles.

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Our municipal election passed off quietly to-day. The Democrats have elected their Commissioner of the Treasury, and a majority of the Councilmen.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

A Tip-Top medicine is Lawrence's Carminative.

Young Ladies are put into society that they may be seen and married, but Lawrence's Carminative is put into the market to cure the riotous. See advertisement.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, Messrs. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, all together, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No. 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose health was perfected, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

Manny's Celebrated Mower

—AND—

IMPROVED.

Built expressly for the New England States.

THE MANNY MOWER has been extensively used for the past two years in New England, and more than six years at the West—its success is beyond that of any other Mower or Reaper ever constructed. Over 150 1st Premiums have been awarded it, including the Grand 1st Class Silver Medal at the WORLD'S FAIR, PARIS, 1856.

With the two past years' experience, we have been enabled to make a number of very important improvements. We find New England farmers require a different Machine from other sections;—the fields generally being small. It must be light, at the same time possess great strength; portable, with facilities to raise the cutter bar to pass obstructions, and to remove from field to field. A perfect cutting apparatus, to cut the fine grasses without clogging, and so constructed as to start in the grass without backing, easily adjusted to cut high or low, and have a Reel to cut equally well with or against the wind, and to be worked with ease by a light team, and so easily managed and simple that any one of common ability may operate it successfully, and to be built in the most thorough manner.

With this knowledge of the farmers' requirements, and with the determination to build a better Machine than has ever before been constructed in this country, we offer the Manny Mower of 1857 with confidence, as combining the qualities enumerated above, and as one particularly adapted to meet the wants of New England farmers.

☞ We invite the farmers to call and examine Machines. Orders should be sent early. Circulars, with testimonials, forwarded FREE, on application.

Columbian Pills,

A WONDERFUL Medicine, good in all diseases, and for persons of all ages, and especially for Females to use in Pregnancy and child bed Ladies, please read what MRS. SEARS, an old, experienced nurse of 1 Littefield, says:

"I have used Dr. Clough's COLUMBIAN Pills in my business, as nurse, for three or four years, and find them just what the sick need; they act on the stomach and bowels so mildly, relieve the head, do not debilitate, and calm the nerves. I am sure I but do my duty to my female companions in recommending these Pills for their use, in preference to any similar preparation.

SARAH SEARS, Nurse."

This recommendation is valuable, because it is by a lady of large experience as a Nurse, and she knows just what the ladies need to regulate and strengthen them, so as to be able to do their duty cheerfully and safely, as women and as mothers.

These Pills will give satisfaction!
These Pills are extensively used!

OLD CASKS.—The old grocery stand occupied by Mr. Benjamin Carter, jr., No. 1 Exchange Buildings, is to be presently converted into a Banking House for the Buckingham Bank. The Vinegar loft, in the third story, has been seriously disturbed in consequence,—many of the casks sold, with their contents, now bound to India,—and the remainder brought down to the lower floor ready to depart.—Among the latter, we notice an old pipe, marked P. & C., i. e. Pickering & Clark, both of whom have departed this life, the senior partner many years ago. Also, another cask, which was a water cask, brought into this port, in the prize ship Almouth, taken from the English owners in the war of 1812. This cask has staves 1 inch and a quarter thick, and immense stout iron hoops, looking as if it might last out the century.

DEATHS IN PORTSMOUTH.—The number of deaths in this city, in March, was six—two—their ages and sex, as follows:

Males—four, aged 14 years, 22, 68, 68.
Females—twelve—aged 4 months, 1 yr., 2 years, 14, 42, 54, 65, 72, 74, 82, 83, 93.

The deaths in April were ten.

Males five—aged 3 months, 2 years, 35, 63, 79.
Females five—aged 23, 33, 42, 52, 57.

APPOINTMENTS.—We learn that Collector Jenkins of this city, has appointed Messrs. Edward N. Fuller, and Asa Ham, of Portsmouth, and Thomas J. Parsons of Dover, Inspectors of the Customs at this port.

☞ We understand that J. Lewis Holmes, of this city, Carpenter, U. S. N., has been ordered to the U. S Ship Cumberland, now fitting for sea at Charlestown, (Mass.) Navy Yard, and to sail about July 1st.

ACCIDENT.—On Tuesday afternoon, a son of Mr. Spencer Holmes, who was out gunning, fell, and the gun being discharged by the shock, the contents entered his thigh. The accident occurred at Little Harbor.

☞ Mr. John Pepper, formerly of this city, but late of Sanbornton Bridge, leaves Boston in the steamer America for Europe. He has already sent some of his patent knitting machines to England, France and Germany, and has orders for more.—They were introduced into Germany over a year ago, to which place he now accompanies a number of his machines, and ere he returns, will fulfil orders from all of the countries above mentioned. We hope he may meet the fullest recompense for his ingenuity and enterprise.

NEW HAMPSHIRE METHODIST CONFERENCE. The conference of Methodist Ministers in session at Lawrence, adjourned on Tuesday afternoon. The anniversary of the Sabbath School Society, was held on Saturday evening. The report showed an increased number of scholars, and many conversions. Mr. Jacob Stevens said that Cater the orderer, was a member of his Sunday school for a short time. On Sunday the Conference Love Feast was attended by great numbers. The sermon in connection with the ordination of the deacons, was preached by Bishop Morris. The bishop then, assisted by Rev. Mr. Quimby, ordained the following persons: H. Mattin, S. Harrington, W. Prescott, A. B. Cassell, R. L. Collier, J. F. W. Barnes, L. Trefren, James Tucker, G. M. Hamilton, R. J. Andrews, J. M. Sanborn, T. S. Wilson, N. P. Seavey, and A. O. Hamilton. D. E. Wilkins, H. Chandler, O. H. Hill, S. P. Heath, and L. Draper, were ordained consecrated to the office of Elder.—The Conference Missionary Society held its anniversary in the evening.

On Monday the case of a minister who had not go where he was appointed, was considered. His reason, viz: that the church could not more than half support him, and that his wife was sick and could not be removed, was considered sufficient, and he was excused. The report of the book concern shows profits to the amount of $35,000. It was resolved to make new efforts in behalf of the Methodist Quarterly; also, not to unite the New Hampshire and Vermont Conferences. A strong anti-slavery report, denouncing the sins of the slave power in Kansas, and the Dred Scott decision, was adopted by an overwhelming majority.

The Conference voted to meet next year at Great Falls. The anniversary of the Bible Society was held in the afternoon.—Tuesday morning was occupied with the consideration of educational affairs. Several reports were adopted, one on salaries, representing that they are too low. One on intemperance, in favor of prohibition; and one on tobacco, denouncing its use.—The number of members of the church in the conference, was stated to be 9220; of probationers, 1469.—Boston Traveller.

☞ The Globe Steam Mill, Newburyport, has declared a semi-annual dividend of 5 per cent.

SHIPWRECK AND LOSS OF LIFE.—Buffalo, May 5.—The Canadian bark Empire, of Port Dover, Capt. Milligan, came ashore yesterday afternoon, near Marblehead.—She hailed from Toledo, and her cargo consisted of oak timber. The crew, eleven in number, were drowned. The captain and passengers were saved.

QUINDARO, KANSAS, May 2.—Gov. Robinson proceeded to Lecompton to-day, to take his trial on the indictment for treason. His bond of $10,000 expired the first day of April, at which time the court was not in session.

NEW YORK, May 5.—The Lost injunction against the new Police Commissioner was dissolved to-day, and the commissioner proceeded to business. Ex-Judge James B. Whiting is appointed superintendent of Police.

Why is a hungry boy, looking at the pudding in a cook-shop window, like a wild horse?

Because he would be all the better if he had a bit in his mouth.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogue, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Sellers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE,
23 BEAVER STREET, NEW YORK.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Billiousness, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Parker & Co are the managers, are authorized by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner. Persons who are unfamiliar with the Lottery business, and who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the attention is called to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week. If no particular scheme is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are sent out of Baltimore unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.—Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Paraxacum, Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing Teas, preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up carefully, and put on our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Oolong	0. 175	5 lb. Java	90
5 lb. Hyson	0. 225	5 lb. good do	1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish the public taste.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, in related by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the Genuine Article. The proportion used is about one-half that required of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medicinal properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c. &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at a small advance.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do not adopt our system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Canada, England, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents prepared on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by any not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given are that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than this agency, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he knows no reason to believe that any can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, E. H. Eddy, Esq. of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office as Mr. Eddy, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Solicitors of Patents in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

Ancor 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

THE MAINE DEMOCRAT.

The Saco, Maine, Democrat is engaged in earnest warfare with the Eastern Argus on the U. S. Appointments in Maine. The Democrat "pitches into" Nathan Clifford, John Appleton, Virgil D. Parris, Benjamin Wiggin, and Bion Bradbury, whom it calls the "Board of Trade."

Speaking of Mr. Appleton, the Democrat says:—

He went to Washington and became proprietor, or the reputed proprietor, of the Union newspaper, and he climbed into its editorial chair—that old hickory chair, that was first made large enough and high enough to contain a friend and supporter of ANDREW JACKSON—and where afterwards sat RITCHIE, the veteran editor from the Old Dominion. But when he had sat down therein, he discovered that there was a great deal of room in it still unoccupied; and then, acting upon the idea that characterizes the "board of trade," that all is mercenary, he called to his side a hankering from Massachusetts, and a renegade democrat from New Hampshire. Appleton made a very neat salutatory bow to the country, (he does these little ceremonies as gracefully as a pretty woman makes a curtesy,) and the trio were then prepared to receive proposals for fat jobs, and to pitch the organ to any required tune. Thus seated, they looked well enough, it is true, to the Maine "board of trade"; but, alas for them! there came to the capital men from all parts of the country, the strong men of the democracy—men of principle, of patriotism, and of talents—from the West, the North, and the South—and, gathering around the old hickory chair, they looked, at first with astonishment, and then with indignation, upon its occupants; and while they lingered silent there, raps (perhaps from the spirit of Jackson,) were heard upon the posts of the old chair; and in a moment its new occupants fled, as rats from the pantry when the good housewife looks in at the door.

At latest accounts one of these assistants was suing the principal at law, to recover damages for his failure to obtain so much cheese as he anticipated: we have not since heard of the other—probably he has retired to his garret or hid under a wheelbarrow. The "board of trade" took charge of the principal, intending to put him in the Portland Custom House; but the country required for that place a man who had been tried and not found wanting, and so the "board of trade" could not be gratified in this instance. Mr. Appleton then returned to the President, his true friend, to whom he has doubtless been useful, and may be so still, in a sphere to which he is fitted. His name, a sort of spot of lampblack and grease—still lingers in Maine, and goes abroad at the mast head of the Eastern Argus, as a flimsy covering for the self-laudations and misrepresentations with which Nathan Clifford is now causing that once respectable old democratic ship to be freighted.

TEMPERANCE AMONG CATHOLICS.—We learn from the Concord Cong. Journal, that Father O'Donnell, the priest of the Roman Church, who says Mass there on Sunday once a fortnight, has given his hearers a lecture on Temperance on the Sunday afternoon; and intends to lecture them on the same, every Sunday P. M. for some time to come.

PRENTICEIANA.—The Southern Standard says that "South Carolina, is the very seat of moral and political chivalry."—We can well imagine, that if moral and political chivalry were personified, South Carolina would be its seat.

The Memphis paper says that the Memphis and Charleston Railroad, "has been constructed so that the train can go through." That is well, but we hope that the bridges along its line have not been so constructed that the trains can go through them.

Capt. Rynders says that Mr. Buchanan's administration will certainly be popular. He is no prophet, though his name is Isaiah.

It seems that Mr. Robert J. Walkor was permitted to write out his own instructions as Governor of Kansas. This idea of a Governer's telling himself what to do and what not to do, is worthy of our new administration.

There was lately a violent gunpowder explosion in St. Louis. One of the papers of that city says that the explosion was "sudden." Gunpowder explosions generally are. Gunpowder ignites much more readily than anthracite coal or any of the ordinary fuels.

The Pittsburg Gazette says that in the processsion which escorted Mr. Buchanan to the Capitol on the day of his inauguration, Mr. Bernhisel, of Utah, was one of the Marshals. It is supposed that this choice was intended to be a sort of counterpoise in the soocial scale, Mr. Buchanan having no wife and Mr. Bernhisel having nine.—Louisville Journal.

PERSONAL LIBERTY IN MAINE.—The Legislature of Maine, which has just adjourned, passed, toward the close of its session, the two following laws, beside resolutions condemning the Dred Scott decision:

AN ACT additional to an "An act further to protect personal liberty."

Be it enacted, &c.

SEC. 1. When it shall come to the knowledge of any County Attorney that any person has been arrested at any place within his county, and is claimed as a fugitive slave under the provisions of an act of Congress, the said County Attorney shall immediately repair to the place where such person is held in custody, and render him all necessary and legal assistance in making his defence against said claim.

SEC. 2. It shall be the duty of the said County Attorney to summon such witnesses as he shall deem necessary to substantiate such defence, whose fees and all other necessary and legal expenses incurred in making such defence, shall be paid by the State.

SEC. 3. This act shall take effect from and after its approval by the Governor. [Approved April 14, 1857.]

AN ACT declaring all slaves brought by their masters into this State free, and to punish any attempt to exercise authority over them.

Be it enacted, &c.

SEC. 1. Any slave voluntarily brought into this State by his master, or with his knowledge or consent, shall thereby become free; and if restrained of his liberty, he may, on the writ of habeas corpus, be discharged from such restraint; and any attempt by any person to restrain such slave of his liberty, or to exercise the authority of master over him, shall be punished by a fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or by imprisonment not exceeding one year.

SEC. 2. This act shall take effect on and after its approval by the Governor. [Approved April 15, 1857.]

NORFOLK COUNTY, MASS., C. C. C.—John Warren, appellant of Quincy, for a violation of the liquor law. He was charged with being a common seller, and the Jury sustained the charge, and the Court ordered the usual sentence, viz, Ten dollars and costs and thirty days in the House of Correction, on each of three sales made, and thirty days additional sentence on each of said fines and costs, if not paid within thirty days.

John Kneeland of Roxbury, charged with setting fires, was called up for trial; the prisoner retracted his plea of not guilty, and was sentenced to two years in the State Prison, one day of it to be solitary confinement.

George Browne, one of the Roxbury incendiaries, retracted his plea of not guilty, and was ordered to give bonds in the sum of $800 to appear at Sept. term.

George Yeagle, another Roxbury incendiary, retracted his plea of not guilty.

Commonwealth v. Josiah D. Emery of Canton, appellant, for violation of the liquor law. Discharged.

Commonwealth v. Quincy Poole of South Weymouth, appellant, for a violation of the liquor law. Verdict guilty.

Commonwealth v. Nicholas Flynn, appellant, of Randolph, plead guilty. He will be let off by the Government, if he behaves himself in future.

Richard D. Hartshorn was brought into Court from South Dedham, and ordered to give bonds in the sum of $300 to abide the issue for a violation of the liquor law.

SUICIDE AT NORTHBORO'.—Patrick Lannergan, tailor, boarding at A. Twichell's hotel in Northboro', committed suicide on Friday night last, by leaping from an attic window of the hotel to the ground, while laboring under an attack of delirium tremens. An inquest was held on the body, and the jury returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. It is stated that a liquor bottle was found under the bench of the deceased in his shop, and that he did not obtain liquor at the hotel.

☞ At Concord, on Tuesday, P. M. as we learn from the Cong. Journal, Rev. A. P. Tenney, of the West Parish, fell from a beam in his barn, 18 feet, to the floor, injuring him severely, tho' it is hoped not fatally.

Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, MAY 8, 1857.

MANCHESTER, N. H.

We learn from the American that a meeting was held on Monday evening, at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, to consider the present position of the temperance cause and adopt measures for its advancement. Quite a spirited discussion sprung up, which was participated in by Rev. Mr. Wallace, Dr. Bunton, J. G. Coult, Rev. Mr. Marshall, Hiram Turner, and other gentlemen. A committee consisting of Rev. Mr. Wallace, J. U. Farnum, J. B. Daniels, Rev. Mr. Marshall and J. B. Sawyer, was appointed to prepare a plan of operations and to report at a meeting on next Monday evening.

From a report of the same meeting in the Mirror, it appears, that Mr. Wallace stated that the city authorities expressed to him their entire readiness to prosecute all violations of the law, for which evidence should be furnished. He defended the plan of buying liquor for the purpose of getting evidence against men who are understood to be engaged in the business. It was the same kind of tactics that had always been been resorted to by the officers of justice, in ferreting out counterfeiters, &c.—There was nothing improper or mean about it. He would do it himself if he could.

Mr. Sawyer said there was a more excellent way, and that was to apply the search clause. Although the city authorities might be willing to prosecute for illegal sales, he doubted whether they regarded it as their duty to hunt up evidence as they would against other illegal practices. Appearances almost lead one to conclude that they would not be as eager to search a stylish rum shop as they would be to search a counterfeiter's shop or a thief's premises. The battle must perhaps be fought by private rather than by public men, and as money was the sinews of war, it would of course, be necessary to provide a considerable sum for the purpose.

We would remark, that the law imposes the same penalty on keeping liquors for sale as for selling them; that the evidence of keeping for sale is found in the search, the complaint for which can be made by any person; that the City Marshal and one of his assistants are the proper persons to make the search;—and that the law makes it the duty of the City to prosecute at the city's expense. See the following:

SEC. 20.—It shall be the duty of the mayor and Aldermen of every city, and the selectmen of every town and place, to prosecute, at the expense of such city, town or place, every person guilty of a violation of any of the previous provisions of this act, of which they can obtain reasonable proofs; but nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent any persons from making complaints and carrying on prosecutions under this act, and police officers are hereby authorized to serve all warrants and notices issued under the provisions of this act.

PORTLAND.—The city government, with Mayor Willis at its head, are considered friends of prohibition, not of license. Nevertheless, the law of Maine at the present time is a license law.

The Board of Aldermen and the City Clerk, composing the Licensing Board, met on Friday, for the purpose of acting upon the applications for license to sell liquors for the current year. A resolution was passed, that the Board would authorize five persons to sell intoxicating liquors, exclusive of innholders and apothecaries.

And they have accordingly licensed 5 grocers to sell spirits; 4 innholders; and 8 apothecaries, the latter for chemical and medicinal purposes.

THIEVES ARRESTED.—The Newburyport Herald informs us, that on Tuesday last, Constable Boynton, of Georgetown, got the track of a supicious looking individual who had been seen lurking about town, previous to the robbery of Mr. Thompson's store of that place, and followed him to Newburyport, where he caused his arrest. His name is John Smith, and he hails from Brentwood.—Several search warrants were issued, and Constable Batchelder succeeded in finding a pair of boots, a coat and other articles, which were taken from the store above mentioned, which were all identified. Mr. E. Smith of Salisbury, was also arrested by Marshal Westcott, who has tracked the rogue, and is sure that his hand is upon the store-breaker, and a receiver of stolen goods.

It would seem that there were several concerned, and in order to realize quick returns, one of their number was in the habit of peddling off the goods as fast as they could steal them. Other arrests will probably follow.

EXETER CORRESPONDENCE.

WEDNESDAY, May 6.

Messrs. Editors:—"Westward the course of empire takes its way" is an oft-quoted line from Bishop Berkley's poem on America; and the inhabitants of our town are fully persuaded to this doctrine. Surely Exeter has not been behindhand in furnishing her quota of the bone and muscle which have left the Granite State during this Spring, for the Great West. Among those who have lately set out from here, are Messrs. A. W. Lovering and J. P. Allison, who are now at Sioux City, Iowa. The former, who was well-known as the gentlemanly proprietor of a book and paper establishment on Water Street, seems to have desired a business less stationary in its character, than the one which he was pursuing here. Of the latter, who was a student of law in Hon. John S. Wells' office, the Peterborough Transcript says: "he is particularly interested, we understand, where he has gone, having lands risen on his hands sufficient already to make him well off." We fully agree with the ideas advanced in some of your editorials, that if a man know when he is well off, he had better remain on the soil of good old New England! However, if so many of our industrious citizens will go, we will not object to their returning, when (?) they have made the fortunes they all so sanguinely expect, and augmenting our capital ten-fold more than they are now diminishing it.

A rumor has been rife 'on Change'—i.e. up and down Front street—that we are about to lose one of our most learned and influential citizens. It is said that J. G. Hoyt, Esq., Professor of Greek and Mathematics in Phillips Academy, has been offered a professorship in a college at Williamstown, Mass., and that a strong probability exists that he may accept the offer. Mr. H. has been connected with the Academy for the last eight or ten years, during which time he has refused several invitations to more lucrative posts. If he shall leave at this time, an "aching void" would be created which it would be most difficult to fill.

On Friday last, being the first day of May, the ladies of the Unitarian Society hold a Festival at the Town Hall,—the new one, of course. The Hall, which was decorated in a beautiful manner, was open day and evening, and was crowded by a generous public. It is needless to add whether we were there or no! The fair given by the Second Congregational Church, a short time ago, was so very successful that some doubts might have been entertained, lest this should prove comparatively a failure; but the fact is, that $318 clear of expenses were realized. A pretty fair operation!

A very noticeable feature in the excellent arrangements of the Festival was the fine playing of the Exeter Cornet Band, who kindly volunteered on the occasion. This Band have been organized more than a year, and by persevering practice, are rapidly becoming equal to any in the State. They meet twice a week for rehearsal, at the old Town Hall, which is open to the public; and they have also favored us with one or two out-of-door performances this season. It remains to be determined which town in our County is to have the honor of possessing the best band of music.

Rev. Mr. Parker of New Bedford, delivered one of the Course of religious lectures on Wednesday evening last. It has been spoken of, as one of the best sermons of the kind preached here for a long while. These meetings have been well-attended during the past winter, and have no doubt been productive of much good to the community. The closing discourse was given by Rev. Mr. Robie of Greenland, on Tuesday evening.

There was a May Dance at the New Town Hall, on Tuesday, the music by Lamprey and Haines' Band, with Mr. Bond. Owing to the rain storm, and the generally unfavorable weather of this season, it is evident that the old English custom of dancing around the May Pole in the open meadows, would not at that time have been particularly practicable;—but a less romantic, and for us new Englanders, far more prudent celebration of the day can be participated in, under a comfortable shelter.

The Rockingham Fair and Cattle Show is advertised in the News-Letter to take place on Thursday and Friday, October 1st and 2d, and a list of Premiums is also given; but where the Fair is to be held is not now settled. Exeter will, it is likely, be the highly favored place; for the people of Portsmouth do not appear to take the least interest in the matter, and indeed it would be too bad to deprive our good town of the only "Fourth of July day" that we have in our Almanac.

Yours, F. G.

LATEST.—[By telegraph from London to Liverpool.]—The news by the Overland mail shows how fully justified the government and people of England have been in promply supporting their officers in China. Certainly our troops, our frigates, and our gunboats have not been despatched an hour too soon. We are evidently engaged in a momentous conflict, which it will require the utmost vigor, courage and decision to bring to a close.—The diplomatic labors of Lord Elgin must be delayed until the sterner tasks of the military and naval chiefs have been effectually completed. There is an end, for a time, of missions and negotiations.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

LOCAL.

☞ The Counting-Room, Composition Room, and Editors' Room of the Chronicle, are for the present at the Journal Office. We print in our own Press-Room, and may be found there, morning and evening.

PORTSMOUTH POLICE.

We copied from the last N. H. Gazette, of the 2d, the report that police officer Foote had resigned his place, and signed the temperance pledge. We saw no reason to doubt the statement, and hoped it might be true. But the Ballot of the 7th contradicts the whole of it, in the following terms:

The Gazette asserts that Mr. Foote has resigned his office and taken the temperance pledge; that he was obliged to do so, or he would be summarily removed; and contends that this proves the democratic party in favor of law and order. To this we reply—1st, the character of Mr. Foote was well known before he was elected, opposition to him on the ground of intemperance was crushed in the caucus nomination, and he received the full vote of the party in convention; 2d, one reason for his election was that it was well known the liquor dealers were safe from his molestation; 3d, he has not resigned, and declares he will not; 4th, there is no probability of his summary removal; the bluster on that subject having terminated in the appointment of a committee on the part of the board of aldermen to investigate the matter, and even that action having been deferred until the Common Council had adjourned and the committee of investigation could not be filled; 5th, investigation might show that Foote was not alone liable to removal if drinking were a cause for it; and finally, we are prepared to see the Gazette take back what it has said in this matter, and include Mr. Foote in its commendations of members of the city government who "have the good of the city at heart," and "will perform their duties promptly and faithfully."

☞ Collector Jenkins informed Uncle Toby, on Thursday morning, that the reported appointments in the Custom House were news to him; from which Uncle Toby infers that they were premature, to say the least.

THE CONCERT at EPPING, as announced in the Chronicle & Phenix, came off last Sabbath afternoon, before a full and gratified audience. The parts were admirably sustained by veteran singers, and the orchestra full and effective. Never have I heard so prompt or powerful bass or tenor, and when the whole were aided in "Old Victory" by the addition of four powerful bass instruments, the prolonged tone on the word "sound" was electrifying. Another novelty was, placing the parts distant from each other, thereby in the fuges giving it in part the antiphonal effect, and beautifully grand. The choir were near the pulpit, each side and front, as not half could be accommodated in the singing gallery.

The Concert is to be repeated in Fremont, next Sabbath afternoon, where there is as much musical talent as in any place of its size.

Immediately after this concert, I learn, Mr. Lawrence will commence rehearsing the "Requiem Mass," probably in view of concerts next fall. You probably noticed it was performed last Sabbath evening, by the Boston Catholic choirs, in Music Hall, to full orchestral and organ accompaniments. The Catholics claim it as "their music," and that "they best understand it." Probably they are correct. It is well worth all the labor bestowed upon it, and needs hard study and practice, and cannot well be performed except in large cities, where is much vocal and instrumental talent. And yet, if it can be elsewhere performed, and under less favorable circumstances, the untiring energy of Mr. Lawrence will accomplish it. SENEX.

Epping, May 6.

SANFORD'S TROUPE.—A large number of our citizens were entertained by this model company on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

One great recommendation in their concerts is their perfectly chaste character, there being none of that low wit which so often offends in amusements of this character. They will probably visit us again in the latter part of June, on ther return from a tour in the Provinces, when they will no doubt receive that reception which they so well merit.

NOT FAILED.—We are glad to learn that Sweetser, Gookin & Co. of Boston, have not failed. Our statement, in the Morning Chronicle of Thursday, was made on the current statement to that effect, among the dry goods dealers in this city on Wednesday, communicated to us by some of them whose information would be received as reliable anywhere. They, as well as we, are glad to have the error corrected. And we would like to know where and by whom it was started. For such errors may sometimes do serious mischief.

INDIAN TROUBLES.—St. Louis, May 5.—the Kansas City Enterprise of the 2d inst. learns that the Chayennes were concentrating at the head waters of the Republican Fork, with the determination to resist any attack by troops. They made overtures to the Sioux for assistance, but the latter declined. The Chyennes had a large supply of arms and ammunition. A terrible battle had been fought at Fremont's Peak, between the Snakes and Blackfeet Indians, in which twenty-seven of the latter were killed.

Kansas Politics. The St Louis Republican publishes Secretary Stanton's reply to the citizens of Lawrence. He says he can do nothing which denies the authority or the validity of the Territorial laws. Respecting the judges of the elections, he hopes there will be apointed one Republican and one Democrat in favor of a slave State.

RAILROAD DISASTER.—New York, May 6. A despatch from Adrian, Michigan, reports that a train on the Michigan southern railroad was thrown off the track near that place yesterday, and four men were killed.

The Lemmon Slave Case was to-day postponed till the September term of Court.

The New York Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, commenced its session this morning at Newburgh, Bishop Baker, presiding.

AUGUSTA, GA., May 7.—A tremendous storm of wind and rain visited Mobile on Friday and Saturday. Two feet of water fell on a level, and the city was heavily inundated. Several persons were drowned, and the supplies of water and gas were cut off.

NEW YORK, May 7.—The session of the New York Academy of Medicine was held last night, at which Dr. Wynne of Baltimore made a communication, and gave other proofs with respect to the National Hotel disease, proving beyond all doubt that the disease originated solely from putrid exhalations.

FRESHET.—Richmond, (Va.) May 9.—There is a great freshet in James River.—The lower wharves, streets and houses are submerged, and all the lower grounds are overflowed.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1825, in making a distillation in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be united to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and Southwest are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE,

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Fenwick & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with the drawing is conducted fairly and honorably, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which I do not mention in connection with the Lottery, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. Schemes are drawn every day of the week. If no particular drawing is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 70. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.—Their Stock consists in part of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon finding the Spices put up in good order and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2 lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, in retailing it family Grocers generally, for tea and coffee, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the best article in market. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by the grocers.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, and mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is powerful, by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer the articles which cannot be excelled by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other Mills.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Delaware, and the commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the drawing is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public the same security for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand, according to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching Patent Rights. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unknown to any, or not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given are those in MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimonials to believe, can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive collection of Models and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were few who could bring it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. EDDY, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and essential practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

IMPORTANT DISCOVERY.

DR. CHEESEMAN'S PILLS FOR FEMALES,

Prepared by an old Physician, of 40 years experience.

THE combination of ingredients in these Pills, is the result of a long and extensive practice; they are mild in their operation and can safely be restoring nature to its proper channel. In every instance have the Pills proved successful. They are certain to remove those obstructions to which females are liable, and bring nature back to its proper channel, whereby health is restored, and the pale sickly countenance changed to a healthy one. No female can enjoy good health unless she is regular; and whenever an obstruction takes place, whether from exposure, cold, or any other cause, the general health immediately begins to decline, and the wasting of such obstruction has been the cause of so many consumptions among young females. Headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, loathing of food, and disturbed sleep, that most always follow the interruption of nature; and whenever that is the case the Pills will invariably RAFFLING FOR A BABY!—The Dubuque Express relates that a woman recently came to the Minnesota House in Dunleith, with a young child, and after stopping a day or two, suddenly left, minus the baby, and did not return. The landlord happened over to Dubuque, and mentioning the circumstance to a couple of friends, married but childless, one of them proposed to adopt the little one as his own. The other immediately made the same proposition, when a dispute arose as to which of the would-be "parents" should have the infantile waif. Finally an appeal was made to the dice box. Quite a number of people gathered round the table, interested spectators of the singular contest, and the winner, named Kesler, was greeted with shouts of applause. The child is a pretty little girl, three weeks old, and its new-found parents are brimming over with happiness.

☞ In New York, Monday afternoon, a colored boy, 17 years of age, was employed to clean the flues of the smoke chimney to a steam saw mill. After cleaning one flue, he entered another with a lighted oil lamp in his hand, and while inside, upset the lamp, and the soot took fire. The engineer then called to him to leave the flue, but he seemed to be unable to do so, and his groans were heard a few moments after. The engineer then passed a stick to him that he might grasp it, and be pulled from the flue, but he did not take hold of the stick.—Help was then procured, and the boy was extricated, but not until life was extinct. His head, face and shoulders were badly burned, but it is thought that suffocation, rather than the burns, was the cause of his death.

FATAL CASUALTIES.—The Worcester Spy states that a young man named John Upham, whose parents reside in Webster, Worcester County, Mass., was killed on Wednesday by the bursting of a grindstone in New London, N. H.

A little boy, son of M. D. Halliday, of Clinton, Mass., was blown into a pond by the wind on Wednesday while catching frogs, and was drowned.

AN OLD MAN.—Peter Nassua of Pomfret, Vt., aged one hundred twenty-six years, was in town on Monday. Apparently he is as vigorous as most men are at 75 or 80. Peter is a colored man—the oldest "citizen" of Vermont and (probably) of the Union. Had Judge Taney inquired of Peter, he would have learned that colored men were "citizens," freemen and voters, previous, at, and subsequent to, the adoption of the constitution. — Montpelier Watchman, May 1.

☞ Four bakers in Croydon, near London, have been fined £10 each for selling bread with alum in it.

☞ A young married man in Salem, Mass., several evenings since, accompanied a lady through the streets, to her home, making base proposals. She allowed him to reach the door, and for the purpose of detaining him, till her husband came, invited him in. While the scoundrel was hesitating upon that invitation, the husband came, when, upon information from the wife, the fellow was kicked into the street, and the side of his head half beaten in. The foolish young man has been considered respectable. So says the Newburyport Herald.

A WIFE'S AFFECTION.—The Latin Dictionary by Robert Ainsworth was published in 1736, in two quarto volumes. It was regarded in that age as a stupendous work, and from paucity of materials much time and labor were required to prepare it.—Indeed it was the chief labor of his life, having been commenced in 1714, and occupied a large share of his time in getting it ready for the press. It is related of this learned scholar, that while he was engaged in his laborious undertaking, his wife frequently complained of enjoying so little of his society. Finding remonstrances of no avail, she resolved to resort to other means to remedy the evil. When the poor, plodding author reached the letter S of his Dictionary, his kind and dutiful wife lost all patience, and in a fit of—affection, probably, got hold of the manuscript in his absence, and committed it to the flames!—Ainsworth, however, resumed the work, and by persevering industry, after a while repaired the loss of his manuscript.

A curious case, this, of his wife's miserable selfishness, and foolish jealousy. She was, evidently, no holpmate for him.

BEER AND ALE.—The Newburyport Herald, by no means a "fanatical" print, and not even an advocate of the Maine Law—in fact, hardly a temperance (i. e., total abstinence) paper, holds the following language respecting the swigging of ale, beer, and porter, supposed by many to be so healthful and beneficial:

It is bad enough to drink beer and ale, where, as in the Albany trial, it is proved that the dirtiest water is used, and is the best—water in which dead hogs and cats and horses are thrown for its improvement—that has the washings of slaughter-houses, and is kept stagnant till a green slime covers its surface and it thickens to the bottom—beer which only deadens the intellect and floats the flesh with corruption; but to think of the shorter way to death, by arsenic, sulphuric acid, strychnine, tobacco, with decoctions of cockroaches and bed bugs, is more awful still. When we have read of poisoned wells upon the invasion of countries by hostile armies, or of poisoned bread, it was hardly credible, even when enemies were to be destroyed; but to think of retailing worse poisons, and one friend's purchasing to give it to another as a friendly act, is quite as difficult of belief.

DEA. LITTLE.—The Newburyport Herald says, "Dea. Nathan Little, of the 1st church in Newbury, one of the most active and benevolent orthodox Congregationalists of Essex county, has been suspended for expressing a doubt of the eternity of future punishment. His probation expires in June, when he will be finally cut off and dropped if he does not recant. The entire honesty of the good deacon is admitted, but the routine of the church discipline requires that doubt as to an article of faith shall be treated as a crime."

A woman was detected in shop-lifting at the store of Levy and Solomon, Newburyport, and arrested by Marshal Westcott, on Thursday. This resulted in a search of her house, and criminated a woman in Rowley, whose house was also searched, and a quantity of silks and other goods which had at different times been stolen, was secured. Their operations had been carried on for eighteen months. Other premises were searched by the Marshal, last evening, and something like a hundred dollars worth of goods seized that had been stolen, but the names of the parties implicated, we have not yet learned.—Newburyport Herald.

SENTIMENTAL.—We find the following touching lines, entitled "The Knight and Maiden," in one of our extreme western exchanges:

"Canst thou love me, gentle stranger?"
Blushing like a rose she stood.
And the knight at once admitted
That he "rather thought he could."

A HAPPY THOUGHT.—The rumored death of Dr. Kane, says the Sierra Citizen, which came by the last steamer, proves too true. The adventurous navigator has embarked upon his last voyage. He has found Sir John Franklin!

U. S. DISTRICT COURT.

FRIDAY, May 8.

HON. BENJ. R. CURTIS, " MATTHEW HARVEY, } Judges.

GEORGE W. TOWLE, Deputy Marshal.

The Court was opened with an impressive prayer by Rev. Dr. Peabody, of this city.

Asa McFarland, Foreman, David R. McAllister, Samuel Guilford, Charles F. Stewart, Horace S. Clay, Willard A. Emery, Smith N. Stevens, James Johnson, Morrill Currier, Joseph B. Carr, Isaac Eastman, Job Cross.

Benjamin Cozzens, Esq., of Providence, Lemuel Shaw, jr., and Henry M. Parker, Esqs., of Boston, Samuel N. Bell, Esq., of Manchester, William H. Hackett, and Albert H. Hoyt, Esqs., of Portsmouth, were admitted to practice in the U. S. Circuit and District Courts for the district of New Hampshire.

From the Gazette.

Mr. Editor:—Will you permit me to correct the statement contained in your last paper relating to the Police Court, which as you have it, is very unjust to Mr. Foot.

It is true that Pickering plead guilty to the charge of committing an assault, and submitted to the penalty. If the ethics which some learned and reverend gentlemen apply to the fugitive slave law be sound, no further guilt or reproach attaches to Mr. Pickering, for by his ready submission to the penalty, he has wiped out his offence against the law. But I believe this poor man would scorn to shelter himself behind any such miserable doctrine, as he manfully refused to disclose the somewhat aggravated provocation which led him to inflict the single blow upon his enemy.

But it appeared most distinctly at the trial that Mr. Foot had nothing whatever to do with the assault, (a single blow) beyond the fact that he was accidentally present. He did not countenance or justify the violence, which was not anticipated, and was committed and ended before there was any possible opportunity to interfere. Mr. Foot declares that he was not aware that any blow had been given until sometime after the affair.

It did appear at the trial that Mr. Foot had been drinking that evening, but not to excess. When his friends remonstrated with him, he expressed great sorrow for the fact, voluntarily signed a pledge never to drink intoxicating liquors, and offered to resign his office lest he should bring reproach on his party. His friends, however, in view of the fact that he has been a very active, efficient and acceptable officer for a year past, and that his offence was none other than many of his most violent assailants have at some time in their lives been themselves guilty of, and trusting confidently his promise of future abstinence, advised him to withdraw his resignation.

Mr. Foot is a man worthy of the support of his friends; to compare him with the officer who was sustained in his brutality by the city council of 1855, is to degrade him morally, intellectually and physically. JUSTICE.

MUNICIPAL.—Board of Aldermen.—The Committee on School Houses, to whom was referred the subject of the Brick School House on State street, reported that they have found said House very much out of repair, and that the cost of repairing the same would be large. They therefore recommend the sale of the building and the lot on which it stands. The report and resolution were laid on the table.

The following resolution was received from the Common Council:

Resolved, That the Mayor and Aldermen be respectfully requested to transmit to the Common Council the complaints against Mr. Henry L. Foot, referred to in their resolution respecting him.

Laid on the table.

Voted, That the Committee on Streets be requested to examine the North Bridge, and to report thereon at the next meeting.

Voted, That Andrew J. Ayres be appointed Lamp Lighter for the current year.

The Committee on Streets, to whom was referred the petition of Henry M. Clark and others to have Lime street accepted, reported against the acceptance, until the same should be put in passable repair, which report was accepted.

The Committee on City Lands, &c., to whom was referred the petition of Wm. A. Vaughan, jr. and Geo. Stackpole, to hire the stall at the Spring Market, lately occupied by Wm. Goodrich, reported that in their opinion the public good requires that said stall should be kept open for the use of the public, for the sale of country produce, which report was accepted and adopted.

The subject of widening Congress street, was laid on the table for one week.

Voted, That the Committee on Lands, &c., cause the Spring Market to be painted.

In the Common Council, Mr. Hatch rose to a question of privilege, and proceeded to remark upon the following paragraph, which has appeared in the newspapers, purporting to be a portion of a speech made at a meeting in the Temple in this city, on Thursday evening of last week, by Rev. Dr. Peabody:

"He did not believe perjury was common, but did not see how liquor-selling members of the City Council, who had sworn to perform their duty agreeably to the laws of the State, could escape the charge of perjury if they violated this law; nor could he understand how a member could defend, even for hire, the violation of the laws he had sworn to maintain."

Mr. Hatch clearly demonstrated by the oath of office of the members of the City Council, and by the principles of law, that neither in letter or in spirit can the idea advanced in the above extract be sustained; and forcibly condemned the theory that a member of the City Council could not legally or morally defend a person charged with a violation of the law. The very worst of criminals of whom history gives record had been defended by the most eminent jurists of England, and he thought the reasoning of the reverend gentleman above quoted would hardly serve to change a time-honored custom of the Courts.—Gazette.

Morning Chronicle.

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1857.

We hope the hint we have, via Washington, that the people of Kansas are likely to have such assurances of fair play in the coming elections as to justify them in voting, will be fulfilled. They ought to be competent to decide for themselves the course to be pursued in the coming emergencies; and if they can feel any confidence that their voices and votes will not be swamped by an inroad from Missouri and false election returns, we do not doubt they will silence their pride and take the yoke of the territorial government, for the purpose of peacefully extinguishing it.—But they should not, and we presume will not, abandon the powerful moral position they have heretofore occupied, without reasonable assurances that they are not to be made the victims of more ruffianism.—They cannot afford to vote and fail: then they would be utterly undone.—Traveller.

We would hope for the best;—but we have not the slightest confidence in the slave power or any of its minions. We have never yet seen any reason to doubt that Kansas would be swindled and forced into the Union as a slave State. When it comes in as a free one, we'll make a note of it.

☞ The Boston Post says "business sympathizes with the failure of five dry goods jobbing firms with liabilities of $1,000,000 or more, and there were rumors on the street that other houses in the same trade are in failing circumstances."—The Newburyport Herald remarks on the above:—

Apparently there is nothing to prevent many and heavy failures in every branch of business during this year. Everything of a business character wears a dull and gloomy look.

The Dover Enquirer is looking for a grand financial crash, and says;

Suppose fifteen yards of Prints, a fair exchange for a bushel of wheat, when we pay twenty for it, the drain is hard upon us; and when they get but ten yards for the bushel, the drain is hard upon them. They have drawn heavily upon us in this way, for the past three years.—We are now changing positions and shall draw on them for some time to come.

There can be no question but when the price of grain goes down in the West, and the price of manufactures comes up in New England, the tide of emigration will stop; for there are no great temptations west, except in the field of agriculture.—When emigration stops, and the balance of trade changes, and the interest on the vast amount of capital loaned there, is not re-invested, but is drawn back to the East, then the bubble will burst, and the speculators with it, who do not heed the coming change. That crisis is fast approaching. Unforeseen circumstances may delay its coming, but it will nevertheless come.

DARKNESS.—"If the light that is in thee be darkness, how great is that darkness." A Rev. Dr. Ross, of Alabama, a presbyterian, has written a pro-slavery letter to Albert Barnes, in which, with regard to the equality of man asserted by the Declaration of Independence, Dr. Ross says:

"But God gives no sanction to the affirmation that he has created all men equal—that this is self-evident—and that he has given them unalienable rights—that he has made government to derive its power solely from their consent—and that he has given them the right to change that government, in their mere pleasure. All of this—every word of it—every jot and tittle, is the liberty and equality claimed by infidelity.—God has cursed it seven times in France since 1793; and he will curse it there seventy times seven, if Frenchmen prefer to be pestled so often in Solomon's mortar.—He has cursed it in Prussia, Austria, Germany, Italy, Spain. He will curse it as long as time, whether it is affirmed by Jefferson, Paine, Robespierre, Ledru, Rollin, Kossuth, Greeley, Garrison, or Barnes.

Sir, that paragraph is an excrescence on the tree of our liberty. I pray you take it away. Worship it if you will, and in manner imitate the Druid. He gave reverence to the mistletoe, but first he moved the parasite from the noble tree.

Freemen of New Hampshire! Christians of New Hampshire! read and ponder the extract. Do you like it?—Such religion as that is manufactured by slavery.

☞ August Belmont, the German Jew who misrepresents the United States at the Hague, is said to claim the mission to Spain. It will be remembered that he made a treaty with Holland which was withdrawn by President Pierce from before the Senate, because it was not written in any language intelligible to mortal man. Mr. Belmont can speak neither English nor French intelligibly.

☞ The friends of William A. White, late of Watertown—whose mysterious disappearance in Wisconsin in October last, attracted so much attention—have received a telegraphic despatch, announcing that his body has been found on the bluffs at Milwaukie; cause of death unknown.

It will be remembered that Mr. White left the hotel in Wisconsin temporarily, but never returned, and was supposed to have been murdered.

☞ The New Haven Register says that a large family of colored persons, manumitted by the will of their late master, a gentleman of Montgomery, Ala., have been provided with a home and means of support in that city. Their master left about $12,000 to them, with their freedom, on condition that they should remove to a free State.

THE EDGEWORTH WIFE MURDER.—Wednesday evening, officers of the 2d station, Boston, arrested a man drunk in the street, who gave the name of James Conners. It is thought that his right name is Michael Corcoran, who is suspected of murdering his wife in Edgeworth, last week. He stated that he had just arrived from Jamaica, where he has a brother residing. It is stated that he has confessed that he murdered his wife.

STALLION RACE.—The stallion Young Morrill, owned in Manchester, N. H., has accepted a challenge from the world-renowned stallion Ethan Allen, owned in Shoreham, Vt., to trot for a purse of $4000 a side. The race will be mile heats, best three in five, to harness; and is to come off on the Long Island course, in September or October next.

CONCORD DAILIES.—The proprietors of the N. H. Statesman and the Independent Democrat will each issue daily papers during the session of the Legislature in June. The Patriot also.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful and substantial manner they have, have useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that none of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong Tea call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No. 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility; these are possible, positive facts, the proofs of which are so numerous that they cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances will relieve in the first day's observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

LOCAL.

☞ The Counting-Room, Composition Room, and Editors' Room of the Chronicle, are for the present at the Journal Office. We print in our own Press-Room, and may be found there, morning and evening.

☞ In another column, we copy from the N. H. Gazette, a report of Mr. Hatch's remarks in the Common Council, and a piece signed Justice, apparently from the same pen.

Rev. Dr. Peabody certainly needs no defence at our hands from any thing that Mr. Hatch can offer; but there are statements in the "Justice" piece which deserve attention; viz., that Pickering manfully refused to disclose the somewhat aggravated provocation which led him to inflict the single blow upon his enemy!

Does Mr. Justice, or Pickering the assaulter, mean to say, that Pickering went out, with malice prepense, to revenge some old grudge? And does Mr. Justice mean to approve this act? And is this consistent with the oath of a lawyer, of a magistrate, and of a city father?

Again, Justice says, that officer Foote went to his friends, and offered to resign, &c.—It is said that Mr. Hatch was one of those to whom this offer was made, and that he replied substantially, You keep still, and behave yourself, and we will take care of you. Now it strikes us that this offer to resign, on Foote's part, was strictly proper, and shows well for his ideas of what a police officer ought to be;—and we must therefore give him the credit of a second sober thought, much more honorable to him than the lame apologies and miserable sophistries by which his more learned advocate tries to bolster up the grog shops and the criminals they send out.

Mr. Foote's fear of bringing reproach on his party, as Justice has it, is peculiarly rich, taken in connexion with the fact that his friends did not seem to fear this kind of reproach so much as he did!

And his not knowing that any blow was struck till some time after, is a remarkable proof of something strange, either in himself or in Justice.

The reader is particularly requested not to laugh at "Justice" after reading his piece, lest he should be angry, and make a speech, or do some other dreadful thing.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—We learn that the Fifth anniversary Lecture of this Association will be held at the Temple, on Sunday evening. The address will be delivered by Rev. A. J. Patterson. A collection will be taken in aid of the funds of the Association.—The Gazette says:

We commend the objects of this Association as one which in its practical working will greatly benefit the young men of our city. They deserve the sympathy and assistance of every lover of virtue and good morals.

The Journal says:

Bring up all our young men under such influences as are here exerted, and nearly all of those vices and moral corruptions which now disturb the peace and happiness of the community, would be cut off in the bud. Encourage them in their good work.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.

EXETER, May 7.

The case of Beal v. Locke was given to the Jury Thursday evening, after being argued by Wells for the defence, and Christie for the plff. The jury, after being out a few minutes, returned a verdict for the deft.

Pindar v. Brown is now on trial, and will probably be finished this afternoon.—The Court will not try any more than one other case this term, if indeed it does that; but will probably adjourn sine die, on Friday.

May 8th.

In case of Pindar v. Brown, the jury last evening brought in a verdict of $168 for the plff. Wells for deft; Marston and Towle for plff. The Court this morning after disposing of the docket, took a final adjournment.

☞ Henry Willard, an artist of Boston, was killed while walking on the B. & Maine R. R., near Medford switch, on Wednesday evening, by a passing train. He was 50 years old, unmarried. A Mr. Woodworth, walking with him, was knocked down.

☞ Messrs. Sickles and Murphy, the latter an engineer at Brooklynn Navy Yard, and the former a seeker for the same office, have quarrelled at Washington; Murphy attacked Sickles in bed, and struck him with a cowhide, but Sickles took away the weapon.

☞ B. Gratz Brown, the St. Louis emancipationist and editor of the Democrat, has been elected by his city and county a Director of the North Missouri Railroad, against an Atchison Democrat.

WASHINGTON, May 7.—The orders issued by the last administration to employ the troops against the squatters on the Delaware Reserve, in Kansas, was revoked by the War Department, in compliance with the wishes of Gov. Walker.

Nothing has been received as yet from Col. Ben McCullough, as to whether he will accept the Governorship of Utah.

The President is extremely anxious that he should accept the position, and has written to him accordingly, urging him to do so.

The administration is constantly receiving information, from creditable sources, communicating new outrages committed by Brigham Young and his deluded followers, and the President is determined to send a sufficient military force there to enforce the United States laws and preserve order.

HOLIDAYSBURG, PA., May 8.—McKim was last night convicted of murder in the first degree, and this morning sentenced to be executed, for the murder of Norcross. He strongly protested his innocence, asserting that his conviction was effected by the perjury of witnesses.

☞ Neal Dow arrived at Liverpool Apr. 20th and was received by a deputation of the "Temperance Alliance." A cold water collation was held in his honor at the Temperance Hotel, at which a letter was read from the Earl of Harrington, who wrote:—

"Neal Dow stands next to Washington, as the great benefactor of America and the world; and we hail his presence in England with gratitude and pride."

AN ALARMING DISCOVERY.—M. Aquador, a French chemist, has succeeded in producing a perfect photographic counterfeit on the Bank of France. He declares himself able to manufacture any number of notes in a given time, and that none shall be detected either by sight or touch.

SUGGESTIVE.—It appears from the Custom House books of Portland, that while the Maine Law was in force, only twenty-three pipes of brandy came in from New York in six months. During the last six months, 1,040 were entered.—American Messenger.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely invaluable; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. ADOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which H. FRASER & CO are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the managers shall not reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers wish attention to is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month, in two particular cities as named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are forwarded unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number out of the ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $100 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

141 Washington St., Boston.

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices.—Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Saraxanum, Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine, as they are put up exclusively under our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices:—Mocha Coffee, 1 00 lb. Oolong do. 1 25 | 5 lb. Java do. 90 5 lb. Hyson do. 1 25 | 5 lb. good do. 1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in 1 and 2 lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in your favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and in a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE.—This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, and offered by Family Grocers generally in city and country, as a superior article, with our trade mark, of Chinaman grinding Coffee, may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half prepared Root of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and is warranted to be of the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medicinal properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee, so as to suit the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c. &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low price as we.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who buy on long credits, or on limit, and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st. opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than this Agency, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has every confident reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of business, do the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and there were few who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring those inventors who cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration, at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

A STUMPER.

The assertion of Chief Justice Taney, in Dred Scott decision, that, at the time the U. S. Constitution was adopted, the descendants of Africans were not only not held to be citizens in any of the States, but were held "not to have any rights which white men were bound to respect," and so notoriously at war with all the history of that time, as to leave the Court which made that decision no escape from the charge of the grossest ignorance, or of a willful perversion of the plainest principles of historical and constitutional law. This speaks the Independent Democrat. A writer in the last National Era, Major B. French, formerly of this State, and now a resident of Washington City, however, makes a point, stronger than any yet made, from the records of the Convention that framed the Constitution. But we will let the communication speak for itself:—

APRIL 23, 1857.

To the Editor of the National Era:—

I have not read the opinions of the Judges of the Supreme Court in the Dred Scott case, at length, yet, and do not know whether either of them alluded to a certain portion of the proceedings in the Convention that formed the Constitution of the United States. If they did not, I wish I would respectfully ask Mr. Chief Justice Taney what he supposes the statesmen meant by the words "OTHER PERSONS CITIZENS," when they adopted, in committee of the Whole, the following resolution:

"Resolved, That the right of suffrage in the first branch of the National Legislature ought not to be according to the rule established in the Articles of Confederation, but according to some equitable ratio of representation; namely, in proportion to the whole number of white and other free citizens, and inhabitants of every age, sex and condition, including persons not comprehended in the foregoing description, except Indians not paying taxes, in each State."

Mark the whole number of white citizens designated. That forms one class. Add. Other free citizens are designated, forming another class.

Add. Inhabitants of every age, sex and condition, including persons not comprehended in the foregoing description, forming another class.

Finally, Indians not paying taxes were included.

We have, then, all the white citizens, all other inhabitants, including slaves, without doubt, included; and we have the Indians not paying taxes, excluded.

Then, who could have been meant by the use "other free citizens?" For my part, I confess I cannot think of any other persons, except free negroes, who could possibly have formed that class denominated "other free CITIZENS."

But, as Judge Taney and his brethren, forming a majority of the Supreme Court, are so clear in their opinion that free negroes never were, are not, and never can be, citizens of the United States, I suppose Washington, and Madison, and Hamilton, and the Pinckneys, and Franklin, and King, and all the host of statesmen and patriots that shone in the great Convention, are henceforth to be considered as mere nobodies, and their farthing rushlights are to be totally extinguished by the effulgence of that constellation of our day, the Supreme Court! Respectfully,

B. B. FRENCH.

A MANIAC IN A STAGE.—A strange affair, resulting in the possible death of three persons, took place about two miles from Eddyville, Iowa, on the 10 inst. As one of the Western stage company coaches reached that point, a passenger by the name of Jos. Pattterson, Jr., from Joilet, Illinois, in whose previous appearance nothing singular had been observed, exclaimed, "Why did you kill my cousin?" With a pistol and dirk-knife he then commenced a most terrible onslaught upon the passengers, mortally wounding Dr. Timmons, of Knoxville, Marion County, Ohio, and severely injuring a Mr. Hylawder of Jasper County, Iowa. He was an entire stranger to all the parties injured, and insanity can only be assigned for the commission of the act.

A VICTIM TO HIS OWN AMBITION.—The Princeton, Ind., Courier tells of an ambitious rat which ascended to the roof of a large barn belonging to Mr. Wilkton, near Cynthiana, in Posey county, and not being satisfied with the roof, concluded to ascend the lightning rod. He did so; reached the prongs of the rod; got fast; and was never able to extricate himself. Here he was found dead.

FIRE.—The house, barn and out-buildings, with three cows, one heifer and a calf, and about $400 in money, belonging to widow Bean, at Alfred, Me., were burned on Sunday night last. The fire caught from ashes deposited in the shed.

☞ The students of Howard College, Alabama, on Sunday inaugurated a statue to the memory of Harry, a slave of the president of the college, who, when the building burned down in 1855, refused to leave until the students had been gotten out, and lost his life thereby.

☞ While some laborers were engaged in demolishing an old building in Chatham street, New York, Wednesday morning, the front wall fell into the street, instantly crushing to death a lad of five years, and badly injuring a lady who was passing through the street.

WAGES OF ENGLISH FARM LABORERS.—The latest English papers state that the farmers in some of the agricultural districts, have reduced the wages of their laborers from 15s a week to 13s 6d. This is equivalent to a reduction of from 60 cents a day to 54 cents.

BOWDOIN STREET CHURCH, BOSTON.—At an adjourned meeting of the Bowdoin street Church on Wednesday evening, Rev. Dr. Waterbury was requested to withdraw his letter, asking a dismission from the pastorate of that Church.

☞ People here who care for health or life should refuse to have anything to do with Western pork or Western whiskey.—Make soap grease of the first, and throw the latter into the river; it is all they are fit for.

☞ The Westport (N. S.) Free Discussion Club have decided that "Queen Elizabeth was justified in beheading Mary, Queen of Scotts!"

☞ We are indebted to our friend, Mr. J. Sharpe, formerly of Portsmouth, for a liberal supply of California papers. He is now in San Jose.

DOGS.—The "animals that cook their victuals," in San Francitco, are waging a war of extermination against their canine brothers.

☞ It is said that General Sam Houston will run as Know Nothing candidate for Governor of Texas.

☞ In Dresden, Ohio, the pigs die so fast, that from one distillery, they burned 100 carcasses at one time.

☞ A horse was sold in in Mason, N.H., not long since, for $1850, which cost the owner $100.

BURDEN'S

ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. Morning Chronicle.

MONDAY, MAY 10, 1857.

TOO MUCH PORK FOR A SHILLING.—The hogs titillated by the delicate slops thrown out from the Western whiskey distilleries, indulge to excess in a beverage, a barrel of which, it is said contains strychnine enough to kill thirty men. Thus, their constitutions are undermined, and they sicken and die—and sometimes, either before or after the last event, they make their way into the Eastern markets, on their legs, or in the shape of pork and lard. This is the history of the "hog epidemic" now raging at the West—and of which we are told, that at Ingraham's distillery at Cincinnati, from the 1st of last August to the 24th of October, 1285 hogs died—at the distillery in Pittsburg, since the 18th of October, 2576—at New Richmond, since the disease appeared, 10,435—at Aurora, 6000—and so on, making an aggregate, so far as accounts have been received, of 60,000 poisoned hogs, valued at $300,000, or if fully fattened, at $650,000.

Thus we have "death in the pot" and death in the cup—and the only sure way to avoid the dangers of both, is to let both alone. The pork may be good, but the liquor has not even the benefit of this contingency: and the purchaser of "two rums for one money" has far more miserable luck than he who gets "too much pork for a shilling."

DISASTROUS FIRE AT SOUTH WEARE.—The store and dwelling house of Mr. Bingham, near the post office, South Weare, was burned on Thursday evening, under the following circumstances. The Manchester American says, Mrs. Bingham, in the absence of her husband at Nashua, had locked up the store and was about retiring for the night, when she dropped the fluid lamp into a cask of pulverized rosin, which ignited almost like powder, filling the room with flame and a dense smoke.—The alarm was at once given, but no goods could be saved. From the part of the building occupied as a dwelling house, the furniture and utensils were chiefly saved. The books and papers of the store were lost. We understand that the stock was worth about $800. The building was worth $550. It is a hint to those who are careless in the use of fluid and other combustibles.

THE TANEY DECISION.—The Boston Courier says:

"The Supreme Court has simply determined, that a slave, who accompanies his master into a free state, and then returns with him into a slave state, does not acquire such rights by his temporary residence in the free state as to enable him to maintain a suit for freedom, when he has returned to the slave state. * * * * If Dred Scott, while he remained with his master in Illinois, had prosecuted his suit for freedom, instead of waiting until he became again subject to the laws of Missouri, we presume the result would have been different, as it certainly would have been in Massachusetts."

MANCHESTER POLICE COURT, MAY 6.—Peter Farmer was arraigned before the Court, for selling liquor to Geo. D. Ballou. Ballou is a young man of superior skill in his trade as ornamental painter, but taking a few hours leisure on Tuesday, "yielded to the tempter." He testified that he got liquor at Peter Farmer's groggery, about midway between the city and the Messabesic. Farmer plead not guilty. The Court ordered him to give $400 bonds for his appearance before the Supreme Judicial Court.

The City Marshal conducted the prosecution.

A MURDEROUS WEAPON.—A man named Wilcox was arrested near the Pemberton House, Boston, on Friday evening, says the Traveller, for drunkenness. On his way to the station house, the officer noticed that he several times attempted to get his hand into his pocket, and upon searching a murderous weapon was found—a sort of iron knuckle which fits upon the hand, and with which a blow of a deadly character can be given. The man was lodged in the Tombs.

☞ The New York Day Book, which has been liberally supported by the late administration, and which is still soothed and sustained by Federal favors, is savage in its attacks upon all the New York appointments—Mr. Schell alone excepted. It pitches into Fowler, Hart and Rynders with a perfect looseness.

A GIFT TO A PASTOR.

Rev. Henry D. Moore, Pastor of the Union Church in Portland, has within a day or two, received from the Young Men of his congregation, in token of their regard and esteem, a gift of Appleton's "Holy Land," by Roberts. This is one of the most elaborate, truthful and beautifully artistic works in this or any other field of Literature; presenting in faithful portraiture, a glowing Panorama of Syria, Idumea, Arabia, Egypt and Nubia. It contains two hundred and fifty views, in tinted Lithograph, from drawings taken on the spot and for this work, by David Roberts, of the Royal Academy; and are without doubt as faithful to life as they are rich and glowing in execution. One fancies himself there, among the ruins of temples, and fragments of columns and colossi; sitting beside the marvellous pools and sacred wells; traversing the valleys, or climbing the mountains, or glimpsing the Nile, or the Jordan, or the Dead Sea; or reposing in the shadows of Palms; or listening to the music of fountains, where Prophets drank, and Shepherds led their flocks, or warriors rested after the fatigues of battle.

The following letter accompanied the gift:

"MR. MOORE—Rev. and Dear Sir;—Please accept the accompanying package as a small testimonial of respect and regard from the "Young Men" of your Congregation.

And that the pleasure of the perusal of these volumes may in some degree compensate for the earnest endeavors you are making for our Good, is the heart felt wish of the YOUNG MEN."

May 6, 1857.

Mr. Moore addresses the following note to the above:—

To the Young Men of Union Congregation:

I sincerely thank you for the very costly and intrinsically invaluable gift you have been pleased to make me, of "Roberts' Holy Land."

Your generous consideration, and enlarged liberality in this matter, place me under renewed obligations, to think, feel and labor in your behalf; and I shall feel doubly happy, whatever the responsibility it imposes, if my labors, however feeble, are of interest to you.

I also thank you for the very kind terms in which you have been pleased to express yourselves in your note, accompanying your gift.—This whole transaction will hereafter be a centre around which shall circle pleasant memories.

And now, in view of this your kindness and expressed affection, which have invoked my earnest thanks, and warmest wishes for your welfare, may I not by the simplest and most pleasing of all transitions, say, in your behalf and my own, and in behalf of the whole world—"Thanks be unto God, for His Unspeakable Gift."

Yours, Truly, H. D. MOORE.

PASTORAL CONVENTION.—The Convention of Congregational and Presbyterian Ministers in New Hampshire, will hold its next annual meeting in the Vestry of the South Church, in Concord, on Wednesday, third of June, at half past 10 o'cl'k, A. M. Sermon by Rev. Wm. T. Savage, of Franklin. Rev. Lyman Whiting, substitute. After which a collection will be taken for the 'Widows' Charitable Fund.'

☞ The Dalton Divorce case, in Boston, came to a close on Saturday morning, by a disagreement of the Jury, which stood ten for the libellant (Mr. Dalton), and two for the respondent (Mrs. Dalton.) By this, no divorce is granted. Mrs. D. or her friends would have done better to have let the case go by default, without trial. The parties merely ought never to live together hereafter;—and if Dalton should make a new application to-morrow, or the Court order a new trial, it would be wise in Mrs. D. and friends not to appear.

☞ The reason why the celebrated Antoinette L. Brown has abandoned the pastoral charge of her church in South Butler, Me., is said to be owing, not to the diminution, but to the increase of her flock. In her maternal capacity as Mrs. Blackwell, she has been rejoiced by the birth of a lambkin, which required her exclusive attention. So says the Eastern Argus.

☞ It is reported that the officers of the New York custom house have seized and confiscated within the past week the following invoice of goods, besides compelling the importers to pay $15,000 fine: 954 cases of wine, 51 casks of wine, 7 cases of sardines, 1 cask of leather. The name of the smuggling house is not given in the papers. One half of the prize goes to the revenue officers who made the seizure.

☞ By request of the Concord Temperance Committee, Rev. Dr. Bouton repeated on Sunday evening last, an Address delivered 30 years ago, the 12th inst., being the first Temperance Address ever delivered in Concord, N. H., and the one which led to the formation of the old Concord Temperance Society.

☞ The new liquor license law was signed by the Governor of New York on Friday, and takes immediate effect. Every applicant for a license must obtain on his petition the names of twenty resident freeholders of his election district.

ALMOST A FAMINE IN TEXAS.—Galveston dates of April 28 say there was almost a famine for want of breadstuffs in the counties above Bastrop, and $2 62 was demanded per bushel for corn. The citizens of Bastrop would hold a meeting to aid the sufferers.

FIRE IN MOULTONBOROUGH.—A house owned by Mrs. Martha Dodge, was totally destroyed by fire on the night of the 28th ult. It was a new house, finished in the best manner, and Mrs. Dodge had moved in the best part of her furniture, and the family were to move in the next day. The fire was discovered by the neighbors, in time to save most of the articles. The House cost $1200, and, we understand, was insured for $600 or $800. The cause of the fire is unknown. There had been a fire in the stove during the day, which was closed up at night, and thought to be quite safe.—Dover Gazette.

NEW YORK, May 9.—The schooner Coangeline, built in Prospect, Me., in 1855, and owned by Capt. Pitman of Brewer, Me., who commands her, is strongly suspected of being a slaver.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"Dear little one, the cherubs are singing to it" discourseth a mother, after watching the effect produced upon her infant by the use of the Celebrated Carminative.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discovered that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

HAMMERING.

A DIALOGUE.

N. H. Gazette, May 9.—We observe that the Chronicle, with its usual discriminating charity, is still hammering at Police Officer Foot.

Uncle T.—We said nothing about him for the week, from May 2 to May 9, except to copy articles from the Gazette, Journal and Ballot.

Gazette.—Uncle Toby has a good memory, and he will probably continue this subject until they are nauseated with it.

Uncle T.—A good memory is convenient. And a better memory, or a sharper lookout, would be a fine thing for the Gazette at the present time. The hammering process it speaks of, was performed by different parties. For instance, Mr. Justice hammers the Gazette thus.

Mr. Justice.—The statement contained in your paper relating to the Police Court, as you have it, is very unjust to Mr. Foot.

Gazette, [after the hammering.]—We hold that the police should be not only skilled in their duties, but men above suspicion of reproach, and it is believed that our present police corps is composed of such men.

Uncle T.—Now hear the Gazette hammer Mr. Foote.

Gaz.—The worst crime that Mr. Foot has been found guilty of is drinking a few times.

Uncle T.—Now hear the Gazette hammer the Maine Law.

Gaz.—And according to pure Maine law philosophy, the individual of whom he purchased the liquor, is the real criminal, and not the drinker.

Uncle T.—One of your blunders, that's all. The Law of Maine, at this moment, is a license law, which holds the drunkard as a criminal, and the licensed seller as an honorable man. The Maine Law proper held both as criminals. But the Washingtonians held that the drunkard was to be pitied, and the seller to be blamed and punished!

Gaz.—Uncle Toby does not state where Foot bought his liquor, and if he knows, fails to institute a prosecution for the sale; but continues to belabor a penitent fellow-sinner who has never been charged with any derelictions from duty half so grave as some of his accusers.

Uncle T—don't know where he bought his liquor—is not a public prosecutor, neither Marshal, Judge, nor Solicitor;—has belabored nobody, but only looked on to see "Justice" belabor the Gazette and the clergy, and eulogize Mr. Foote; to see the Gazette backing down agreeable to the prediction of the Ballot; to see Mr. Hatch "demonstrating" that he, like the great jurists of England, had a right, morally and legally, to defend his penitent fellow sinners, or the very worst of criminals.

Gaz.—Uncle Toby holds the office of a Christian minister. He preaches to the vilest reprobates, repentance and salvation, and that the penitent is freely forgiven, though his sins, as black as night, rise up against him for judgment.

Uncle T—believes; and preaches that all sin must and will be punished, with exact justice.

Gaz.—Yet he mercilessly follows a poor sinner who has drank a glass or two of liquor, and who has acknowledged his fault with all due penitence, and pledged himself to abstain in future.

Uncle T.—has done no such thing. Public opinion follows, and will follow the richer sinner who gets unrighteous gain, or slips into posts of power by duping and shaving poor sinners, and keeping them poor.

Gaz.—And Uncle Toby is a modern moral reformer, a leader in Israel, an expounder of Christian doctrine, the right bower of the temperance reformation!

Uncle T—would deem this a high compliment, if the Gazette had only said best bower, instead of right bower. Best bower is good Sea-English—but right bower belongs to some unknown tongue.

Mr. Hatch.—The very worst of criminals of whom history gives record, had been defended by the most eminent jurists of England, and he thought the reasoning of the reverend gentlemen would hardly serve to change a time honored custom of the Courts.

Uncle T.—The most eminent jurists of England have done many strange things,—and many things are time-honored, which have no true honor, and answer no good conscience.

Mr. Justice.—It did appear at the trial that Mr. Foot had been drinking that evening, but not to excess. When his friends remonstrated with him, he expressed great sorrow for the fact, voluntarily signed a pledge never to drink intoxicating liquor, and to resign his office, lest he should bring reproach on his party.

Uncle T.—Remonstrated with him! for what? for drinking temperately?—and he afraid to bring reproach on his party, by temperate drinking! Credat Judæus! Now hear an old Fogy, in the N. H. Gazette of April 18.

Old Fogy.—It, (Alcohol,) is among the most useful and beneficent gifts of a good Providence, which the wise will continue to use, cautiously and temperately.

Uncle T.—Every wise man, on this theory, will keep on drinking rum, while the foolish men will leave off—and this from the wise great man of the party!

Gaz.9th.— What is to happen? "Uncle Toby" has held but one temperance dialogue" this week. We fear that the cause may suffer.

Uncle T.—But one dialogue? Why, bless your heart, my dear fellow,—we have had no dialogue at all, these ten days.—What you mistook for a dialogue was only half a dozen beautiful extracts from the Gazette, which contradicted each other.—But you have been so hammered by your friends, that such mistakes are quite excusable.

VISION BY GAS LIGHT.—Time 11 o'clock, P. M. Place, Mr. Slipslop's bar-room.—Three men, who had been drinking largely, were hustled out, the doors were barred, the men banged and swore, and swore and banged,—and kept on doing so till we were out of hearing.

☞ We learn that Mr. Joseph Garland of Rye, committed suicide by hanging, on Saturday morning. He was about 53 years of age, leaves a family, and was a man of some property, but entertained the morbid idea that he should come to poverty and want.

☞ The U. S. Circuit Court, (not District, as we published it,) adjourned on Saturday.

KANSAS AFFAIRS.—Washington, May 8. The Cabinet to-day were almost exclusively occupied with Kansas affairs: Gov. Walker being present several hours. He will take the oath of office as governor, before leaving for Kansas, Monday or Tuesday. The official and private accounts daily received, induce both him and the Administration to believe there will be no serious, if any, obstruction to the adjustment of the passing difficulties in that territory.

Murphy, who had difficulty with Sickles, has been removed as Engineer at the Brooklyn Navy Yard.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cognac, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be hailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN
Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Tucker & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and verify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another feature that the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special act of the legislature, a lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The price of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are set upon the principle of one number to each ticket (after the Havana plan). And Tertary commission. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $20,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.

141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest prices, viz:

Their Stock consists of

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, & c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having fine spices and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following sale of prices, viz:

6 lb. Souchong Tea, 1 00 | 5 lb. Mocha Coffee, 1 00
5 lb. Java, 1 75 | 6 lb. Java, 1 00
5 lb. Y. Hyson do. 2 25 | 8 lb. good do. 1 00

☞ The spices are put up in ¼ and ½lb. tin canister, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is now used by many, and our Mills is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by other dealers.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. It is not a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family article, one pound of which is warranted equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profit, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of nearly twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Models, for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below displayed prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to secure a patent, is thus obviated, and great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents, more than any three firms, besides his own firm, in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the most honest, and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office, and regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. P. Y. M. CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.

FIFTH ANNUAL REPORT.

In presenting to the "Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association," a Report of its "progress and condition" during the past year, required by its constitution, of the presiding officer, I deeply regret my inability to perform the duty in such a manner as the interests of the Association demand.

The membership of the Association is about the same as last year, numbering some forty active, fifteen associate, nine honorary, and one life member.

The Library has been increased about twenty-five volumes during the past year. Most of these were received as donations from Mrs. Haven and Rev. Mr. Holman. We now have upwards of five hundred volumes, comprising many valuable works.—Such books only as will tend to create a pure and healthful state of morals, are allowed to enter the Library; and we respectfully solicit the friends of the Association, to assist us in adding such books to our shelves.

The establishment of a reading-room, free to all young men, was a plan proposed, as securing a desirable means in the objects of the Association; but it has not been as yet fully accomplished, for want of pecuniary means. Our table is, however, regularly supplied with the following papers:—

Weeklies—The Independent, Christian Messenger, New Hampshire Telegraph, Dwight's Journal of Music, Herald of Gospel Liberty, Independent Democrat, Herald of Freedom.

Monthlies—American Messenger, Macedonian, Missionary Advocate. We have also the National Magazine, Young Men's Magazine, and the Quarterly Reporter of Christian Associations.

For most of the above papers we are greatly indebted to the publishers, who have furnished them gratuitously.

But a single lecture was delivered before the Association during the past winter, the arrangements for a course having been delayed until it was too late to secure good lecturers. This lecture was delivered by Rev. Dr. E. O. Haven, of Boston, upon Truth, from [John 17: 17, "Thy word is truth." Early arrangements will be entered into for the delivery of a course of lectures during the coming lecture season.

Prayer meetings upon Sabbath afternoons, at the close of the services in the several churches, have been held at the rooms of the Association. These meetings, though attended but by few, have been seasons of interest to those attending. They are designed to benefit young men, and we cordially invite all young men of our city, whether members of the Association or not, to participate with us in them.

The resources of the Association being naturally small, we cannot present so flourishing a state in regard to finances as might be desirable. We have not, however, entailed any debts upon the Association. Close economy has been practised, even though it has not proved to be directly advantageous, but rather the contrary.

It is with regret that we have noticed the little interest manifested by the community generally, in the objects of the Association. We cannot better express the apparent state of the public feeling in our own city, than by quoting from a report presented by Wm. Chauncey Langdon, of Washington, to the World's Convention held at Paris in 1855, in behalf of the American Confederation. In speaking of the light in which the movement is looked upon by those not engaged in it, he says:

"From the Christian community the Young Men's Christian Association receive, when brought pointedly to their attention, an occasional (and hearty, too,) God speed; but, most strange to say, (with the exception of Boston and perhaps a few other cities,) no such interest exists in its being, vitality and results, as apparently to keep it before the mind in any other than an abstract point of view. Of fostering care it receives little or none; and it appears to be regarded as a beautiful phantom, having no relation to any sense but sight, and not to be considered by Christians in connection with the world in which they move. 'A noble institution,' says the parent, and the next day sends his son to a strange city without a letter to this brotherhood, or even acquaintance with its being. 'One deserving of the the greatest encouragement,' cries the philanthropist, but starts with surprise when he meets with the evidence of its life, or a reminder of its need of support. In short, by this class the Christian Association is well known, most warmly commended, but not realized.

Turning to the church, the same may be said, but with greater emphasis. Save during the meeting of the Association itself, or in a sermon preached at its request, when it would seem the petition could not not ascend too fervently to the throne of grace, nor the moral support of the church be too freely promised, no voice of prayer goes up from the pulpit or desk, for its guidance or strength, no blessing is asked upon the young warriors, by the congregation of those who have already borne the heat and burden of the day. The pastor avails not himself of the strong power which stands even at his right hand, and no account is taken of it in the counsels of the church. Thus the Christian Association lacks much of its value from the neglect of the christian and the clergy to call it into requisition.—In this consists one of the great, its leading difficulty against which the Association is forced to contend. The young men—the young men themselves must do all! Theirs must be at once the heart to prompt, the head to plan, the purse to provide, the arm to execute."

This picture is too true, we are sorry to say, in our own case. Our Association has this evening reached the close of its fifth year, but is in a languishing state, for the want of assistance from those who should be most active in rendering aid. The work in which we have engaged is of a most important character. The amount of good which would accrue to the young men of our city, were the object and design of the Association fully carried out, is incalculable. A band of brethren, associated together for the formation and development in young men of christian character and christian activity—have we not a claim upon the public?—We appeal to them for sympathy, aid and assistance.

Allow me, in conclusion, to speak briefly of the progress of this great movement, throughout our country and the world.

Of the Associations in America, that of Cincinnati is the oldest, having been first organized Oct. 11, 1848. That of Montreal, the next oldest, was organized Dec. 9, 1851. Its present membership is about 100. It has for a considerable length of time sustained a city missionary, whose labors have proved so fruitful of good, that another is to be associated with him in the same field of labor. Next comes that of Boston, organized Dec. 29th, 1851; now numbering 1300 members, the largest association in America. Next in point of numbers, ranks that of New York, organized June 30th, 1852, its membership, being upwards of 1100. Buffalo has an Association of 800 members; Philadelphia, 700; Portland, Me., Newark, N. J., and Richmond, Va. have Associations of 500 members each.

There are altogether, in our own country and the Canadas about 80 Associations, with a membership of more than 12,000. Of these, 36 are united with the Confederation of Christian Associations, having for its object mutual encouragement, co-operation and usefulness. This confederation meet in Annual Convention, for consultation as to what means are best calculated to secure such uniformity of organization and action as may be thought desirable in this great movement. Its Central Committee, located at Cincinnati, publish a paper called the "Quarterly Reporter of Young Men's Christian Associations in America." F. W. Ham, of this city, is a corresponding member of the Committee.

The annual Convention of the Confederation will this year meet at Richmond, Va., on the 21st of the present month. Rev. S. Holman will represent this Association at the Convention.

In Europe, the movement has increased as rapidly as in our own country. In England, the Associations, which are all branches of that in London, we think, now number some forty-five; Ireland has seven; Scotland as large a number; Germany has more than one hundred distinct associations; in France, their general union has increased from twelve to fifty societies, and now includes all in the country, except those of Marseilles, and Lyons. The number of individual members is about seven hundred. Switzerland, we think, numbers over fifty unions. At the Sixth Assemblee General, or semi-annual convention of the Canton De Vaud, held at Lausanne in November last, sixteen societies were represented by ninety-eight members.

A marked feature of the European Associations, is the spiritual earnestness among individual members, not so greatly manifested in the Associations of our own country.

At Uyon, the union has only two members, but they are not discouraged. They hope the Lord will draw in other young men to unite with them.

We think we do not over estimate their number, when we say there are more than 350 Associations in the world, comprising above 20,000 members, who taking the Bible for the foundation of their operations, are united in giving battle to the foul army of superstitious error, spreading itself through the world. They are invincible, so long as they preserve their watchword—"It is not by might, nor by power, but by thy spirit, O Lord of Hosts."

TUESDAY, MAY 12, 1857.

AN UNMITIGATED VILLAIN. The Philadelphia North American narrates a sad case of cruel treatment of a husband towards his wife, which came before the police court in that city on Thursday. The accuser in the case was a Mrs. Shuster, wife of the notorious Jacob Shuster, who, under the alias Tom Hand, was several years since convicted of stealing the government jewels from the Patent Office. After this affair he was convicted in New York of passing counterfeit money, and sentenced to Sing Sing prison for ten years. All this while his wife supported herself and her two daughters, at times by keeping store and also by taking boarders. During the term of his first imprisonment, she traveled repeatedly to Washington, and brought every influence to bear upon the President to obtain a pardon, but without success.—While he was at Sing Sing she made similar efforts, and by her importunities and her tears, induced Gov. Clark to grant the desired pardon; and on last Thanksgiving day Shuster returned to his family in Philadelphia.

According to the affidavit of Mrs. Shuster, a short time after his release from prison, her husband wrote to her, demanding a certain sum of money, or he would sell a burial lot, containing the remains of two of their children, and have them thrown out, whenever the purchaser might direct. As the poor woman had no money, the threat rendered her frantic. Subsequently, Shuster returned home and agreed to leave her forever, if she would pay him sixty dollars. This she agreed to do, and had paid a portion of the sum, when he again came to her house, where there resided eighteen boarders, twelve of whom he dismissed, and then notified her that he should sell the furniture the next day. He also threatened to turn the oldest daughter into the street, and made such menaces against the life of his wife, that she was obliged to ask the protection of a magistrate. The statement of Mrs. Shuster was corroborated by her oldest daughter, and by one of her boarders. Shuster is a man of highly plausible address, and gentlemanly appearance, but of great vindictiveness, and who will go to any length to gratify his resentment. He was committed to jail.

Judge Kelley has interested himself in behalf of the unfortunate woman, and is about to prosecute a suit against Shuster for a divorce. This, it would seem from the statement in the North American, is the only redress which the law can give, to this deeply injured woman, whose affection and unwearied exertions for her outlawed husband receive so cruel a return.

ARREST FOR DRUNKENNESS.—The Republican states that the usually quiet village of Milford, N. H., was thrown into quite an excitement on Wednesday evening, by the screeches of a woman who was arrested near the "Acre," for drunkenness. Half a dozen women of different nations got together, and managed to get some liquor, of which all partook rather freely. They soon commenced throwing the dishes at each other, and having a general row. Constables were called upon, and arrested a Mrs. Jackson, and committed her to the lobby, she screeching at the top of her voice, and exerting herself to get away. She plead guilty, and was sentenced to thirty days imprisonment. The Republican hopes every man or woman who is found intoxicated, will be arrested and required to disclose where they got their liquor or be committed to jail. That course would break up a nuisance near the northeast boundary of Milford, and over the line in Amherst. It is said that impositions have been practiced on the agent for the sale of liquors in Milford, which will render it necessary for him to refuse to sell except to persons he knows want it for proper purposes.

PORTLAND, MAINE.—In the City Council of Portland, May 8,

Order, That the City Marshal and his Deputies, and each member of the Police, be instructed to use all means in their power to ascertain all violations of the Liquor Law, and to report every case to the Mayor, who is hereby authorised to order a prosecution in every instance, where in his opinion sufficient evidence can be had to obtain a conviction—passed in both Boards.

Mayor Willis is a calm, firm, practical man; and will be likely to make the license law, in Portland, do all that such a law can do in such a place, to restrict the sale. Mayor Willis was in favor of the prohibitory law,—but as he is in office under a license law, he means to use such tools as he has.

MORE ABOLITIONISM IN MISSOURI.—Jas. G. Blair, of Lewis county, Mo., a brother of Hon. Frank Blair of St. Louis, has come out boldly in favor of emancipation. The National Democracy of Clark county held a meeting at the county seat, Waterloo, a few days ago, and James G. Blair was called upon to address them, which he did. He "declared his opposition to the agitation of the slavery question, but at the same time admitted that he looked forward with delight to the coming of the time when slavery should be blotted out in Missouri. Mr. Blair said that while he endorsed the principle of non-intervention, he felt that he had a right to entertain a private opinion with regard to the subject of slavery."

A FAIR HIT.—Mr. Choate writes a hand which has been compared to the autograph of a seventeen legged spider just crawled out an inkstand. An exchange says:—

"We are informed that Hon. Rufus Choate will be sent to China—not, however, by the government as Minister Plenipotentiary, but that he has been engaged at a large salary to go out to Canton, where he will be employed in lettering tea chests. It is said that his peculiar style of chirography will enable him to put on those interesting hieroglyphics at a much cheaper rate than the Chinese painters can do it.

☞ Changes are taking place among the editors of Portland, Me. John M. Adams has succeeded John Appleton, as conductor of the Argus; while Mr. Henry Carter of the Advertiser retires to resume the profession of the law; and Charles G. Came, his able associate, has accepted a position in the editorial staff of the Boston Journal.

☞ Died, in Stratham, May 1, Mr. Nathan Cate, 74. Mrs. Cate, his widow, has recently been operated upon for a cancer. The result being evidently of fatal tendency, her husband was arranging such preliminaries as would be needed in the event of her death. In removing the board on which she was to be laid out, he fell, broke his ribs, and in a few days expired. Mrs. Cate still survives.

☞ A man named Aaron Bedbug, of Montgomery county, Ky., intends petitioning the legislature to change his name. He says that his sweetheart, whose name Olivia, is unwilling that he should be called A. Bedbug, she O. Bedbug, and the little ones little Bedbugs.

☞ The Persian ambassador at Paris, Ferouk-Khan, has just presented to Louis Napoleon four Arab horses of the purest blood, from his master the Shah. They have two peculiarities—that they are larger than any blood horses hitherto seen, and that they have no manes. Paris was very much delighted with the beauty of these animals.

A PLANTATION FOR EX-PRESIDENT PIERCE. The Vicksburg Whig says that $96,000 were subscribed in that city on Tuesday towards purchasing a plantation for ex-President Pierce. The sum asked for the property is $100,000, leaving $4,000 yet to be subscribed in order to complete the purchase.

☞ Mrs. Emma Cunningham, alias Burdell, has been acquitted of the murder of Dr. Burdell, as there was no proof against her, of murder,—and she may yet inherit his property. A sorry picture of life in New York city is presented by the whole case.

☞ We learn from our Great Falls correspondent that a woman by the name of Hoyt, between 60 and 70 years of age, was killed in Rochester, last Saturday afternoon, by being run over on the Great Falls & Conway Railroad.

☞ A race of a novel character lately came off near Mons, France. It was a wager of $100 between two farmers to test the relative weight drawing capacities of horses and oxen—four of each animal.—The weight about 12,000 lbs., the distance rather more than 14 miles. The horses won by 7 minutes; time 3 hours 6 minutes.

MR. CHOATE.—The Newburyport Herald says:

We should respect Mr. Choate more if at times he did not seem to be the hired sophist, and thus the prostitutor of great powers.

☞ By the regular process of distilling, only 2¼ gallons of whiskey are obtained from a bushel of grain, but by using tobacco and strychnine a bushel is made to yield five gallons.

"Harry," said a young lady, on the seat before us at the theatre, last evening, "how I should like to be an actress." "An actress, Henrietta; why?" "Oh! it must be so nice to be made love to in such pretty words every evening."

THE FLORIDA WAR.—Gen. Harney is still energetically prosecuting hostilities against the Florida Indians, and has issued orders to multiply the number of parties sent in pursuit of them. He recommends the commanders in the field to act with energy, and to follow up and annoy the Indians as much as possible. The promium for every living Seminole warrior, woman and child, who may be captured or induced to come in for emigration to the West is fixed at $250 to $500 for each warrior, $150 to $300 for each woman, and $100 to $200 for each child. The Tampa Peninsular says our year's active operations has enabled the army to drive the Seminole from his last hiding place.—Their crops have been destroyed, and one or two months, more active operations would settle the war for all time.

The Floridas have cost this nation an immense sum—all spent to secure and propitiate slavery, and for no other purpose.

If we may believe the St. Louis papers—and why shouldn't we—the merchants thereabouts are dating their business paper so as to have everything about squared up when the expected comet comes along. The idea is not a bad one, for no one who has squared up his little indebtedness need to be afraid of comets. We would rather have the tail of a comet brushing in our faces than an unpaid bill.—Charlestown Advertiser.

MAPLE SUGAR.—It is estimated that 225,000 lbs. of maple sugar will be manufactured in Willmington, Vt., this season.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

"How beautiful," exclaims Aunt Anna, "little Willie is smiling in his sleep." Yes, replies his mother, "I gave him some of the Celebrated Carminative; he had suffered so with the colic; and now the pain has left him, he sleeps quietly."

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, Messrs. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing Dry Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest style, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Nungying they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that Dr. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in many instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to look natural; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

Use Dr. Clough's
Columbian Pills,

A WONDERFUL Medicine, good in all diseases, and for persons of all ages, and especially for Females to use in Pregnancy and child bed. Ladies, please read what Mrs. [illegible], an old, experienced nurse of 1 ittsfield, says:—

"I have used Dr. Clough's COLUMBIAN PILLS in my business, as nurse, for three or four years, and find them just what they are recommended; they act on the stomach and bowels so mildly, relieve the head, do not debilitate, and calm the nerves. I am sure I but do my duty to my female companions in recommending these Pills for their use, in preference to any similar preparation.
SARAH SEARS, Nurse."

This recommendation is valuable, because it is by a lady of large experience as a Nurse, and she knows just what the ladies need to regulate and strengthen them, so as to be able to do their nurse cheerfully and safely, as women and as mothers.

LOCAL.

FIRE.—On Monday night, soon after eleven o'clock, Mr. Justin Hanscom discovered that the small wooden building situated on Noble's Island, just across the Bridge, was on fire; and gave the alarm. There was plenty of water at hand, of course; and for some time, after sending alarmists down town, the neighbors who came first to the spot, busied themselves in fighting the then "little matter" of a fire, with the supply conveyed from the pump close at hand, in buckets—the pump being efficiently worked by volunteer ladies.

But it was "no go"—or rather, it was altogether too much of "a go" for them, and they did not make so much progress as the fire,—and Engines Four and Six, which were first on the spot, had to put the fire out. Many citizens and Firemen would doubtless have been there sooner, had the first alarm stated where the fire was.

The building was owned by the Messrs. Noble, and was occupied jointly, by the Portsmouth Ship Building Company, as a counting-house and storeroom; and by Mr. Arad Tibbetts, who also had schooner models, tools, and other small merchandise stored here. The books and papers were about all saved; but the loss in tools and stock was considerable.

The fire began on the back of the western or northern end of the building, where was no stove, and it is said had been no light; and it is thought must have been set.

The total loss, of building and contents, was probably about $500 or $600; on which, we are told, there was no insurance.

AT HOME AGAIN.—We are once more safely ensconced in our own quarters, the Chronicle Office proper, in Exchange Buildings; and trust we shall never more be disturbed by fire or flood, joiners or masons. For the accommodations so generously furnished us by our friends of the Journal, during the past four or five weeks, we feel under great obligations; though we certainly hope we shan't have a chance to return the favor very soon—or rather, that they won't have occasion to need it.

P. Y. M. C. A.—The fifth Anniversary services of the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, held at the Temple on Sunday evening, were of an interesting character. The meeting was opened with an appropriate anthem by a choir of ladies and gentlemen interested in the Society; prayer by Elder Paine of Kittery. The Report, which we print on our first page this morning, was read by the President, Mr. Wm. Seavey. It will be seen that the Association does not receive the encouragement it merits—concerning which, we shall have a word to say hereafter.

The anniversary discourse was delivered by Rev. A. J. Patterson, from the text, "Show thyself a man"—David's words to Solomon. It was an able, interesting, high-toned and instructive lecture; and we hope to be able to publish it in a few days. The services were closed by the singing of Old Hundred, "Be thou, O God, exalted high;" and a benediction, by Rev. Mr. Paine.

CITY SALARIES, &c.—Not long before our temporary removal, we received the Annual City Book, containing the reports of the several Boards, and other matters of interest to all citizens. Looking over the salaries of several officers, we perceive them to be pitifully low. For example, Mayor, $300; Police Justice, $200; City Marshal, (we suppose) $250. We observe that the Legislature, in our charter, fixed the salary of Mayor at $500, (a more reasonable and decent sum,) with liberty for the city to change it. They have done so, reducing it to the meagre pittance of 300. So they named $300 for the city judge, at first; but in 1853 amend, by not less than $200;—and it stands at the lowest possible sum.

The city marshal used to have a larger salary than now,—we believe $350,—certainly not too much; and both he and the mayor may now be said to be half-paid.—Yet a city like ours, in which 488 arrests are made in a year, and which has 40 or 50 manufactories of arrests, requires the constant watch of these officers.

PRINCE & Co's MELODEONS.—Probably there never was a musical instrument that has so rapidly gained the public favor and is now in such general use as the Melodeon. But a few years ago it was almost unknown, and was looked upon as a curiosity. Now we find large and spacious buildings devoted entirely to the manufacture of these instruments, and giving employment to thousands of workmen. George Prince & Co. of Buffalo have the largest factory of the kind in the world. It covers an area of several acres, and they manufacture upwards of 5000 Melodeons yearly. Yet such is the celebrity of their instruments that they are often unable to fulfil their orders for months. It will be noticed by an advertisement in our columns that J. S. Harvey & Son are agents for Prince & Co. in this city. They are doing a large and increasing business in the sale of these beautiful instruments, and it will be noticed that they are not afraid of having them thoroughly tested, as they offer to rent them, and make a deduction of rent in case of purchase.

THE LAST OF GEORGE THIRD'S FAMILY.—The Duchess of Gloucester, who completed her 81st year on the 25th ult., has been dangerously ill. She is the last surviving member of the old royal family.

DEATHS.—New York, May 10.—The City Inspector reports 392 deaths, for the week, a decrease of 60 compared with the previous week.

The Clarendon and Dallas Treaty.—The Herald's Washington correspondent says Mr. Cass takes the rejection of the Clarendon-Dallas treaty in high dudgeon, and thinks the action of the English government wholly indefensible. Indeed, he drew from Lord Napier almost an admission of this fact.

Mr. Wise, Secretary of Legation at Paris, has resigned. Mr. Wilder the Assistant Secretary, will probably be promoted until Mr. Mason is relieved by a new Minister, which will be in a few months.

OSWEGO, May 10.—A fire broke out here this afternoon in a shanty used for the manufacture of tar for roofs, from which it spread to the Welland House, destroying it. The insurance on the house is $15,000, and furniture about $5000 or $6000, mostly in Hartford companies. A fireman fell from a third story window, and broke his leg.

The boat Caspian, of the old Oswego line, arrived here to-day, with merchandise for Chicago, from Troy, and is the first boat through.

THE CANAL.—Albany, May 10.—The water let into the canal at Lockport yesterday went out last night, carrying away eighty feet in length and six feet below the bottom in the embankment East of that place, near Wakeman's. The break will be filled in again on Sunday night or Monday morning. It will not delay the boats now clearing at Albany.

FROM TURKS ISLAND.—New York, May 10.—By the arrival of the schooner Eolus we have Turks Island advices of April 25. During the week past there had been a few showers, but the pans were again making. A small quantity had been gathered at the Cay, and should the present fine weather continue there would soon be a general raking. 16,500 pans had been exported from the East harbor during the week, and the pans there were in excellent condition. The quantity on hand was about 130,000 bushels. Price 9 a 10 cents.

At Inagua much rain had fallen, causing much damage in the salt pond.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Dock House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c, and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such man should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Fearson & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to see that every thing is done that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. A matter fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the information comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.

E. E. DYER & CO.,
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices—Their Stock consists of:

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Have every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them always fresh and genuine, as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Oolong do.	1 75	5 lb. Java do.	1 00
5 lb. Hyson do.	2 25	8 lb. good do.	1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction when roasted with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2 lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, is strictly a pure article, manufactured for our trade and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the best article. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues, may be used as a mixed with coffee or not, as taste suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Bilious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum is put up in our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made to those looking them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profit, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and prices, as compared with those of any other house.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st., oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other European Countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the novelty or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but from its long established and advantageous facilities for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUPERIOR FACILITIES AND ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents; these, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him, in any case of question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons engaged in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AMOSKEAG, 1855.—Having for some time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a solicitor; and I have thoroughly satisfied myself that he is competent, and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

VERDICT OF NOT GUILTY IN THE CASE OF JAMES WHITE.—In the Municipal Court, this morning, the case of James White, indicted for abetting in the commission of a rape on Ellen Desmond, was given to the Jury by Judge Huntington. The Jury after a brief deliberation returned a verdict of not guilty. The verdict was received with a very considerable degree of astonishment, in view of the fact that it was within the power of the Jury to find the prisoner guilty of a less offence than that charged in the indictment. This verdict will probably have an influence on the motion for a new trial now pending in the case of Sullivan.

Another indictment is still pending against White for aiding and abetting Sullivan—the trial which has just closed having been on an indictment for aiding and abetting Holland, the party who has not yet been arrested. Whether White will be tried on this indictment is a question yet to be decided by the District Attorney.—Boston Traveller, 9th.

A SLIP 'TWIXT CUP AND LIP.—A large company were invited to attend a wedding that was to have come off early last week, at the residence of a worthy gentleman in Prince George's County, Md. The guests duly assembled, but lo! the expected bride—the farmer's daughter—turned up among the missing! It seems that she favored the suit of another than the husband selected by her fond and careful father—a neighboring farmer, and, by the by, a very estimable man. The favored lover, a young mechanic in the Washington Navy Yard, had been forbidden the house, and the young lady had been interdicted from seeing him. She is said to have contrived the scheme of being about to marry another, to obtain the means of marrying her favorite with something in hand. On Sunday night last, her lover conveyed her from home to this city, where they were made one flesh, as soon as the the license could be obtained.—[Norfolk (Va.) paper.

A QUEER GUEST AT THE ST. NICHOLAS.—Tylor Wedge, an insane pauper of Amherst, Mass., being desirous of visiting some of his friends in Western New York, was supplied with funds, by the liberality of a few individuals, and started on his travels. In a few days he was returned by the almshouse governors of New York city with a spicy letter to the Selectmen; the governors believing that he had been purposely sent away to get rid of him. Wedge, instead of going to Western New York, made directly for the city of Gotham, where he took rooms at St. Nicholas. His peculiarities soon showed his true character, and he was returned.—N. Y. Evening Post.

A Worcester grocer rolled a hogshead of molasses into his back yard and left it standing with the head out, and an Irish lad in the pursuit of stolen sweets, lost his balance and fell in head first. His young companions unable to release him, at length tipped the hogshead over, and led home the victim, who was "too full to see."

CHINESE METHOD OF TAKING THE CENSUS.—The method of taking the census in China affords an example which our own country as well as others, might profit by following. During the period appointed for an official enumeration of the inhabitants, householders are requested to post placards on their outside doors, stating the number of males and females, with their ages, under their respective roofs, and heavy penalties are attached to a misrepresentation of numbers.

Dr. Hiram Cox, chemical inspector of alcoholic liquors in Cincinnati, states, in an address to his fellow-citizens, that during two years he has made 249 inspections of various kinds of liquors, and has found more than nine-tenths of them imitations, and a great portion of them poisonous concoctions.—Portland Advertiser.

An old writer on "dress" says that "young women should let their judgment be seen by the frugality and simplicity of their apparel." Our modern young ladies are "frugal" enough in some articles of their dress, heaven knows; and as to "letting their judgment be seen," that is nearly all that is not exhibited.—Post.

"Talk of the inferiority of the female mind!" exclaimed an excited Women's Rights-oratorian, "why, Mr. President, women possess infinitely more of the divine afflatus than man; any one who attempts to get around her in these days, will have to start very early in the morning.

BALTIMORE, May 10.—A meeting to devise means for the aid of the Walker cause in Nicaragua, was called last evening, but nobody attended except the reporters and a few others; consequently the room was not opened, nor gas wanted.

OUR PUBLIC GROUNDS.

"A thing of beauty is a joy forever."

With the first showers and spring sunshine, says the Manchester American, our public commons begin to put on their garb of beauty and freshness. These cases, in the wilderness of bricks, mortar and pine boards, cannot be too highly appreciated. They are the breathing places of our city, and present a bright patch of natural landscape to many dust-filled and weary eyes.

Thousands who cannot join in the summer stampede to watering places—crowded, and full of vanity—or to quiet country nooks, are compelled to imbibe their ideas of nature from the squares and commons. It is the solemn duty, and should be the earnest study of the public guardians, to beautify and popularize them. They should be adorned with sparkling fountains and blooming plants, to please and recreate the dulled sense of the citizen laborer.

Statues, chaste and beautiful, have perhaps a more wholesome influence on the minds of a people, than rigid statutes. Europeans understand this. The parks of London are great checks on crime. The sagacity of the Emperor of France, in filling the public gardens with enchanting spectacles of beauty, is wise and very politic. If proper attention were given to this subject in our New England towns, we should not be compelled to read such horrible details of crime, nor to hear of brawling and fiendish fighting in streets and groggeries.

The poor must have their pleasures.—They are uncared for; are precluded from sources of gratification which wealth bestows. Is it strange that they too often find their diversion in low debauchery?—Cheap concerts in hot and reeking rooms—"free-and-easys"—dog fights, men fights, incessant rows among our population, degraded. From these fountains flow necessarily a bitter stream.

Now, let harmless means of enjoyment be provided for the populace—reading-rooms, libraries, music rooms—and we may safely count on a steady diminution of vice and dissipation. Let us have more parks, and let those we have be adorned and increased in attractiveness. We have always regarded the quiet walks and beautiful landscape of the Cemetery as a public blessing, and no acts of our city government have been more wise or beneficent than those providing for its extension and ornament. Let the same liberality be extended to the public walks and commons.

THE 17TH OF JUNE CELEBRATION.—The telegraph announces that President Buchanan will not leave Washington to participate in the Bunker Hill celebration on the 17th of June, nor for the purpose of attending the commemoration at Jamestown, Va. The Secretary of State and Lieut. General Scott, have accepted invitations to be present at Bunker Hill, on the coming anniversary of the battle. The motive for the assemblage this year, is the proposed inauguration of the statue of Gen. Warren, which is hereafter to occupy an appropriate position on the hill.

☞ On Tuesday forenoon, in Boston, the police made a descent on several persons in State street and vicinity, who were supposed to be dealers in lottery tickets, as agents for the Southern lotteries, and arrested the following parties: Orin D. Myrick, 40 State street; Joel Brett, in Joy's Building; James H. Savage, at 8 Change avenue; David B. Pearson, at 5 State st.; George C. McGregor, at 30 Wilson's lane; ——Conant, and G. L. Clark, at 3 Wilson's lane. A large lot of lottery tickets, schemes, lists of prizes, &c., were secured, and the parties were taken to the Chief's office to await examination.

FOREIGN FRUIT.—The West India fruit trade is increasing in importance every year. This season, both cocoanuts and bananas are expected to be more plenty than ever before. The first cargo of Matanzas pines, numbering 40,000, just received at New York, sold for $11 per hundred.—Cocoanuts are very plenty, and sell for $25 per thousand. Bananas are very backward, and generally very green. More than half of the entire receipts are packed and forwarded to the East and West.

GOV. WALKER.—At Washington, on the 11th, Robert J. Walker took the oath as Governor of Kansas. He was closeted with the President several hours, received his instructions from him, and was to leave for the territory, the next morning.

To "JUSTICE" IN CHRONICLE OF MAY 6.—The remarks we submitted on "Spiritualism" originated in a pure motive to benefit the superstitious. The writer "justice" complains of injustice done to those of his faith in the wonderful phenomena. He says he is "a Spiritualist and a partial medium"—that he has "been an investigator of Spiritualism for two years and upwards. Come forward, then, Mr. Justice, if you are honest, and do not follow the spiritual trade for money; and reveal to the public, the way and manner the phenomena are produced. You profess to have some knowledge on the subject, and if you have the good of your fellow-men at heart, you will readily and cheerfully disclose the secrets. By so doing, you would receive an ample reward surely of your own conscience, if not a generous purse, freely contributed. If you have not been allowed to enter fully into the arcana, tell us all that you do really, personally know of the matter, and assign the causes of the phenomena.

You need not express your mere faith that an invisible spirit came flying through infinite space, from the eternal world, to go through with the performances, or assist the performers. But if you know that a spirit really comes, tell us how the spirit can have sufficient muscular strength or physical power to raise up and carry about a room, a piano of 900 lbs., and four stout men on it, say 650 lbs. more, and all this without hands, tools, or machinery. Why surely the spirit, when united with all the muscular power of the body, could not have lifted one fourth part of the whole weight. We do not understand how a spirit, an immaterial essence, without hands, or any material instrument, can lift up any ponderous substance. Explain that.

Tell us also how the voice of a disembodied spirit (not having the natural organs of speech) sounds: and whether it is like the human voice before death. We put this question for your answer, because the Spiritualists say they can converse with the dead. We cannot prove a negative, but it is incumbent on you, who are in the secrets, to prove the affirmative. We want no evasion, or ambiguous answers—but the facts and direct proof. PHILOS.

NEARLY BURIED ALIVE.—Wat. Eckman, of Cloves, Hamilton county, Ohio, was taken violently ill on the morning of the 15th ult., and according to two physicians who attended him, died about five o'clock the same day. The next morning he was placed in a coffin and carried in a market wagon to the church, about two miles distant, where a funeral sermon was preached. As the last hymn was about to be sung, the audience were startled by unusual noises, and the sound of vigorous kicking, proceeding from the coffin. The coffin was speedily opened, when Eckman was found literally "alive and kicking," struggling to free himself from his unwelcome position. Blood was flowing freely from his mouth and nose, but in a few minutes he was able to speak, and the next day he was able to walk about his room.

RAYMOND.—We learn from the Exeter News-Letter, that, a few days ago, Mrs. Mary West, aged about fifty, committed suicide by drowning herself in a pond.

On the evening of April 18, the old town meeting house in Raymond, was found to be on fire. It was extinguished without much trouble. It was no doubt the work of an incendiary.

On the 22d, the barn owned by Mr. Joseph Corson, on the Abraham Leavitt place, was burned. Suspicion was fixed on a woman named Elizabeth York (formerly Smart) who was arrested, and soon confessed that she set the fire, being hired to do it by an aunt, Sally Leavitt. Both have been committed to Exeter Jail, to await trial at the proper Court.

☞ We would again call the attention of our readers to the advertisement for a Grand Musical Festival in Boston, with a programme of performances,—the price of season tickets with reserved seats, and where they can be had,—and we advise all who wish to secure a seat, to lose no time in doing so, as it is confidently believed that the spacious Music Hall will not contain one half those who may wish to attend.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Capt. Christopher T. Bailey, Superintendent of the Sailors' Home, Portland, died quite suddenly on Sunday morning, from congestion of the brain. Capt. Bailey was from Newburyport, and his remains were taken thither for interment.

☞ A man named Dyke, had his hand blown off on Monday, by a premature discharge, while engaged in blasting rocks near the ship yards in Newburyport.

GAS EXPLOSION.—On Friday afternoon, May 1, at Chicago, the new house of Arthur G. Burley, formerly of Exeter, N. H. was blown to pieces by an explosion of gas, in a way to warn gas companies and consumers. Mr. N. A. Shute, who was on the spot, says, in a letter to the News Letter:

They had no gas in the house for several days, and the Gas company had two men at work, searching out the cause; we were annoyed with the odor of the gas, which filled the lower part of the house and the parlors. The men at work on the gas, having, as they said, made it all right, told us the leak was in the fittings, and if we tried them, we should find it so. We examined the "meter" and found it all right, but there was evidently a strong leak somewhere, and I was thinking where it could be—when—I found myself in a mass of timber and mortar. The gas had exploded. Mr. S. was standing by the meter, in close proximity to the furnace which was shivered to atoms.—Every board in the floor was shivered through the basement hall, dining-room and kitchen; every register in the house was blown out, and all the windows and doors on the first floor and basement. The front part of the house and side wall were started an inch or two, and all will have to come down. "I had a lighted taper in my hand, and there was also a candle burning in the hall, which had been used there all day, and from the facts in the case, it is believed to have taken from the candle. The examination afterwards showed that the pipe which connected with the house was broken, and a volume of gas an inch in diameter, was pouring into the house, filling up under the floors and the rooms till it reached the candle. The gas company will have to pay all the damage, which will be equivalent to taking the house. Had it gone on half an hour longer and a light struck it, the whole structure must have been demolished, and not one escaped to tell the tale."

Mrs. Burley, who stood at the head of the stairs, was knocked over, but not hurt. A girl in the kitchen, was blown completely across the room, but escaped unharmed.

☞ The Sentinel, at Keene, mentions the placing in the Unitarian church, in that village, a new organ, built by Hook & Co., Boston, which cost $1000—the avails of female industry in the Rev. Mr. White's society, within the last five years.

☞ We would call the attention of our readers to the list of Boston Cards in our paper to-day. Among them may be found some of the most reliable firms in their line in that city.

☞ Mrs. Charlotte D. C. Owings, of Towsontown, Md., recently deceased, has manumitted all her slaves, and gave to some $100 per annum during life, to others $50, and to others $30.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky-Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

PRINCE & CO.'S MELODEONS.

ABOUT 20,000 of these Melodeons have been finished, and are now in use, and the present demand is greatest where they have been most thoroughly tested. The latest improvement consists of the and all Melodeons sold by us are furnished without extra charge.

PRINCE & CO'S MELODEONS have invariably received the first premium whenever exhibited in competition with others. The cases of these Instruments are made of Rosewood, in a most superior manner, and of a beautiful style of finish. The key board is precisely the same as that of the Piano Forte, and the tone is very soft and beautiful. Each Melodeon is provided with a packing case, and can be transported any distance with entire safety.

Persons who wish to thoroughly test them before purchasing, can hire them (terms $5.00 for three months), and in case of their purchasing within a specified time, the rent will be deducted. By this method every one has an opportunity to give the Instruments a thorough trial before purchasing.

Prices - - - $45, $60, $75, & $100.

THE CITY BOOK.—Looking over the City Marshal's Report for the last year, we perceive there were 488 arrests; of which exactly 200 were for drunkenness, per se; —ragrancy 78, lodgings 99, assault 21, disorderly 14, brawl and tumult 14,—i. e. 226 cases of offences, almost every one of which must have been caused by drink.—Now let us add these 226, to the 200 drunken arrests,—and we have 426 out of 488, or about 7-8ths of the whole, caused by visits to the dram shop.

A portion of these arrests, were connected with the noisy patriotic drunken celebration of the 4th of July, beginning on the night of the 3d, when the drinkers pitched into the sellers and others, with a "perfect looseness."

On the same leaf, we see a short, but interesting report from the Superintendent of the Almshouse, in which he gives the number of inmates at 87, of whom a large portion are old people.

The whole number of convicts committed to the House of Correction was 15. [This looks like a very small number in proportion to the arrests.] 5 of them paid their costs; 6 deserted, including 3 truants; and 3 were discharged by order of Mayor and Aldermen.

We consider the labor there, to be more wholesome discipline than a fine, which commonly comes out of a family!

On the the next leaf, in the Report of the fire department, we are reminded of the half dozen incendiary fires of last fall and winter, which fires were doubtless kindled by hands, which had just before been lifted to put an enemy within the mouth, to steal away the brain.

VISIONS—in the sunshine.—On Sunday morning, an old man staggered by, rather drunk;—at noon, a young man, much drunker, was led by two men, one on each hand.—Same day (invisible) some boys, probably known, stole a brass kettle from a poor, worthy old widow,—meaning, we suppose, to sell the kettle as old brass.

☞ The Worcester Bay State learns that on the occasion of a fair held in Spencer, last Wednesday night, some sixty persons were poisoned from eating ice cream. No case has proved fatal, but the physicians of the town have been kept very busy counteracting its effects. It is supposed to have been accidental.

☞ In Washington, Me., Mary A. Hoke, a young lady twenty years of age, who was suffering from a severe toothache, arose from her bed, and building a fire upon the hearth, lay down before it. In a few minutes she dropped asleep, when her clothes took fire and she was so severely burned that she died three days after.

☞ The attention of Druggists and Dealers is invited to "Costar's" Advertisement and Notice in to-day's paper. If these Remedies are what they purport to be, our druggists will find an extensive demand for them here.

THE NEW ENGLAND CHRISTIAN CONFERENCE.—This body embraces the clergy of the Church known as Christian, in the New England states, and will hold its annual session at Newburyport this week, continuing till Saturday.

AN INCIDENT.—During the recent session of the Conference of the Methodist Ministry, they were addressed by Rev. Mr. Willey of Goffstown, agent of the American Bible Society. One of the preachers arose and said he had in his keeping a bequest from a poor woman, now deceased, who resided in Keene, and in her life-time had taken a deep interest in the prosperity of the cause for distributing the Sacred Scriptures. In her last hours, she gave her only possession left after a long illness, a cage containing two beautiful canaries, as a legacy to the Bible Society—a memento of her deep feeling for the cause. The birds he had kept since November, and he now would present them in behalf of one who had gone to her final resting place.

The speaker then uncovered the birds, which restored to the sunlight sung melodiously. The effect from so simple a cause can not easily be imagined. It was suggested that the birds be sold at auction.—This was done, and with the voluntary contributions accompanying, the sum of one hundred dollars was raised as a fund given by the instrumentality of the poor sewing woman.—Manchester Amer.

NEW YORK, May 12.—A serious rebellion at Sing Sing Prison broke out on Sunday, in which nearly all the prisoners were engaged. The affair was quelled by the keepers before much damage was done.

Advices from Bahia of April 1, state that the yellow fever which had been raging so violently there, had begun to abate. Many vessels lost their whole crews.

WASHINGTON, May 10.—Mr. E. O. Perrin, of Brooklyn, formerly of Tennessee, has been offered by Gov. R. J. Walker, of Kansas, the post of private secretary, and has accepted it. He starts for Kansas, to-morrow.

E. K. AVERY.—Most of our old readers remember the excitement attending the trial of this clergyman for the alleged murder of Maria Cornell in Rhode Island, some twenty-three years ago. He was acquitted for want of positive evidence of his guilt. Mr. Avery attempted to preach after his acquittal, but public opinion compelled him to desist. He retired to his native town in Berkshire Co., Mass., where a gentleman, who met with him a few days since, informs us that he has for twenty years quietly cultivated his farm, seldom going beyond the adjacent post office, rarely attending public occasions, but taking an active interest in the prosperity of the immediate neighborhood. He has in this way gained the confidence and respect of his townsmen. A certain Boston clergyman might profit by his example.—Manchester American.

RATS, ROACHES, BED BUGS, &c.—The London Quarterly Review, the New York Daily State Register, and others, on "Costar's" Rat, Roach, &c., Exterminator, "Costar's" Bed bug Exterminator, "Costar's" Electric Powder for Ants, &c.

The London Quarterly Review contains near a column, and the New York Daily State Register of May 1st says: "No judicious house-keeper should defer purchasing a supply of these invaluable remedies for clearing their houses of all sorts of vermin. With all confidence we can recommend them as indispensable articles for every family."

The New York Journal for April has the following: "'Costar's Remedies for all domestic pests, such as rats, cockroaches, bed bugs, ants, fleas, &c., are said to be invaluable; indeed, we can speak from actual knowledge of their rare merits. The name of 'Costar' is a 'household word,' and his Depot, No. 388 Broadway, New York, is thronged by thousands daily. As the summer approaches we advise every one who would be rid of the above named pests to procure a timely supply of the Exterminator. Druggists and Dealers also should send their orders early, if they would secure a trade in articles for which there is a constant demand, and on which a fair profit may be realized.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be united to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unaccustomed persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

John G. Whittier says, in a letter alluding to the work, that "it is refreshing to read a work whose tone is so eminently healthful, inculcating a cheerful Christian morality, free alike from cant and irreverence." ☞ Orders solicited from the trade.

SCANDAL!
BY MRS. J. H. BICKFORD.
WITHOUT EXCEPTION,
The Most Interesting Interesting Book of the Season.
1 vol. 12mo., pp. 394.....Price, $1.25.
This work is not a mere repetition under a new form, of old plots, characters and incidents—but one that possesses the distinguishing characteristic of originality in all these particulars. Its subject is as universal as the air we breathe, and the evils it vividly portrays will serve as guiding lights for years of thousands who might otherwise be led to sorrowful relations with those about them. It exhibits in the broad noonday light of God's truth the Rights of Humanity—the Innate sentiment of virtue of every soul;—proves conclusively that Trials, however severe, refine the spirit, and "Ever the blight comes uppermost,
And ever is justice dead."
THE INDEPENDENT, NOBLE TONE that pervades every chapter; the
FREE UNTRAMMELLED EXPRESSION OF THOUGHT
that will distinguish it from the libraries of books now emanating from the American Press; the ENTRANCING PICTURES of the BEAUTIFUL and the VIVID CONTRAST OF RIGHT AND WRONG will at once commend the book to the HEARTS AND HOMES OF THE PEOPLE.
It needs but to be read to be admired; and wherever one reads it a score will be sure to follow. Copies of the above sent by mail (postage paid,) on receipt of the retail price.

The Great Remedy Found at Last!
VEGETABLE COMPOUND,
FOR THE PERMANENT AND SPEEDY CURE OF SCROFULA, ERYSIPELAS, SALT RHEUM, and all diseases arises from impurity of the blood, and quickly restoring the patient to almost
NEW LIFE.
This eminently successful medicine not only gives prompt relief to those who have been suffering for years from the ravages of those fell destroyers,
ERYSIPELAS, SCROFULA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS,
with their attendant evils of Dyspepsia! Pain in the Stomach, Costiveness, etc., but completely eradicates every trace of disease from the blood, and excites an invigorating influence upon the whole system.
To Bilious people this compound is of inestimable value—as it removes the bilious secretions to which most people are subject and if taken freely, no other medicine is ever needed for the purpose.
This compound has been in constant private practice for years, but has never before been offered to the public, but the steady and increasing demand is a sure proof of its value, and the proprietors feel no hesitation in offering it to
as the most potent medicine for the cure of diseases that has ever been placed before the public. It is a Vegetable Compound, and no one need have the least fear that any mineral substances are used in its production—and it is safe to be used, it would state, that every physician acquainted with the formula, freely prescribe the compound to their patients needing a remedy to invigorate the blood and eradicate humors from the system. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the virtues of this medicine, as it has been tested by so many whose certificates are attached to each bottle, who can be consulted at any time.
What it has effected once it will do again—that is, relieve the patient from disease, and restore the system to a healthy state.
Its happy effect in every class of diseases must be witnessed to be fully appreciated. It has never been used without giving prompt relief, and ultimately completely removing the patient.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Tansey & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are well protected as if they themselves were present to attend to it. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. The lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets range from $1 to $20. The tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number each ticket, ticket (after the fifteen plan) and Tersny combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100'00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Cocoas, Spices, &c.
WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.
E. E. DYER & CO.
141 Washington St., Boston.

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest cash prices.

Their Stock consists of
Teas, Coffees, Chocolates,
Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne
Pepper, Cloves, Cinnamon, Cream Tartar; Taraxacum, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 00	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Young Hyson do.	1 25	5 lb. Java do.	1 00
5 lb. Y. Hyson do.	125	8 lb. good do.	1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in ¼ and ½ lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be the purest article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 2½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as the best and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared at our Dandelion Mill, is retailed by Family Grocers generally in city and country, and bearing our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the purest article. The proportion required is only one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by druggists.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be mixed with coffee or not, as beets suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a tonic and aperient of which health is being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum bears our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which can only be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries, on the most reasonable terms. Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Patents, to determine the patentability of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but the only one through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immediately superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The annual labor bestowed upon that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as EDDY IS THE BEST PRICE FOR ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges so moderate, or the results so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States, and in Europe, enable him, on any point, question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. I have no hesitation in bearing my testimony that capacity, who has much business before the Patent office, and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard him as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 11, 1853.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. His thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, MAY 14, 1857.

THE WAY THEY GET RICH IN THE WEST. A friend of ours, says the Newburyport Herald, just returned from Kansas, where he has resided nearly two years, tells of the high prices of provisions in that region. Flour, last month, was selling at $14 per barrel, molasses $1 50 a gallon, pork 20 cents a pound, and other things at the same rate. The crops last year were poor, the winter severe, killing many cattle, and the army of emigration so large as to devour all before them. To the question how did you live?—the answer was prompt.—"Live," said he, "live on cracked corn:—corn for breakfast; corn for dinner, and corn for supper. I have just learned to live; and if I had practised here for ten years, what I was forced to do there, even at low wages, I should have been a rich man."

Here is the whole story. We complain of hard times and go West to better our condition. If we would live in a log or mud house, with one room and no floor, sleep on straw, go barefooted, wear the cheapest and coarsest clothes, and deprive ourselves of all the comforts of life, any body might squat upon two acres of common pasture, and with the same labor, be as rich in seven years as upon any half section of land in Kansas; and if there were hundreds thus squatting, they could get up a land fever, speculate in lots, and have the prices go up as they do in the West.—What people save in the new States they crush out of themselves, and that they could do anywhere. All the advantage they have, is the privilege of living as mean, and being as mean, and having their children as mean as human nature will bear, and nobody to find fault with it;—while here, living in the same manner, they would become separate from the masses, as much as the gipsies do. If any of our people wish to learn practically about this matter, let them take a view of the basket makers who drive round the country, and then go home and live with them a month in the back part of Burrington, and they will be saved the trouble of going to Kansas.

DEACON SMITH.—The Exeter News Letter has a correspondent who gives a very fair notice of Dea. Smith of Kingston.

Dea. Robert Smith is now living at Kingston, at the advanced age of 90 years, in the full possession of his mental faculties. He has attended every annual March meeting, except one, since he was twenty-one years of age, and voted for Governor; and also every town meeting for Presidential Electors. He has also been an exemplary officiating Deacon of the Congregational church more than twenty years. He has been and now is one of the most constant attendants at church of any one in K. In politics, Dea. Smith is a disciple of the Washington school, a firm advocate and supporter of the Constitution as understood by the Fathers and founders of the Republic. He voted for the J. C. Fremont electors, last November. Also for William Haile for Governor, last March, and to use his own words, he says, "that he always voted one way." Dea. Smith was the eldest son of Dr. William Smith, who was the first settled physician in Gilmanton.

DREADFUL ACCIDENT ON THE SOUTHERN MICHIGAN RAILROAD.—On Tuesday night, the 5th inst., an express train on the Southern Michigan Railroad, ran over a cow between Toledo and Adrian, throwing the tender off the track, and the first passenger car across the track. The second passenger car was then forced completely through the first car, instantly killing five persons. A gentleman and wife from Mercer county, Pa., on their way to settle in Wisconsin, together with one of their children, some eighteen months old, were among the killed. Another man, name unknown, was was killed and his body horribly mangled; he was from Wayne county, New York. Lastly, a child, some eighteen months old, of Mrs. Ellen Brown, killed in its mother's arms. Other persons were severely injured.

The Washington Star says the coachmaker in New Hampshire who lately constructed the coaches proposed to be placed on the alleged Tehuantepec transit road by the New Orleans company, has been offering them for sale to other parties.

DEATH IN THE DESERT.

Thousands of human beings have perished in crossing the great deserts of Africa and Arabia, mostly from want of water.—The following affecting narrative is from "Burden's Oriental Customs." The Circassian ladies are said to be as fair and beautiful as any in the world; but the barbarous custom has long prevailed of parents selling their fair daughters to go into the harems at Constantinople. Such is the power of custom and fashion. And they have prevailed among some other unchristianized nations.

The caravans, which convey goods backwards and forwards from Aleppo to Bagdad, and have to traverse these deserts, pay tribute to the Arabs, who consider themselves as masters of these solitudes. They have also to dread the suffocating wind, the swarms of locusts and the want of water as soon as they leave the Euphrates.—A French traveller affirms that he was witness to a scene occasioned by the want of water, the most terrible that can be imagined for a man of feeling.

It was between Anah and Dryjeh. The locusts, after they had devoured everything, at last perished. The immense numbers of dead locusts corrupted the pools, from which, for want of springs, they were obliged to draw water. The traveller observed a Turk who, with despair in his countenance, ran down a hill and came towards him. "I am," cried he, "the most unfortunate man in the world! I have purchased, at a prodigious expense, two hundred girls, the most beautiful in Greece or Georgia. I have educated them with care, and now that they are marriageable I am taking them to Bagdad to sell them to advantage. Ah! they perish in this desert for thirst; but I feel greater tortures than they." The traveller immediately ascended the hill; a dreadful spectacle here presented itself to him.

In the midst of twelve eunuchs and a about a hundred camels he saw these beautiful girls, of the age of twelve to fifteen, stretched upon the ground, exposed to the torments of a burning thirst and inevitable death. Some were already in a pit, which had just been made; a greater number had dropped down dead by the side of their leaders, who had no more strength to bury them. On all sides were heard the sighs of the dying, and the cries of those, who, having some breath remaining, demanded in vain a drop of water.

The French traveller hastened to open his leathern bottle, in which there was a little water, to present it to one of these unhappy victims. "Madman!" cried his Arabian guide, "would then also have us perish from thirst?" He immediately killed the girl with an arrow, seized the bottle, and threatened to kill any one who should venture to touch it. He advised the slave merchant to go to Dryjeh, where he would find water. "No," replied the Turk; "at Dryjeh the robbers would take away all my slaves." The Arab dragged the traveller away. The moment they were retiring, these unhappy victims, seeing the last ray of hope vanish, raised a dreadful cry.

The Arab was moved with compassion—took one of them, poured a drop of water on her burning lips, and set her upon his camel, with the intention of making his wife a present of her. The poor girl fainted several times, when she passed the bodies of her companions who had fallen down dead in the way. Our traveller's small stock of water was nearly exhausted, when they found a fine well of fresh water. They at last arrived at the first station in Syria.

On the coast of Sumatra, fathers sometimes sell their own children to the Japanese; but by the laws of Japan, no native of that kingdom can be a slave.

The people of England are exerting a mighty influence to put an end to the Circassian slave trade, as well as the traffic in human flesh elsewhere; but the people of the United States ought to be foremost in the great battle in favor of humanity.—The combined efforts of christianized, civilized nations would seem to be sufficient to abolish a trade which would be a disgrace to the darkest ages of the world.

The slave dealer is debased so low in character, that savage hearts of the forest ought to be ranked higher in the scale of existence. We may feel an instinctive horror at the character of the Tartar who caused the death of 200 females in the desert. But was his character more infamous or sinful than that of other traders? The motive of avarice impelled him, as it does all other slave traders, to commit crime.

BUXANNIT.

☞ At Canton, Md., Mrs. Lucinda Sapp, wife of Mr. Washington Sapp, who resides near the line of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, where the North Point road crosses it, was sitting at her door while the cars were approaching. She saw a female sitting upon the rail of the road, and ran for her rescue. She succeeded in extricating the woman from her perilous position, but was herself, by an over-balance, unfortunately thrown forward, and being struck by the locomotive on the forhead, was killed almost instantly.

☞ Mr. Galen Hamlet, of Milford, N. H., has a heifer, not quite two years old, which weighs 956 lbs. She is of a red chestnut color, well proportioned and as pretty as a picture, and the Republican thinks can't be beat.

THE CROPS.—The Baltimore American is in receipt of recent reports of the grain and fruit crops from nearly every portion of Maryland, and says that in spite of many previous unfavorable circumstances and much alarm, there is a prospect of a good crop of both.

The Cincinnati Gazette says that if not destroyed by a very late frost, the fruit crop of that region will be very abundant. The late spring will prove of great advantage, for it has kept back blossoms till they can expand with safety. The same account is given by the Cleveland Herald, and also by the Indianapolis (In.) Journal.

The latest accounts from Texas are more favorable for the growing crops. Fine rains have been experienced at Houston, and it is believed they have been general. Accounts from the counties adjoining Houston indicate that the injury by recent frosts was much over-rated. It is now said that the spring wheat has suffered very little, if any, and that winter wheat will probably make half a crop. All the winter wheat that was not what is called "out of the boot," has been damaged very little by the frost. Matagorda and La Grange papers represent the weather, as still cold, and unpropitious for the crops. The most crop this year in Texas, will be very limited, the frost having three times destroyed the acorn crop.

☞ Rev. Joseph Wolff, in an eccentric letter recently published, says that a society in London has worked nearly fifty years and spent nearly £500,000, and yet has converted "only two Jews and a half."

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street lately, that the New Store, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

☞ Rev. Geo. B. Jewett, formerly of Nashua, N. H., now of Salem, Mass., has commenced a suit in the latter city against the Concord Railroad, with damages laid at $40,000, for injuries received at Nashua in 1855, while crossing the track in a chaise. His wife lost a hand, and their son was killed; and Mr. J. himself was terribly and permanently injured.

THE SPIRIT LAKE MASSACRE.—The Minnesota Pioneer of 3d inst., publishes the official report to the Governor of Iowa, of Major Williams of Fort Dodge, Iowa, who commanded the volunteers sent by the Governor to check the outrages of the Sioux Indians at the Spirit Lake settlements. The number of persons slaughtered is stated at forty-one; twelve are missing and four badly wounded. Several others were badly wounded. The Indians probably had fifteen or twenty of their number killed and several wounded. The Indians have all been driven out of the north part of the State. Fourteen men of the expedition were badly frozen, and two were frozen to death.

FROST.—There was a slight frost on some of the lowlands in this and the neighboring towns, Monday night, which, however, did not do any injury. Vegetation is not sufficiently advanced, to be affected by frost. It is a noteworthy fact that in four years out of five we have frost in this latitude, on one or more nights from the 11th to the 15th of May, after which, frost seldom occurs.

LOCAL.

For the Chronicle.

A WALK ABOUT TOWN.

Prompted by the recent fine weather, I have enjoyed many short walks in various directions diverging from Market Square.

Everything looks fresh and clean in the compact part of our city, with the exception of the streets. These last are deplorably dusty, and a sprinkler would do no harm in Market street, or any other street where the loose dust is detrimental to the goods exposed for sale. A few of the back streets need to be cleansed, but no doubt the city authorities will attend to that.

A few horse chestnut and maple trees have sent forth their leaves, and here and there a cherry tree may be seen in blossom. The backwardness, however, so far from being interpreted unfavorably, is considered a "good sign" by those who are wise above their neighbors.

An unhealthy stillness reigns in our city during that part of the day when it should resound with ring of the anvil, the clang of the hammer, the rattling of wheels, and other sounds of that class. Indeed, unless one heard the cars or factory bell they might be led to suppose it was Sunday.—But when the sun goes down, lo! what a change! Myriads of loafers, rowdies, and perhaps even worse, come forth from their abodes and infest Congress street its entire length, chewing, smoking, spitting, swearing, and making such remarks as induce ladies to avoid this thoroughfare as much as possible.

But little life is manifest among shipping interests. But three ships and one schooner are on the stocks, with not much prospect of more until some favorable turn is given to the business.

At the Navy Yard all is quiet, the remodelling of a timber-slip and a little work on the Franklin being the principal active operations, though we may expect some repairs to be made on the Vandalia, as she is now high in the yard. An object worthy the attention of every one is the splendid steam engine in the building near the Dry Dock.

Slowly, but surely, civilization creeps to the westward and northward of our city, and new buildings are constantly being erected on the two great avenues which lead in those directions. We perceive workmen busy erecting a tower on the Franklin School-house, Christian Shore, to receive a fire-bell, an institution much needed in that part of the city.

But in all my wanderings, nothing pleased me more than to perceive the setting out of trees in Auburn street. This was commenced a few days since, under direction of Messrs. Treadwell and Richards, and up to Wednesday noon, nearly fifty trees had been set out. Each tree is well protected by two large posts, and four cross pieces. This will be a great relief, in summer to pedestrians, in this much frequented, but hitherto much neglected avenue of communication between the city of the living and that of the dead. A large ornamental iron gate has taken the place of the old fashioned one which formerly stood at the entrance of the Auburn Street Cemetery. o.

☞ We learn that Mr. John F. Patten, who has for several years been employed as a teacher in our public schools, and for the last two years as Principal of the Haven Grammar school, at the South End, has resigned his charge, and closed his connexion with that school on Wednesday. The reason for this step is, Mr. Patten calls for his salary to be increased to as large a sum as the other teachers of similar schools in this city are receiving; and the Committee decline raising it.

Mr. Patten has been held in high esteem by his scholars generally, and they are sorry to part with him. As a mark of regard, and a memento, they have presented him with a large and splendidly bound Family Bible, and a neat Porte-Monnaie, with other small tokens of good feeling towards him.

The School has a vacation for the present.

STOLEN GOODS.—In the Police Court, at Manchester, May 2, Wm. H. Knox, a boy, was accused of stealing three boxes of tobacco,—and was bound over for trial, at the S. J. Court, in $100 bonds. George O. Taylor, a man who keeps a boarding house, was also convicted of receiving one box of the stolen tobacco; and the justice fined him $10, costs $5,59; and doomed him to pay $18,65 for the tobacco. He appealed;—but as he is worse than the boys, it is to be hoped the jury and higher court will put it on harder. It was in evidence that Taylor encouraged the boys in their thefts.

Apropos of stolen goods,—it is unquestionable that recent thefts in this city, perpetrated by boys, were encouraged and stimulated by men, the purchasers of their spoils for a trifle. This purchase, of course, is made by a man who knows better.

CONFLICT OF DUTIES, OR LAWS.—It is well known that the Act for the Suppression of Intemperance in New Hampshire, makes selling, or keeping liquors with intent to sell, a penal offence. But a liquor seller fails; his goods are attached, and the sheriff must sell them. Here is a conflict of duties enjoined by statute,—in which the officer must exercise his discretion, and take the responsibility; looking on both sides, he takes the course which he deems the safest, or least dangerous.

☞ We notice by the papers, that many who have been "out West," are glad to return to New England. Among others, we are glad that some of our Portsmouth boys have got back. This Western bubble will burst by-and-by, as all similar effervescences must. Then, look out!

☞ Mr. George Whitehouse has been appointed Master Mason at the Navy Yard, in place of Samuel Spinney, Esq.

MEETINGS AT NEW YORK.—On Tuesday morning, the American Anti-Slavery Society commenced its session. Mr. Garrison presided, and introduced a series of resolutions of the usual denunciatory character. Speeches were made by Rev. T. W. Higginson, Wendell Phillips, Parker Pillsbury, Lucy Stone Blackwell, and others.—The annual report shows the receipts to have been $38,162 66, expenditures $33,-970 12. The meeting continues to-night and to-morrow.

The Anniversary Meeting of the American and Foreign Christian Union was held. The annual report shows a balance in the treasury of $4174, and speaks of the prospects in both foreign and home departments as more encouraging than ever before.

A DESPERATE FELLOW.—Hawkins, who was arrested in Estilli county, Ky., some weeks ago, on a charge of horse stealing, and who was placed on a horse behind the Sheriff, with a man along as a guard, managed to draw a revolver from the breast coat pocket of the Sheriff, and killed both of his captors. There was a report that Hawkins had been taken out of jail and hanged by a mob; but that was incorrect. He was tried, found guilty of murder, and sentenced to be hung on Friday, May 29. He is said to have married five wives, and is barely twenty-one years old.

ANOTHER SLAVE CASE DECISION.—The Ohio Supreme Court has just decided that a negro owned by a man living in Kentucky, near the Ohio river, and who was frequently sent across the river into Ohio by his master to transact business for him, was thereby made a free man. The master had agreed to give the slave his freedom for the sum of $400, for which the negro executed notes with sufficient sureties. When one of these notes became due, payment was refused, and the master brought an action to recover of the sureties. The suit was contested on the ground that the negro was already free before the notes were given, by having been brought or sent into Ohio by his master, and therefore there was no consideration for the notes. The Supreme Court decided that his position was well taken, and that the sending or carrying a slave into Ohio makes him free. This, it will seem, conflicts with the recent decision of Judge Taney.—Boston Journal.

FROM ITALY—The Grape Crop.—The following is from the London Atheneum.

"In a letter from a friend in Naples on vines, mines, and fiery craters, we have the following:

The crops look in a most healthy state, and the vines have not presented so healthy an appearance for several years; the buds thrown out are full and many, and it has not escaped attention that the roses and grasses, which at this season during several years have been afflicted by the vine disease, are now perfectly free. The Intendants of Provinces are, however, sending around printed directions for the use of sulphur, but many people, after several trials, do not mean to repeat it this year. They grant the fruit is saved, but they add that the wine made from the sulphured fruit is not drinkable. Such an opinion is expressed by the wine-sellers of Ischia, where a large quantity of wine was made last year under the influence of sulphur."

A SPICY REPORT.—"How do you find my dress?" asked a charming daughter of Albion whose hoops actually reached the limit of the possible, of Lord X.—"Exquisitely handsome," answered the gallant and fashionable officer, "it brings back to my mind some of the sweetest recollections of my life."—"This is gratifying, indeed," whispered the English marvelluse, using very adroitly one of those pretty fans which are called Victoria fans, because the Queen resorted to one in looking at a hazardous picture which King Leopold of Belgium has had sent to Prince Albert; "will it not be indiscreet to ask the name of the beautiful being whom I have the advantage of resembling?"

"Not at all," replied the hero (style of the London Times,) "it is the Crimean tent under which I spent many days, never to be forgotten, on the Heights of Balaklava." Here the conversation ended, and I fancy it will not be taken up again.—London Letter.

At an Old Folks concert in East Wilton, N. H., Mr. Caleb Putnam, about 80 years of age, led the choir.

FROM CALIFORNIA.

NEW ORLEANS, May 13.—Steamer Prometheus, from Havana, brings California dates of the 20th. The steamer George Law left Aspinwall on the evening of the 4th, with $1,700,000 in treasure.

News from California unimportant.

Gen. Walker had evacuated Rivas, and was on board a British man-in-war at San Juan.

WASHINGTON, May 12.

Pierre Soule and Col. Slater are here, from New Orleans, conferring with the government in regard to Nicaragua. They say that Walker's position is not so desperate as has been stated. It is hinted that a great Southern demonstration in his favor is contemplated.

Letters were received to-day from the private Secretary of Col. McCullough, intimating that he will accept the Governorship of Utah.

May 13.—A tremendous hail storm occurred near Camden, Arkansas, which destroyed the crops, one half of the wheat up being lost.

Flour had risen to $14 a $15.

ARRESTS ON SUSPICION OF MURDER.—Danville, Pa., May 12.—There is much excitement here, relative to the death of Catherine Ann Clark, by poison, supposed to have been administered by her husband, William Clark. The body had been exhumed, and an analysis is going on, by direction of the coroner. Mrs. Twiggs has been arrested as an accomplice of Clark.—Her husband died suddenly three weeks ago under similar circumstances. His body will also be exhumed for examination. It is supposed that a criminal connection existed between Mrs. Twiggs and Mr. Clark.

☞ Gov. Walker of Kansas, made a very promising speech after dinner on the 12th, at the Astor House, New York,—showing how fairly he is to let the people vote on the Constitution.

☞ It has been decided by law, that conductors on railroads may charge extra fare, if tickets are not bought before entering the cars.

☞ Mr. Barnum is lecturing in England in favor of the Maine liquor law.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public than it met with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the excellence of the article. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle. As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Tansey & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with these lotteries is strictly honorable, liberal and fair, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the attention of the public is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. The lottery is drawn every day of the week. The particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are sent out unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertany combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100'00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

WHOLESALE,—AND ALSO IN SMALL PACKAGES.
E. E. DYER & CO.
(Sign of the Cinnamon grinding Coffee,)
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest cash prices.
Their Stock consists of
Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Pepper, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Tarragon, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having their orders promptly and genuine as they are put up carefully, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following scale of prices, viz:

5 lb. Souchong Tea,	1 50	5 lb. Mocha Coffee,	1 00
5 lb. Oolong do	1 75	5 lb. Java do	1 00
5 lb. Y. Hyson do	2 25	5 lb. good do	1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in 2 and 5 lb. tin cases, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be of the article, and only need a trial to establish them in public favor.

SPANISH COFFEE—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with particular care, and by a peculiar process in roasting, one pound of this coffee, it is believed, is equal to 1½ lb. of any other.

DANDELION COFFEE. This article is carefully prepared at our Mills, and put up in packages having our trade mark, and may be relied upon as being a pure and most approved mixture of dandelion and coffee.

TARAXACUM, or Prepared Dandelion Root.—This article is prepared and roasted at our Mills, in retailed by Druggists and Grocers generally throughout the United States and Canada, and bearing our trade mark, "Cinnamon grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the genuine article. The proprietors have been about one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to be the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by importers.

The medical properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who know its value, being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, and to be mixed with coffee or not, as best suits the taste, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of this Root being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c., &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Taraxacum bears our trade mark, "Cinnamon grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Taraxacum, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system; and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an practice of nearly twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers, connected with Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions.—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting one Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, not pertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITIES, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services as moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions upon patents, which, with his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay, there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I acted as the chief of the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, more busy in that capacity, who had so much business before the patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the best, most faithful and skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

ABOVE 17, 1856.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

☞ Among the works recently published in London, is one entitled "The Mormons; the Dream and the reality; or Leaves from the Sketch-book of Experience of One who left England to join the Mormons in the City of Zion, and awoke to a consciousness of its Heinous Wickedness and Abominations." Edited by a Clergyman. The author is one "who formerly held a fair position in England, as a tradesman, and who sacrificed all to go to the promised land of beauty and plenty," and did not find his virtue adequately rewarded. Disgusted with difficulties and hardships for which no previous training had fitted him, the "tradesman" in question recovered a modicum of common sense, and saw the religion of Mormonism just as he might have seen it in the beginning. The work is said to be a perfect puddle of weakness and imbecility.

Another work recently published is entitled "Kansas; or Squatter Life and Border Warfare in the Far West," by Thomas H. Gladstone. This work has been republished in this country, by Miller & Co. It gives anything but a pleasing picture of the state of society in Kansas. The author describes the border ruffians very minutely. He speaks of bands of patriots who scoured the country, the badges of the party being a bunch of hemp at the button-hole, or, "a pole about five feet high, stuck upright at the front of the wagon; on its top an inverted empty whiskey-bottle; across the stick at right angles a bowie knife; a black cambric flag, with a death's head and bones daubed on it in white paint, and a long streamer of beautiful glossy Missouri hemp floated from the pole, and a powder horn hanging loosely by it."

Commonwealth v. Margaret Fitzgerald, appellant, of East Stoughton, for a violation of the liquor law. She was convicted on four complaints.

Commonwealth v. James W. Reed, appellant, of Randolph, for a violation of the liquor law. Verdict guilty on the fourth count in the indictment.

Commonwealth v. Jeremiah Gullivan, appellant, of Quincy, for violating the Statute of the Commonwealth in relation to the sale of intoxicating liquors. Verdict guilty on two separate sales.

LINES,

SUGGESTED BY THE DEATH OF ROLAND G. USHER.

The lov'd one sleeps in death!
How tranquil and how blest;
Death's signet seal is on his brow,
His eyes are closed in darkness now,—
Rest, loved one, rest.

Gone, ere his youthful heart
The pang of sorrow knew,
While all around was life and light,
And hopes and joys were pure and bright,
As morning dew:

Before temptation's lure
Had thrown around his way
Its wily charms, that oft beguile;
And bland deceit's insidious smile,
To lead astray.

Gone from his happy home,
A mother's tender care,
A father's, brother's, sister's love,
To join that peerless choir above,—
A seraph there.

Why thus so early called?
Why thus the fond hearts riven?
Ere clouds had dimm'd his morning sun,
His mission here on earth was done,—
Began in Heaven.

Bright angels from the sky,
On viewless wings they come,
And whisper, as they 're bending low,
A little while before you go,
We bear him home.

When sorrow o'er the heart
Its shadowy wing has swept,
When death has laid our lov'd ones low,
"Tis right affection's tear should flow,
For "Jesus wept."

Yet, 'mid thy grief and pain,
Faith bids thy heart rejoice;
And list! for with thy spirit-ear,
In seraph-strains o'en now thou 'lt hear
His angel voice.

To that bright, better land,
Where parted friends will come,
Safe from the threat'ning storms of time,
To life immortal and sublime,
God called him home.

The name of the new Chinese Commissioner, Mr. Reed, is said to be totally unpronounceable in Chinese, the sound of the letters r and d being unknown in that language. Lo or Lo-el is the nearest approximation they can make to speaking it. A correspondent of the New York Herald therefore says, and no doubt truly, that instantly when the Chinese, who are fond of jokes, discover that Reed is the synonym of Bamboo, an article they are well acquainted with, they will name the new functionary Mr. Commissioner "Bamboo."

"Come in Joe, and let 's drink."
"No, Thomas, I can't afford it."
"Well, but Joe, I'll pay for it."
"Oh, I am not speaking of loss of money, Thomas, but of loss of health and energy, moral principle, character peace of mind, self respect and sweet breath."

FRIDAY, MAY 15, 1857.

THE ROMAN PONTIFF.

We are not of the number who profess to feel a great alarm lest the absurd and superstitious doctrines of the Papal See should prevail over the pure principles of christianity in this country. We agree rather with the venerable Dr. Lyman Beecher, who had no fears of the spread of Popery so long as we can combat it with reason. We do not suppose that Pope Pius the ninth has two horns or a dragon's tail. But with all his ostensible humility, he possesses more than ordinary talents, and an unbounded ambition. He is now struggling to extend his spiritual dominion over the world. His recent success in in Austria, according to the Edinburgh Review of 1856, is sufficient to attract the public attention. The people in many parts of the German empire are well educated and enlightened. After the Papal power had, in past ages, been overthrown in Germany and the Reformation succeeded, we hardly expected, at this age of light, to see the proud Austrian empire prostrated at the feet of the aspiring Pope.

But such is the fact. How can it be accounted for? According to Kossuth, the present Emperor of Austria is a very imbecile and weak Prince,—is a Catholic, and no doubt, superstitious. He has become the humble tool of Pope Pius,—has ratified what is called the "Austrian Concordat," by which he has given his unconditional recognition to a theory fatal to his own rights, and those of the people in the Austrian Empire. Should this base submission be carried out to its full extent, the Pope, not the Prince, would virtually rule the empire which includes Hungary. There would be a reversion back to the period preceding the reformation of Luther and Calvin.

A question arises, whether the Austrians, especially one-half the Hungarians opposed to Catholicism, will passively submit to such betrayal of their rights by the Emperor. We can hardly believe that even the Catholics would consent to be governed by a foreigner. But should the population, generally, not resort to a revolutionary movement in order to be reinstated in their religious freedom, it would afford strong evidence of a general state of ignorance.

The policy of the present Pope is aggressive. He is resolved to carry on the operations of the church militant, whether in countries subservient to his will or repugnant to his authority. The Austrian concordat is the most conspicuous example of this policy, for it puts on record principles as absolute as those contended for in the darkest ages, and throws aside that affected moderation, in which Rome has of late disguised her claims; and challenges the temporal powers that rule the world to open warfare. ?.

TRACT SOCIETY.—On Wednesday, at New York, the American Tract Society held its annual session, and the reports submitted showed it to be in a flourishing condition. The Committee of Investigation into the proceedings of the Executive Committee reported that the interests of the society have been attended to with fidelity and devotedness. On the subject of slavery they reported resolutions to the effect, that its political aspects lie entirely without the proper sphere of the society, and cannot be discussed in its publications; but, that those moral duties which grow out of the existence of slavery as well as those moral evils and vices which it is known to promote, and which are condemned in Scripture, and so much deplored by evangelical Christians, undoubtedly do fall within the province of the society, and can and ought to be discussed in a fraternal and Christian spirit.

It is said this report was received with great applause and unanimously accepted.

The officers of last year were reelected, and an executive committee chosen. The balance in the treasury is nearly $4000.

CONCORD, N. H.—We learn from the Independent Democrat that on the 9th of May, before the Police Court, Dudley S. Folsom was arraigned for keeping liquors for sale at the Union Hotel in Concord, and plead not guilty. After a of hearing the evidence, on the part of the prosecution, which proved two or three sales of liquor by Folsom, and after argument, His Honor ordered that the respondent recognize to the Supreme Judicial Court in the sum of $200,00.

There was a shower of hail at Derry and Londonderry, New Hampshire, Sunday afternoon.

KANSAS MATTERS.

The Kansas correspondent of the Chicago Tribune gives the following account of a "passage at arms" between Secretary Stanton and the citizens of Lawrence, during Stanton's address at Lawrence. Stanton said the Federal laws must be obeyed, and he had come to see them enforced.

"The audience responded, 'that's right, we'll help you enforce them; they shall have our cordial support.' 'And the enactments of the Territorial (bogus) legislature must also be obeyed,' added the Secretary!

'Never!' 'Never!' 'Never!' 'Never!' broke out from every part of the audience.

'Then you and I,' continued Mr. Stanton, growing much excited and looking very pale, 'are at war upon this point; but I shall spill every drop of blood in my body but what the laws shall be enforced.'

'Can't do it, old fellow;' 'Like to see you try;' 'Go on,' and 'Pitch in,' responded the auditory.

'Remember,' said the speaker, 'we under stand each other, and there will be war to the knife unless you come under.'

'Come on, then,' said an old man, drawing his knife, 'if you want to try that game.'

'I did not come armed,' resumed Mr. Stanton, 'and I have neither a revolver nor bowie knife about me—nothing but this, (showing a small penknife.) for I thought my life would not be endangered in Lawrence. [Cries of 'Bah!' 'O pshaw!' and 'Humbug!'] But it will be useless for you to attempt to resist the authorities, for you will not be fighting with the Missourians nor the border ruffians, but with the mighty and irresistible Federal Government itself. Yes, the United States forces will compel you to succumb.'

Great excitement ensued hereupon—the audience hissing, laughing and exclaiming, 'Come on with the troops;' 'We are ready to fight with the Federal Government; it is the biggest border ruffian we have.'

Gov. Robinson at last came forward; begged his hearers to let Mr. Stanton proceed, and to answer him when he finished.

Mr. Stanton, having cooled down a little, in recommencing asked his hearers if they would pay taxes to the territorial (bogus) officers.

'Never!' they replied. No bogus officers shall come about us. We will pay taxes to the United States officers, and to no one else.

Mr. Stanton then urged the Free State men to vote for delegates to the Constitutional Convention.

'No list has been taken,' said one of the audience, 'and therefore we are not qualified electors.'

Mr. S. Go to the Probate Judge and get your names inserted.

Free State Speaker. We have no Probate Judge to go to. Now what do you advise us to do?

Mr. S. I don't know: you are a queer set, and I can't understand you.

Mr. Stanton continued his speech, treating of general topics, and finally closed by reading a passage from Hiawatha, in which the Indians are exhorted to wash the war paint from their faces, and smoke the pipe of peace.

The address was a most unfortunate production from beginning to end, and has lost Mr. Stanton the respect and regard of all free state men. It was illy calculated to harmonize political differences, and, on the contrary has excited a degree of bitter animosity against him personally, embittered the people of Lawrence against the National Administration, and prejudiced their minds fearfully against the new Governor. The citizens feel as if the old policy of Pierce was about to be inaugurated anew, and they are resolved on taking up arms before submitting to the infamous thraldom that Secretary Stanton threatens to impose upon them. I very much fear that he will prove another Woodson, and that Buchanan will turn out even worse than Pierce.

Gov. Walker had better hurry out to Kansas. Mr. Stanton is playing the devil generally, and, if allowed to rule for a few months, would be sure to get up another civil war. I don't know but what Walker desires this, but I want to see him know his hand and speak for himself. 'Stanton' stock is away below par, and no power on earth can raise it.

There is a diversity of sentiment at present existing in the proslavery ranks. One set are desirous of adopting a Slave Constitution without submitting it to the people, while another set wish to submit the single clause of Slavery or Freedom. Both agree, however, in the policy of organizing a State Government at the proslavery Constitutional Convention, and thereby secure the State offices, as well as the U. S. Senators. For they imagine that Congress will admit Kansas with the Constitution they may adopt, and the moment she is admitted the State Government will go into operation. No one believes that if the question of slavery be submitted to the people that a free expression of opinion from the actual settlers will be allowed. The Convention will probably adopt the 'register law' game, or some other equally infamous restriction by which the will of the people can be successfully thwarted. Secretary Stanton is said to be involved in this plot, and that he aspires to climb, thereby, into the U. S. Senate."

A correspondent of the Boston Traveller, writing from Lawrence April 27th, states that subsequently some persons invited Stanton to an oyster supper, accompanied with liquors, to which fifty men sat down, "and the Border Ruffian representatives got gloriously drunk, in which disgraceful feat they were accompanied by some Free State men who ought to have known better. * * * Stanton got very drunk, and grossly insulted Mrs. Gates, the hostess of the Cincinnati House. The boys could hardly be prevented from kicking him out."

FRUIT.—The press and horticulturalists in Cleaveland, Louisville, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, and other places in the West, predict a large yield of peaches and other fruit the ensuing season.

FAILURE.—The failure of MESSRS. Levi Cook & Co., long known as dealers in combs, threads, and other "Yankee notions," is announced in New York.

NEW YORK, 14th.—The Home Missionary Society last evening adopted a report, declaring the intention of the society to deny aid to churches containing slaveholding members, except under certain conditions.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the neat and manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as through such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No. 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads, but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, May 14.

Before Justice Odell.—James Sullivan was accused of assault and battery, on Julia Shea,—found guilty, fined $6, costs 4.80; bound in fifty dollars to keep the peace. Went to jail.

James Donovan, for being drunk in Hanover street, was sentenced to hard labor in the House of Correction 20 days; costs 2.92.

Andrew Dorothy, for being drunk in Bow street, was sentenced to hard labor in the House of Correction, for ten days; costs 3.86.

☞ About four hundred men are now employed at our Navy Yard. Operations are commenced on the Vandalia, which is to be new planked and covered. A gang of men are excavating around the Dry Dock in order to surround the masonry with a wall of brick and cement, thus rendering the basin tight. A new building is being erected for the Ordnance Department, and a shell house is shortly to be built near the magazine. Parallel rows of dressed granite, on a good foundation, are being laid for the reception of the great guns. A splendid iron fence is taking the place of the old wooden one in front of the officers' quarters, and will, when finished, greatly improve the appearance of this portion of the yard.

DOGS.—Messrs. Editors:—On Monday afternoon, a beautiful little girl, daughter of Capt. John B. Haley of this city, was bitten by a dog belonging to Capt. John E. Salter,—while at play in that gentleman's yard. I send you this notice, that you may speak a word or two, in reference to keeping such dogs, and permitting them to run at large. T.

We know nothing of the facts in the case, but presume they are as stated by T. There are a thousand and one useless good-for-noth ing dogs about town—an expensive nuisance, barking and biting; but it does seem as though a man has a right to keep a dog, never so savage, in his own yard, though generally we can't see the utility of it.

☞ A boy in one of the public schools of Newark, N. J., was whipped a few days since by the teacher, who held his head downward between his knees, while he inflicted the punishment. The holding the head downward created a rush of blood to the head, causing brain fever, and death a few days afterwards.

☞ A Mrs. Dugan, living on Main street, Watertown, was so severely burned on Friday night of last week, that she died on Tuesday at the State Almshouse in Tewksbury, whither she had been removed. While under the influence of liquor, she had retired to bed with her two children, leaving a lamp burning in a chair. The light set the bed-clothes on fire, which communicated to her person.

☞ The fact that the deaths exceed the number of births in France, and that at present the population is actually diminishing, although emigration has almost entirely ceased, is exciting much discussion as to causes and consequences.

The lottery venders arrested in Boston, were brought before the Police Court on Wednesday afternoon. O. D. Myrick, who appears to be the chief agent, was bound over in the sum of $4000 for trial in the Municipal Court, and the other parties in $2000 each. Myrick had in his possession about 1400 tickets of the Delaware State Lottery.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacture of Gin, I fortunately succeeded in the year 1843, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Junipor Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is German for Pale-Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c, and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unaccustomed persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

Is shown by the Records of the Custom House to be the only London Cordial Gin IMPORTED and sold in bottles; all others are made here in imitation of it.

It is a delicious tonic beverage, and by its peculiar flavor (so different from other gins) is universally esteemed by all who use it. It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and so also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Franck & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are protected as if they were themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled from the next drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '96. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

TRUE MANHOOD.

A DISCOURSE,—BY REV. A. J. PATTERSON.

Delivered before the Portsmouth Young Men's Christian Association, Sunday Evening, May 10th, 1857.

"Show thyself a man."—1*st Kings, II, 2d.*

These words are the utterance of David.—He was about to relinquish entirely the government of Israel which he had so successfully administered for two score years. The kingdoms of this world were receding from his vision—"the land of the hereafter" was bending toward his sight. Yet ere the old king passed to the unseen and eternal, he turned one yearning thought toward the people whom he had served so faithfully, and, that he might confer still larger benefits upon them, he called to his dying side, Solomon, his son and annointed successor, and charged him, as an individual responsible for the use of his natural gifts, and as the ruler of a great nation, to show himself a man.

The foibles of his own earlier days, which had wrung from his experienced heart such bitter anguish, well fitted him for an instructor in the only sure path to happiness, and prosperity, and honor. He would have Solomon, true to the dignity of his humanity, and thereby avoid the snares which had compassed and chained full often his own feet. Aware of the struggle of ambition in the young heart, he gave it a safe boundary and a sure check. Not too luxuriant would it become, if the elements of manhood were harmoniously developed. Aware of the influence of kingly conduct upon the nation, he aimed at the prosperous happiness of each subject when he imparted such admonition to their ruler. Aware also of the keen edge of that sure individual retribution, which is the portion of his experience who perverts his native manhood, and lives a lie to the world and an enemy to himself, he aimed at the highest good of his beloved son when he charged him to show himself a man. No extraneous greatness could compensate for the lack of great and noble principles. Though all the kingdoms of the earth should serve and obey Solomon, he felt that he would be but a miserable wreck of the possibilities of his nature, if he neglected to cultivate these. Instead of the rounded harmony for which he was capacitated, a miserable deformity would stand as a witness to his disobedience to the charge to show himself a man. And thus with the view of enhancing individual excellence, and thereby purifying individual influence, king David with his large experience framed the language of our text.

We are not of course gathering counsel for the aspirants to a throne of rulership. We do not expect that any of these young men, whom it is our privilege to address to-night, will ever wear the crown of a kingdom, or sport with its sceptre. But we have taken the advice to a king for our theme, that by urging its obedience we may point the way to a throne worthier your endeavors, than such an one as Solomon succeeded to; to the attainment of a better than golden crown, to the sway of a more potent than kingly sceptre.

The throne to which we would point your noble aspirations, is the throne of self government. Its inseparable crown is that which St. James calls the "crown of life." The sceptre which you will then naturally and perhaps unconsciously wield, will be the influence of a true and worthy manhood.

First then let us speak of the throne. When we look into the volume of our individuality, we see physical powers, intellectual capacity and moral sentiments. These are the original elements of earthly manhood, correctly blended and properly adjusted by the hand of infinite skill and kindness. To train and cultivate harmoniously, these constituent elements, is the duty of every human being. The body, this curious mechanism which we inhabit, has noble uses and deserves care and attention. As the organism through which the inner life is manifested, we should guard well its necessities, that it may fully perform its intended office-work. Every violation of its laws, cripples the activity of the life within. To become indeed the exemplification of our possibilities, we must have vigorous and healthful bodies. Any habit which infringes upon the regular working of the machine, which weakens its functions, has a corresponding effect upon the manifestation of the essential life. If the body is worn or diseased, all the efforts of intellect will be colored by its weakness, all the native aspirations of the moral nature will feel the weight of the gloom imposed by it, and they too will be sickly and dwarfed.

It is then, a duty to care for the body, to feed and clothe it, to avoid any appetite or passion detrimental to its proper use, and to promote its healthful action to the best of our ability.

But the body is only an instrument, and should be cared for as such. It should claim no more attention, than will fit it for its sphere. It must not be petted and nursed as the all of man. Each unnecessary appropriation to it, occupies time and attention which belong to the soul. We may adorn the exterior with all that is fair and beautiful, but if the life within is a barren waste, or a garden of weeds, there will be no real loveliness about the man. We shall soon tire of his fine form and splendid trappings, if they seek to hide an uncultivated mind, and a loose morality. Though noble and symmetrical in its beautiful proportions, though the fairest material type of God's creating skill, it is nevertheless, a subordinate creation, and can bear no possible comparison to the life which animates it. The body is of dust. Its origin is earthly; its elements perishable; and its final dissolution unavoidable. All its appropriations and necessities are likewise perishable. The costly apparel with which we adorn it, the elements which minister to its appetites, are of the earth, and unto dust must they too return.

The soul is of God; created in his image, and partaker of his unfailing essential life. Age cannot write wrinkles upon it, time cannot dissolve its essence; death can have no dominion over it. Each instrumentality of culture and development, which we martial in the service of this mystesious guest, is doing a labor of love for all coming time; is contributing to the wealth of an undying life. Not only is the life that now is, rendered a 'path of pleasantness" and peace, by sowing to the spirit, but the growth in grace is a growth for Eternity.

Each victory over temptation, each performance of right, strengthens and enlarges powers of unlimited expansion, and becomes the precious freightage which we bear up to the gate of immortality, and through eternity. Of what incalculable importance then, that we make the material organization but the minister to larger necessities; That we care for it, only as the instrumentality of the soul's action, while to the soul, we give our major attention, as the object of our highist aims, the minister of our holiest joys.

And in the culture of the soul, the same discreet care must be extended, that the intellect and heart may grow together; that knowledge may not outstrip excellence of life. While the mind is trained to lofty thought and wonderful achievement in the realm of philosophy or science, the affections must keep a corresponding march, and aspire after fraternal action among humanity, and filial obedience to God.

But true manhood cannot be exemplified without intellectual culture. "Wisdom," says Solomon, "is the principal thing." When the Lord appeared to him, in a dream, and asked what he should give him, the sleeping king, still anxious in the midst of his night visions, for the welfare of his subjects, and anxious also to keep the charge of his Father, and show himself a man, asked not for riches, or for length of days, but for an understanding heart. He well knew that without this attainment, his efforts in the halls of legislation would be feeble indeed. He wished to rule his realm in equity; therefore he asked before all things else, for a wise discernment of right and wrong. He also knew, as every reasoning man must know, that knowledge would unlock to his own experience, some of the highest enjoyments. The man of cultivated mind has sources of satisfaction, of which the ignorant are not cognizant.

He sees in the simple flower and the little pebble, as well as in the forest oak, and the stars of the firmament, evidences of the same intellectual energy which originated his own mysterious mind, and gave it this power of perception. Every visible material creation is eloquent to his understanding of the omnipotence of intellect, and stirs within his soul the tides of reverential worship to Him "of whom are all things." Each draft of the fountain of knowledge, but nerves his endeavors for further explorations and achievements. He trains and strengthens this divine emanation, until he too has marked the ages with his invention. His intellectual creations assume outward material shape, and that which has received each needed mould in the great work-shop of mind, rises up in the symmetry of perfect design, to answer human need, and minister to our reverence for intellect. Cities, and steamships, and telegraphs, and railroads;—monuments, and paintings, and sculptured heroes, all lived first in the brain, ere the hand could wield an implement upon them. All these fair and wonderful works, which now supplant forest and trackless ocean, and native elements, are so many voices telling of the greatness of cultivated intellect, and urging its culture on every human soul.

Not only does the cultivation of intellect introduce us to the acquaintance and accomplishment of works which relate to material interests, but the treasure chamber of literature is opened by it, and becomes a large instrumentality of that culture. Philosophers of ages long vanished, bring their garnered store to our time, and the wealth of years of toil and brain sweat is offered for our acceptance and benefit. Poets, whose sweet and spirit-stirring melodies have charmed the nations, take their harps and sit at our feet, discoursing the same immortal music which made the hearts of their cotemporaries beat with holier motion. Orators, whose eloquence reverberated trough Roman and Grecian senate chambers, tell us the same tale of greatness which they then spoke, and point the same pathway to its attainment.

That way is persevering toil. No idler can expect to wear the bays of intellectual greatness. The marble in the quarry must be sculptured and polished by human art before it can become a monument or a statue. Cultivate then your intellectual powers. By all the fountains of knowledge which cultivation will unseal to you, by all the avenues of happiness which it will open, by the superior good which it will enable you to accomplish, by the great thought that mind is immortal, let me urge you to this manly labor as worthy of exalted endeavor and untiring zeal.

But let not intellectual culture receive your only care. There are moral capacitities which must be developed in equal proportion to secure true manhood, and therefore they must receive their due attention.

Intellectual greatness, though a necessary attainment to true manhood, is not the major need, after all. Men great in native intellect, and accomplished by the culture of schools there have been, who failed of showing themselves men in the daily activities of life. We read their names on the record of past generations, and our hearts beat sadly as we linger about their memory. Wrecks of humanity they made themselves, by developing one portion of life's mystery, to the expense of its coworking agencies. Passion and appetite deformed them, disuse rendered their affections a sickly, inefficient power. Instead of the harmonious manhood which they were capacitated to attain, and upon an exhibition of which all the world looks with affectionate pride, their defaced proportions fill our meditations with sorrow and shame. In looking upon the achievements of their intellectual acumen, we check our admiration of their works by a sigh for an exhibition of what they might have been, had they shown themselves men.

But this one-sided kind of men are not all shut up in the past, and seen only through the aid of paper and type. We can see them daily along our own streets. Perhaps not so many of well trained minds and dwarfed morality, as of animal excesses and intellectual and moral recesses. They haunt the doors of our unlicensed hells; they impede the highways by their congregated rudeness; they poison the air with oaths and rum; they are known to all men by these proclivities. They are not men; they have never taken the first step in the lesson of manhood; and though they seek to show themselves, they show themselves anything else but men.

An oath, a glass of rum, a cigar, are not essential to manhood. They are not even (as some seem to suppose) instrumentalities of manly development. They lead to the gutter and to shame, instead of the elevated and fair throne of self government. He who would show himself a man, who would ascend step by step to the serene altitude of self conquest, thus shewing himself mightier than the conqueror of a city, must eschew these seducers of his innocence in the very morning of his career. He must guard well the avenues to his virtue. Habit is an unmerciful master. Let none of these habits of wrong doing assert their dominion over you. The stronger the temptation, the manlier becomes successful resistance. And every vanquishing of the tempter is a wall of defence thrown about virtue, while at each time we succumb to the voice of the enemy, our strength of good resolutions is successively weakened.

In the development of intellect, in the acquisition of discerning wisdom, we acquire an insight of much that will sadden our contemplation, much that without a corresponding influence from the religious elements of our humanity may cause us unhappiness. The world about us is not all that our aspirations would have it, and many times ambitious endeavors which would annihilate these giant evils of society, will have need of the soothing companionship of patient hope.—Strong and unswerving reliance on his arm who bringeth light out of darkness, who causeth the wrath of man to praise him, must possess our hearts, in order that we may labor in hope for the uplifting of the fallen and the sinful. The steady march toward the throne of true manhood, should be bordered and canopied by this confidence and hope. Our struggle with temptation will bring us the speedier mastery, upborne by the hope that we shall "come off more than conquerors through him who hath loved us." With hope to cheer our way, we shall march bravely in the path of moral requirements. Duty, revealed by that wisdom which discerns right and wrong, will be urged to performance by that conscientious voice which speaks from within this living temple. Morality will keep pace with intellect, and thus the fairest elevation may be ours.

"The man who is calm amid temptations, firm when other hearts are quaking, honest when he has no watcher but his conscience and his God; who gives his best alms in secret, and breathes his intensest devotions in the closet of his own soul; who obeys his convictions of right when he knows the world will denounce; whose religious trust forsakes him never, and in whose breast there is a moral power, a voice of Christ, which says to his soul in the midst of storm, and adversity, and affliction, 'Peace, be still'"—this man is upon the throne of true manhood, his superior good which it will enable you to accomplish, by the great thought that mind is immortal, let me urge you to this manly labor as worthy of exalted endeavor and untiring zeal.

But let not intellectual culture receive your only care. There are moral capacitities which must be developed in equal proportion to secure true manhood, and therefore they must receive their due attention.

The steady march toward the throne of true manhood, should be bordered and canopied by this confidence and hope. Our strug-your individual progress in goodness and happiness. The light of your upright lives extends its rays and illumines other pathways, and becomes a beacon of hope and an incentive to manly endeavor to those about you.—Those midnight congregations upon the public street and in dungeons of iniquity, may take cognizance of it, and strive to rise from their degradation to the stature of a man.—The beautiful exhibition of progressive knowledge and goodness may touch their hearts with the remorseful thought of what they might have been, and arouse them from their sleep of sensualism, to an earnest labor in the needful work of individual reform.

There are no scales or measures for individual influence. Unconsciously are we exerting its powers, and impressing ourselves upon our companions. We know not how extensively we are accomplishing this work, nor how far adown the years to come, the current of influence which our lives will put in motion, may continue its circling flight.

That it is a sceptre which we must unavoidably wield, whether our lives are fair and true, or ugly and deceitful, should nerve our manliest strength to the task of purifying the fountain within, that the stream which goes out therefrom, may be one of benefaction to a needy race. If we have hearts of fraternal feeling, this wish to benefit those about us, will go hand in hand with the desire to show ourselves men for the personal blessing of such attainment.

Indeed I marvel much, if the highest type of human endeavor, does not seek first the good of its brother. How many great hearted philanthrophists have toiled to fit themselves for the worthy aim of lifting up the fallen without a single hope of personal benefit. Yet they were not unrewarded. That calm happiness which is the consequence of doing right, came to them with its wealth above Ophir, and took up its continued abode in their hearts, so that in blessing others, they blessed; still more themselves.

And thus it is always with a steady march in the path of right. Our extended benefits recoil in triple wealth upon our own hearts. Lives of goodness are lives of happiness to those whose careful aims rear them; and they are a living force touching and permeating all who come within the sphere of their influence.

Then would I point you, not only to the "crown of life," but to its potent sceptre, as an incentive to show yourselves men. The world has need of the good example and influence of such manhood.

She has no need of the influence of evil lives. Already are there sin-scars enough upon her face. Already are there monuments enough along her thoroughfares of perverted manhood. She needs no accession to these ranks. But she cries with a voice of anguish, for accessions to the noble army of right-doers. This cannot become too great and strong, until every heart is enlarged to run the way of God's commandments.

Let this Christian Association of young men be evermore in deed, what its name signifies. You have not only the commandments of inspiration, but an exampled life to lead your upward march; a life without spot or blemish, a life which exhibited every attainable excellence;—a life too "tempted in all points as we are tempted yet without sin."

To this life I point you, as the sure guide to every required attainment. When the path of duty may be dark to you, and the wisdom of Solomon fails to illumine it, study the labors of this life, and you shall find every cloud fringed with light: the crooked made straight, and the rough places plain, by the example of the "man Christ Jesus." His great-hearted love for humanity, his mercy to the sinful, his steady confidence in God, shall speak to you of the true pathway for every christian professor toward that holy altitude to which you are called; that throne whose eminence is "the stature of a perfect man in Christ; whose crown is the peace of righteousness; and whose sceptre is the outgushing influence of true manhood."

RELICS OF THE LAWRENCE SIEGE.—A friend exhibited to us, some interesting relics connected with the Border Ruffian siege and sack of Lawrence, in Kansas Territory. One memorial was a piece of the coarse bread to which the settlers were reduced in consequence of the Missouri invasion, and the other was a Sharpe's rifle ball, cast from the types of Brown's printing office, which was destroyed by the invaders. They are suggestive relics.

FOR THE WEST.—Samuel Swasey, Esq., has resigned his position as an Inspector in the Portsmouth Custom House, and on Monday last, started on an exploring tour through the western country, in some part of which he contemplates locating.—May his shadow never grow less is the prayer of his many friends in New Hampshire.

STEAMBOAT ENTERPRISE.—It is expected that a large and substantial steamboat will be run between Portsmouth and Boston this season, touching at the Isle of Shoals, in connection with a freight boat to Dover. Capt James W. Goodwin has been engaged as pilot.—Gazette.

APPOINTMENT BY THE PRESIDENT.—Gideon H. Rundlett, postmaster at Portsmouth, N. H., reappointed.—Washington Union, 13th.

This appointment will give eminent satisfaction to all parties in this city, and publish the official announcement with great pleasure.—Gazette.

APPOINTMENT OF A TEACHER.—At a meeting of the School Committee of District No. Three, on Thursday evening last, Mr. Alfred M. Hoyt was appointed Principal of the Grammar School in that District, and is to commence his labors on the first of June. The school, which has been vacated for most of the present week in consequence of the resignation of Mr. Patten, will be reopened on Monday next by the Misses Marshall, assistants, who in addition to their ordinary tasks, will devote their energies to supply the vacancy until Mr. Hoyt shall be ready to resume his charge.

Mr. Hoyt is still acting as Teacher of the higher branches of Mathematics in South Berwick Academy, where the Trustees were desirous he should remain, but accepts the station to which he is now appointed at the same salary given to Mr. Patten.

We congratulate the Committee and citizens of District No. 3 on having been able so promptly to secure the services of Mr. Hoyt to supply this vacancy, and have no doubt his return to his old district will be warmly greeted by all who are interested.—Gazette.

☞ Mr. Bodge requests us to state in correction of an article which appeared in the last Gazette, in relation to Pickering's assault upon him, that he is not aware of ever having given Pickering the slightest provocation; and that he never spoke to him before the assault.—Gazette.

MONEY FOUND.—The Mayor of this city has received a note from C. Dorwin, Esq., U. S. Consul at Montreal, stating that on the 18th ult. a pocket book containing several thousand dollars in American bills was found in that city, which it is supposed was lost by some American traveller on his way to the cars. As the finder is desirous that the money should be returned to its lawful owner, the Consul asks that publicity be given to these facts.

The Washington Union says there is now owing to that paper the enormous sum of seventy thousand dollars for back subscription. It is not to be wondered at that newspaper publishers are generally adopting the cash principle.

CHESHIRE RAILROAD.—The annual meeting of the Cheshire Railroad Company was held at Keene, N. H., on Wednesday. The report of the Directors for the past year gives the following figures:

Expense of operating the road	242,551

The report shows a falling off in the gross earnings of the past year, as compared with the year ending Nov. 30, 1855, of $24,592.

DIVIDEND.—The Northern (N. H.) Railroad has declared a dividend of 2 per cent., payable June 1 to holders May 14.

NOT DISFRANCHISED.—We have taken the ground, distinctly and uniformly, that Judge Taney's opinion, and the Court's decision, did not and could not disfranchise any negro voter. But it has been said that some Solomons in Rhode Island actually did cut off from their check list some negro voters, and refuse their votes. What then? These Selectmen simply showed their ignorance and impudence,—and are liable to suit and punishment.

We introduce the case here, not because it is anything strange, but to place another case by the side of it, of like character, only that the victim was a white man, and the deed was done in New Hampshire, last March.

In the town of Lee there lives, and has lived for some years, a man who has been allowed and solicited to vote repeatedly—but whose name was struck from their check list last spring, without any new cause, and without any change of circumstances, except the known and declared fact, that he would change his vote, and so vote contrary to the ruling powers in that town.

This man, who is thus arbitrarily shut out of the privilege of voting, is the only surviving son of a Revolutionary Sailor, who fought by the side of John Paul Jones; who was afterwards an eminent merchant in Portsmouth, was for many years elected to a high office in this State, by the old republican party, and was in office under the U. S. Government, appointed by Gen. Jackson, which office he held till his death.

The man whom the Lee rum patriots would not suffer to vote, has commonly carried the ticket of the democratic party. He voted for Franklin Pierce, and for his party afterwards, until the Veto on the Old French Claim, in which he has an interest derived from his father.—He was indignant at the Veto, and declared he would no longer support the party.—For this declaration, two noted rum patriots in Lee, threatened to strike his name from the check list,—and it was struck off!

Every man can make his own comment.

☞ The Grand Jury of Suffolk were charged by the Judge of the Municipal Court, at Boston, on Monday last; and during the progress of his address, his Honor took occasion to expatiate on sundry violations of the statute in relation to the sale of liquor. His Honor suggested, therefore, that as it was a rather difficult matter to successfully prosecute parties for violating the law in relation to the sale of ardent spirits, it had been deemed best to go about the business of indicting them as nuisances, under the statute, and thus reach an evil that he virtually confessed could be reached in no other way.

SEVEN DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE ASIA.

NEW YORK, May 15.—Steamship Asia from Liverpool May 2, 3 P. M. arrived at this port this forenoon.

The Asia passed ship Tuscarora, from Liverpool for Philadelphia, putting back, having been in collision with ship Andrew Foster of New York; the latter sank immediately. Captain saved.

The Andrew Foster sailed from New York April 1, and when in the Channel, between Taskar and Holyhead, at midnight, on the 28th, she was struck by the ship Tuscarora, from Liverpool for Philadelphia.

Immediately after the collision, the pumps of the Andrew Foster were manned, and it was found that the water was rushing in in such quantities, that it was necessary to abandon the ship. Accordingly the boats were lowered, and after being about three-quarters of an hour on the water, were picked up by the schooner Little Fred, of Plymouth.

With the exception of increased discontent in the Turkish principalities, there is little European news.

The British Parliament has met. Evelyn Denison has been elected Speaker.

The Federal Council of Switzerland, by a unanimous vote, has agreed to accept proposition of the four powers for the settlement of the Neufchatel question. The King of Prussia is to get his million francs, but the Swiss will not recognize his title of Prince of Neufchatel.

The Queen of Spain's speech will announce the re-establishment of friendly relations between Spain and Rome, and hopes Mexico will apologize and pay indemnities, otherwise Spain will take hostile measures.

The accounts of the revolt and slaughter of 2000 Chinese, by Sir James Brooks, at Sarawak, are confirmed.

A MAMMOTH CHORUS.—At the great musical festival to take place in the Crystal Palace at Sydenham, in June, there are to be 2500 performers, viz: a chorus of 2000, and 300 stringed instruments, with a due proportion of wind instruments.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best and latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, all together, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to call on them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

FREE CHURCH.—Arrangements have been made for regular Sabbath services at the "Old South Church," by the Directors of the City Missionary Society, in concert with the Free Will Baptist Society, now worshiping there. The pulpit will be occupied by Rev. Mr. Medbery, City Missionary.

All parts of the church, not already occupied, will be free, and persons or families who desire it, can have permanent seats or pews assigned to them.

A cordial invitation is extended to all who are not connected with other congregations, to associate themselves with this. We trust that many who have heretofore absented themselves from the sanctuary, will hail with joy, the re-opening of this old Temple of God, and that worshiping multitudes may throng its gates as in days that have passed.

JUSTICE, AND TRUTH.—By a little item, which we copy from the Gazette, it appears that Mr. Robert N. Bodge, as we supposed, had no quarrel with Pickering who assaulted him, nor even acquaintance with him.

Now let us go back to last week's Gazette, wherein "Justice," as he calls himself, says, "This poor man [Pickering,] manfully refused to disclose the somewhat aggravated provocation which led him to inflict the single blow upon his enemy."

Pickering, at the trial, made no such pretence. He had no provocation; Mr. Bodge was not his enemy; but it was a mere half drunken, crazy assault of two men in shirt sleeves, of which "Justice" says, "Mr. Foot declares that he was not aware that any blow had been given until some time after the affair."

Mr. Bodge's statement as given at the trial and elsewhere, is undoubtedly and strictly true! But then, what becomes of the truth or veracity of "Justice?" In his great zeal to make the worse appear the better reason, what becomes of his own reputation? In his effort to whitewash men who plead guilty, and ask to resign, and to blackball his betters, may he not get the ermine of Justice, somewhat bespattered?

TWO JUSTICES.—Our readers will please to observe that "Justice" who writes in the Chronicle to-day in favor of the "Spiritual Phenomena," is not the same "Justice" who writes in the Gazette, as the apologist and advocate of the assaulters and law breakers, and the assailant of the man who dare call the assaulters, liars, and conspirators to account of their deeds.—The distinction is somewhat important.

ORDINATION.—Mr. Amos Abbott, a member of the North Church in this city, and formerly City Missionary, will be ordained on Friday, June 5th, as a Missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions. The public services will take place in the North Church at 2 P. M.

The churches of the Piscataqua Association are invited to compose the Council;—also Rev. J. Willey of Goffstown; R. Anderson, Cor. Sec. of the A. B. C. F. M.; and Prof. E. A. Park, D. D., of Andover, who will preach the ordination sermon.

PORTSMOUTH & CONCORD RAILROAD.—At the annual meeting held in this city on Wednesday, the following Directors were re-elected:—

Alfred W. Haven, Horton D. Walker, Portsmouth; Joshua W. Pierce, Greenland; Nathaniel Batchelder, Epping;—Arthur Fletcher, Nathaniel White, Concord; William Plummer, Lexington.

Brackett Hutchings was elected clerk.

☞ Rev. James Pike, M. C., who was announced as having gone on a Kansas tour, has not gone, but is still in New Hampshire, having been detained from starting with the rest of company by the severe illness of his daughter with the scarlet fever. He was present at the N. H. Methodist Conference, at Lawrence, and preached there last Sabbath.

FROM MEXICO.—New Orleans, May 13.—We have dates from the city of Mexico to April 29. The filibuster expedition to Sonora was creating great excitement. 4000 troops had been sent against it. It is reported that Crabbe, the leader of the filibusters, had captured several points.

The habit of using ardent spirits by men in office has occasioned more injury to the public, and more trouble, to me than all others. And were I to commence my administration again, with the experience I now have, the first question I would ask respecting a candidate would be: Does he use ardent spirits?—Thomas Jefferson.

☞ Dr. Charles Jewett, Republican, formerly State Temperance Agent in this State, has just been elected a member of the Minnesota Legislature.

CELEBRATION AT JAMESTOWN.—Washington, May, 14.—It is estimated that 7000 persons, including sixteen military companies, yesterday participated in the Jamestown celebration. Ex-President Tyler occupied two hours and a half in the delivery of the oration.

Governor Wise spoke in response to the multitude.

Fireworks and a grand ball terminated the ceremonies.

Sixteen steamers, gaily decked with flags, anchored at the Island.

The Railroad Excursion.—To-day the Committee of the Ohio & Marietta and Cincinnati Railroad Companies formally extended an invitation to the President and cabinet officers to join in an excursion to St. Louis on the first of June. Several of the latter are inclined to accompany the party.

TENNESSEE GRASS CROP.—Louisville, May 13.—Knoxville papers say that provender is so scarce that the inhabitants are obliged to cut down trees, for the cattle to eat the buds. The greatest want exists among the poorer classes. The Circuit Court at Jacksonboro' was obliged to adjourn without sitting, feed for the horses of the judge and lawyers being unprocurable.

May 14.—Since the late rains, the grain crops in a circle around here, within a radius of 100 miles, look quite promising. We have the same accounts, from Louisiana and Virginia.

Well executed counterfeit $5 bills on the Railroad Bank, Lowell, are in circulation.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1843, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, Holland Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be hailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession.

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN

It is adopted with great success in cases of Dyspepsia, Gout, Rheumatism, Dropsy, Gravel, Colic, Cholera, Fever and Ague, Stricture, Diseases of the Urinary Organs, Epilepsy, Female Irregularities.

Dr. Valentine Mott of New York, in a letter to the proprietor, says:

Charles' London Cordial Gin, is the purest, best, and most reliable Extract of Juniper I have seen.

CHARLES' LONDON CORDIAL GIN is sold by all Druggists and Grocers in the United States, and also are numerous poisons called "London Cordial Gin"—to avoid them buy only "CHARLES'." Reject any other offered to you as you value your health. Price one dollar for quarts, fifty cents for pints.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose word cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We speak to the public of its virtues, Throughout every town, and almost every hamlet of the American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Say, few are the families in any civilized country, but what can point to some personal experience of its effects; and fewer yet the communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of the victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. While it is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that creeps upon them unprepared. Experience has long since taught us to believe the CHERRY PECTORAL saves more lives by the cure of consumption it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, for neglect them until the hollow dull cough shows the lungs are weaker that, fastened on the vitals, sets your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and as they know too the virtues of this remedy, we need not dwell more than to assure them it is still made the best it can be. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and they who have tried it know how well we succeed in our efforts to fulfil our promise.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & CO are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a portion of the managers, (the Commissioners, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the money and the prizes will be paid at the proper time, and that the drawings are all conducted in the presence of persons who are themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a right to purchase tickets and send for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled from the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. Tickets are, however, sent at prices the money for the same is received, which will be found on their "ves. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tenny combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 to. and finished in the highest artistic styles.

Possessing one of the LARGEST-SIZED CAMERAS, and larger than any in use in this vicinity, expressly adapted to the purpose, together with other facilities I can offer the work at such prices as cannot fail to be satisfactory.

A highly important feature in this connection, is the invaluable process of reducing the finished picture up to Cabinet or even the size of LIFE. This process also I have obtained, so that any one possessing a small picture of a lost friend, for instance, can have a beautiful large Photograph executed from it. A. GREGORY.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)

No. 76 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to obtain Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on the shortest notice, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of any proposed inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters relating to the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty-five years, combined with the possession of a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access to all patents issued in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, Mr. R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, and Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent Office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,

Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner of Patents.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

Commissioner of Patents.

Whittier says, in a letter alluding to the work, that "it is refreshing to read a work whose tone is so eminently healthful, inculcating a cheerful Christian morality, free alike from cant and irreverence." SCANDAL!
BY MRS. J. T. RICKFORD.
WITHOUT EXCEPTION,
The Most Interesting Book of the Season.
1 vol. 12mo., pp. 394.....Price, $1.25.
This work is not a mere repetition under a new form, of old plots, characters and incidents—but one that possesses the distinguishing characteristic of novelty in all these particulars. Its subject is as universal as the air we breathe, and the evils it vividly portrays will serve as guiding lights for tens of thousands who might otherwise be led to sorrowful relations with those about them. It exhibits in the broad noonday light of God's truth the Rights of Humanity—the Innate nobleness of true woman hood—proves conclusively that Trials, however severe, refine the spirit, and "Ever the light comes uppermost,
And ever is Justice done."
THE INDEPENDENT, NOBLE TONE that pervades every chapter; the
FREE UNTRAMMELLED EXPRESSION OF THOUGHT
that will distinguish it from the libraries of books now emanating from the American Press; the ENTRANCING PICTURES of the BEAUTIFUL and the VIVID CONTRAST OF RIGHT AND WRONG will at once commend the book to the
HEARTS AND HOMES OF THE PEOPLE.
It needs but to be read to be admired; and wherever one reads it a score will be sure to follow. Copies of the above sent by mail (postage paid,) on receipt of the retail price.

NEW LIFE.
This eminently successful medicine not only gives prompt relief to those who have been suffering for years from the ravages of those fell destroyers,
ERYSIPELAS, SCROFULA AND LIVER COMPLAINTS
with their attendant evils of Dyspepsia Pain in the Stomach, Costiveness, etc., but completely eradicates every trace of disease from the blood, and exerts an invigorating influence upon the whole system.
To Bilious people this compound is of inestimable value—as it removes the bilious secretions to which most people are subject, and if taken in time, no other medicine is ever needed for the purpose.
This compound has been in constant private practice for years, but has never before been offered to the public, but the steady and increasing demand is a sure proof of its value, and the proprietors feel no hesitation in offering it to
as the most potent medicine for the cure of diseases that has ever been placed before the public. It is a Vegetable Compound, and no one need have the least fear that any mineral substances are used in its preparation—and to verify this, he would state, that every physician acquainted with the formula, freely prescribed it in his compound to the extensive sale, as a remedy to invigorate the blood and eradicate humors from the system. It is unnecessary to enlarge upon the virtues of this medicine, as it has been so long in use, so many whose certificates are attached to each bottle, who can be consulted at any time.
What it has effected once it will do again—that is, relieve the most obstinate disease, and restore the system to a healthy state
Its happy effect in every class of diseases must be witnessed to be fully appreciated. It never has been used without giving prompt relief, and ultimately completely restoring the patient.

For the Chronicle.

SPIRITUAL PHENOMENA.

Messrs. Editors:—Allow me the privilege of again replying to "Philos" through your paper. I do so the more readily, because I think I recognize in him a desire honestly to investigate the matter: and also because he appeals to my honor to come forward "and reveal to the public the way and manner the phenomena are produced."

The great desire I have to enlighten people's mind on the subject would be inducement enough for me, had I sufficient knowledge and wisdom to impart that knowledge aright, without the pecuniary reward hinted at.

Is it not surprising, when we think of the large sums of money that have been offered to any one who would reveal the "trick" by which the phenomena are produced, that among so many jugglers and "impostors," there has not been found one low enough to claim that reward; for surely not even "Philos" will contend that all receive pay for practising "the art," neither are all above pecuniary considerations, yet the secret remains undivulged.

"Philos," it appears to me, has evaded the question, which is, not how the spirits produce the phenomena, but, whether they are of spiritual or mundane origin; and I think it best to confine ourselves to the point at issue, and when facts connected with that point are established to our satisfaction, then the other part of the subject will be in order.

Now I affirm that the manifestations are beyond the power of man, and cannot be produced by him through any known law; but if "Philos" can bring proof to the contrary, I shall most willingly receive that proof, and not only myself, but others who have embraced the "delusion."—Think for a moment, "Philos," what a benefactor you might become to thousands, yes, millions of your fellow men who are now wandering among the mazes of Spiritualism, and whom, perchance, you might enlighten, if, by investigation, you could bring forward undeniable proofs of its falsity.

I am well aware that the mere assertion of my faith in the Spiritual theory cannot convince one of the truth of that theory, because assertion is not proof. My experience in the physical phase of Spiritualism is rather limited: still I will throw as much light on that part of the subject as I can. But allow me, in the first place, to observe that to my mind it is no more wonderful that ponderous substances are moved by spirit power (observe, I do not say by the power of a spirit) than it is to witness the uspringing of the giant oak from the small acorn; only our eyes have become familiar with the one, while the other is novel; there is in both the same moving power. Will "Philos" please place himself, in fancy, with the curious crowd that first gazed on the singular spectacle of the huge locomotive, with its train of cars, as it passed on its way with lightning speed, listen to the wondering observations of the lookers on, and explain to them the power that produces that motion. You say steam operating on machinery arranged on scientific principles: but from whence was that power derived? You say, it originated in the mind of man. I say the mind of man is the medium through which those principles are carried out, but the powers originated in a mightier mind than that of man, even in that of the eternal source of all wisdom, from whom all spirits derive their powers; and He who has made those laws by which mighty trees are uprooted and driven with terrific force by the furious whirlwind, can by his spirit agents move tables and pianos, if he so wills it.

"Philos" may say that the whirlwind is produced by natural causes; so is the moving of tables or other tangible substances. But why have these things not taken place before? I answer, they have. Witness the opening of the prison doors, the bursting of the bonds of Peter, and the moving away of the stone from the mouth of the sepulchre. The same power exists now as then, for the eternal mind has not retrograded, how much soever the opponents of Spiritualism may say to the contrary, by asserting "the days of miracles have passed."

Can Philos tell us by what mental process thoughts are engendered in the brain? how ideas are formed and carried out? If so, I can tell him by what principle heavy bodies are lifted and carried about the room by the "unseen agency," for such is the case. Now for the facts: I have seen a heavy hard wood table, standing in my parlor, lifted from the floor and swung in the air by the medium (a lad of fifteen) barely placing his hand on (not under) it. I have known that same table to be held firmly to the floor, and the united strength of two of us could not move it from its place. I have seen a smaller table, also in my parlor, lifted in the air very rapidly, many successive times; and more wonderful still, although the weight of twelve hands rested on it, it descended each time as gently and quietly as the falling of a snow flake. Now all known laws would have made it touch the floor suddenly and violently, unless upheld by human power. But such was not the case, and I know there was no "electric wire," or "magnetic battery" used. At another time, my hand was influenced to write a letter, with orders to forward it to a person whose name was given me, and the spirit that caused that letter to be written purported to be the guardian angel of the person named. I was alone at the time, and could not be under mesmeric influence of any one in the body; and the contents of that letter were such that I should not have written it of my own free will, because I did not believe the sentiments it contained. Will "Philos" please explain that?

Many other facts I might relate, but some are of too sacred a nature to be lightly paraded before those who do not understand the true mission of Spiritualism, which is to raise man from sensuality and materialism, to a higher plane of thought and feeling.

"Philos" asks "how the voice of a disembodied spirit sounds." Not having had the pleasure of hearing, I cannot inform him. But from whence does he get this idea of their being without the organs of speech? I would refer him to the 18th chapter of Matthew, where Moses and Elias appeared and talked with Christ; to the song of the angels on the plains of Judea; and to the last chapter of Revelation, where the spirit of one of the prophets conversed with John. Many other references I might give him, but these will suffice.

They must also possess tangible bodies, or else they could not be seen and recognized by those who gazed on them with natural eyes.

Now, as far as I am in the "secret," I have endeavored to prove the "affirmative," and have not knowingly "evaded" or given an "ambiguous answer" to any of the questions. JUSTICE.

FROM WASHINGTON, MAY 16.—The Cabinet were in session a short time, and made a few appointments. The General Appraisers for New York and Boston, Messrs. Delaye and Emory, have been retained:—those in Philadelphia and Baltimore are to be superseded. Mr. Hallerman, editor of the Louisville Courier, an old line Whig, has been appointed Collector of Louisville, vice the present incumbent, a Democrat, removed.

Attorney General Black has given an opinion that the government should grant an absolute fee simple patent to the Christian Indians, in their tribal character, to the lands purchased of the government.—This would be the first instance in which any government has recognized the right of Indian tribes to the fee in land.

The committee appointed to report on the fitness of Blyth Island, Ga., for a naval depot, have reported favorably. Congress appropriated $200,000 for the purchase.

☞ By way of Santiago de Cuba, news has arrived at last of the miserable death of Col. D. Jose Eulate and his lady, who were among the passengers of the ill-fated steamship Lyonnais. One of the sailors of the deserted vessel arrived at Santiago, declares that the unfortunate couple lived for several days upon one of the rafts, but died at length of hunger. The sailor in question brought to the Island a handkerchief which had belonged to Col. Eulate. The Colonel was an officer of high merit in the Spanish army, and greatly esteemed by the people of the Island.

☞ The Jackson (Michigan) Citizen announces the sudden death of Mr. Allen Hiscock, of Princeton, Ill., formerly of Jackson. While proceeding in the cars to Ann Arbor, where his wife was visiting, and where he was to stop, he was attacked with a violent toothache, and a physician on the train administered chloroform to ease the pain. On arriving at Ann Arbor he complained of faintness, soon swooned away, and died without recovering from the state of insensibility.

☞ The report that Walker had been driven out of Nicaragua and sought protection on board a British war ship, is not confirmed. Mr. Soule has left Washington for New York, and Capt. Kerwin for Charleston, to take measures for Walker's aid.

INCENDIARY FIRES.—In the Norfolk Common Pleas Court, on Saturday, Jacob Yarrick, of Roxbury, was convicted of setting fire to the carpenter shop of William Dove, and sentenced to 18 months in the State Prison. The Journal reports that Yarrick made a statement to the jury, in which he said that he and his associates were drunk at the time they set the fires. They were members of an engine company, and, being under the influence of man's worst enemy, they felt disposed to have what they called a bit of fun.

Judge Sanger made some very excellent remarks before he ordered the sentence to be pronounced. He spoke of the fact of hearing a prominent citizen of Lexington allude to the purchase of two engines, in the presence of the ex-Sherriff of Middlesex, who remarked that they would probably hear the cry of fire before long. There were two barns burnt within one week after the purchase, both of which the papers said were the work of incendiaries.

The Judge said he hoped that the juries, when they returned home, would use their influence against the admission of young men into engine companies. He agreed with other gentlemen who had expressed an opinion on the subject, and thought that members should not be admitted under 30 years of age. He said he knew of no offence that was much greater than setting fire, with the exception of placing an obstruction upon the track of a railroad.

☞ A large business firm of Havana, on the 4th inst., purchased from a certain wealthy lady of the Island two immense sugar establishments, the price paid for which was two million dollars, $800,000 cash down, and the rest in three payments of $400,000 each. This is stated to be the heaviest transaction of that kind ever effected upon that island.

☞ At Liverpool, on the 6th, a butcher namel Gibbons, who had been in a desponding state of mind for some time, owing to failure of business, cut the throats of his wife and two of his children, and wounded a third on the cheek bone. The eldest child (four years old) was quite dead, and the youngest was not expected to recover. The wife was a drunkard.

PHONOGRAPHIC.—The Home Journal makes the following report of a stanza as pathetically sung by a prima donna at a New York concert. Those familiar with the song of the "Old Arm Chair," as sung by Russell, may discover a slight resemblance:—

Hi lo-love, hi lo-hove it,
And who-oo sha-hall da-bare
To-hoo chi-hi-hide me lor lo-hoving
That o-ho-hold a-harm cha-hair?

LAKE SUPERIOR WEATHER.—At Portage Lake, as late as the 10th ult., the thermometer went down to minus 10°. On the 13th, the snow at Point Kowonaw was 4 1-2 feet deep, but had begun to thaw.—The ice on the 7th of April was 25 inches thick! This news may explain where our cold winds come from, and the cause of the backwardness of the season.

☞ There is a woman, youthful and quite handsome, who visits the Baltimore penitentiary every day, and converses with her husband, for an hour or more, through the bars. Yet this man is serving out a term of years, for having cut her throat—his wife's—and inflicted several severe stabs in her breast, from the effects of which, her life was for a long time despaired of. What an evidence of love and constancy!

☞ The robbery from the Rutland and Burlington Railroad depot, of a large sum of money, a few weeks ago, was committed by one Thompson, a bar-keeper, whose confederate, a young lad, "peached;" whereupon Thompson confessed the burglary (and several larcenies besides,) was tried and convicted last week, and sentenced to the State prison for a term of four years.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A WIFE.—Bridget, wife of Jeremiah Grady, died quite suddenly, at about noon, 14th, at house No. 10 Chapman street, corner of Middlesex street, Boston. The neighbors state that her husband had been in the habit of abusing her, having kicked her out of bed, the night before her death. The only outward injury upon the deceased, is a bruise near one of the eyes. She leaves one child, an infant.

SAD.—A young man came into this city from a neighboring town yesterday, and got rum enough somewhere—and we don't think he had much difficulty in finding it—to get awfully drunk. We saw the poor fellow carted to the lock-up, like a dead brute, and it was a sad sight. He plead earnestly afterwards, to his mother. Alas, for the mother of such as he! Those who sold him the rum are still at large!—Nashua Gazette.

Lady Franklin has purchased an Aberdeen clipper for the search of her lost husband, and given the command to Capt McClintock.

A NOVEL METHOD OF DISPENSING JUSTICE.—The following is related of Mayor Foley, of Covington, Ky. Some months since a man was arrested and bro't before him for whipping his wife. The Mayor fined him and let him go, but within a week the chap was again arrested for the same offence; this time, his honor imprisoned him, and after serving out his time he went home and again abused his better half, and notwithstanding the mayor fined and imprisoned the fellow for each offence, he would persist in his vile behavior. The mayor after trying months to reform him, had well nigh given up the task, until one morning this "hero of a hundred fights" (with his wife) was arraigned on the old charge. "Well," says his honor, "I suppose you think I am going to fine you?" "I dun know," said the culprit. "Perhaps you imagine I will imprison you?" continued mayor F. "I expect so," was the answer. "I shall do neither" said the mayor. "I discharge you." The fellow's countenance began to brighten up, when his honor adjourned the court, and after stopping to the door invited him outside. "Now, you mean devil," says mayor F., "I have fined you till I am tired of it, and yet you persist in ill-treating your wife. I will now tell you, that if ever I hear of your abusing that woman again, I'll whip you within an inch of your life; now travel." The mayor has never heard from that fellow since.

REMINISCENCE.—We are informed that Mrs. Colt, of this village, relict of the late James D. Colt, Esq., now in the 87th year of her age, was on the 6th inst. riding past the farm of the late Chester Colt, in the south-west part of Pittsfield, when she remarked that on the 6th of May, 1797, she attended a social party at the house of her relative, and such was the mildness of the weather that the company present danced upon the lawn in front of the house. The apple trees were in blossom. This fact not only shows that the season in the spring of 1797 was some days in advance of the present, but that "tipping it upon the light fantastic toe," was one of the enjoyments of that age.—Pittsfield Sun, May 14th.

PROFESSIONAL HOWLING.—The Jewish Chronicle says a curious branch of business has been established at Lyons. It appears that an association of howlers has been formed, which engages to supply at each funeral a number of professional weepers. The charge made is five francs per head.—They have adopted a peculiar costume, and follow the hearse weeping and sobbing.—This recalls to memory the mourning women mentioned in the Bible, who, on mournful occasions, let themselves out on hire, wringing their hands, crying and lamenting aloud.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 16, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on seeking for a solution of the Mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky Light, giving them facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, niggard her, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that one hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

AT IT AGAIN.—Another attempt is being made to establish a land and stage-line of communication between Dover and Portsmouth, by Stephen Thompson, to run over the new Steam Ferry at Dover Neck.

It will be remembered that last summer an effort was made in the same direction, the boat was built and the stage put on the route, but some difficulty occurred about the landing on the Newington side of the river, and the whole matter was abandoned for the time. The difficulty is now settled, and the stage is on the route; and Mr. Thompson having obtained the transportation of the U. S. mail between the two cities, will hence be able to sustain his line, as well as afford excellent and much needed accommodation to the public.—Dover Gazette.

☞ The Manchester American says:—"Hon. F. P. Blair, Jr., member elect of Congress from Missouri, is visiting his wife's mother (Mrs. Woodbury) at Portsmouth."

This is erroneous: Mrs. W. is not yet here for the season; her son-in-law is Mr. Montgomery Blair; and he is not chosen to Congress, but has an office in Washington.

TWO JUSTICES.—Our readers will please to observe that "Justice" who writes in the Chronicle to-day in favor of the "Spiritual Phenomena," is not the same "Justice" who writes in the Gazette, as the apologist and advocate of the assaultors and law breakers, and the assailant of the man who dare call the assaulters, liars, and conspirators to account of their deeds.—The distinction is somewhat important.

PAPA IS ON THE OTHER SIDE.—When the late Joseph S. Buckminster was about three years old, he went on one occasion with his parents from Portsmouth, N. H., where they resided, to visit his maternal grandfather, the Rev. Mr. Stevens, who lived in Kittery, on the opposite shore of the Piscataqua. They were to cross the river in a ferry boat, and for some reason Dr. Buckminster crossed first, and left his wife and little Joseph to follow together. While upon the river, Mrs. Buckminster became very much alarmed and expressed her fears in the hearing of her son. Little Joseph's bright eyes glanced over the water, and rested an instant upon the familiar form of his father who was waiting for them on the shore. Then springing to his mother's arms he exclaimed, "Don't be afraid, dear mamma, don't be afraid! only look, Papa is on the other side!"

How beautiful is the unquestioning faith of Childhood! It knows no doubt, and feels no fear in the presence of its beloved ones. The knowledge that "Papa is on the other side," was to little Joseph a talisman against danger; there was no room for fear in his young, trusting heart. He never questioned for a moment his father's willingness, or his ability to protect him. By the unerring instinct of childhood he knew his father loved him, and by the same instinct, love cast out fear as unworthy of itself.

Let the little child be our teacher; and when clouds gather darkly around us, and dangers threaten, with the unquestioning confidence of little Joseph, let us say, "I will not be afraid, my Father's on the other side."—N. Y. Observer.

POOR WOMEN IN EUROPE.—The New York Tribune gives the following account of women in France:

But yesterday, women in European Christendom were relieved from absolute slavery—from being bought and sold like dumb beasts, or like two million American born women. Now, in Europe, it is a fact that when one occupation is harder or more repulsive than another, a woman may be selected to do it. We have seen such scenes as this, which we give to exemplify our position. At a French port, a wharf was being repaired; it was necessary to drain a portion of the dock round about it; the operation engendered a stench so intolerable, that the workmen recoiled, and workwomen accordingly were sent down to complete the operation.—In France, we have seen a woman geared with a quadruped, plowing. In Paris, women are scavengers and porters. On the Rhine, they drag the boats. In Vienna, they carry hods. And so, through the whole catalogue of masculine meanness, cowardice, cruelty. Every scoundrel called great—the Napoleons, the Cæsars, the Alexanders—doom women to yet more ghastly drudgery by the wars which kill off their natural protectors, destroy capital and multiply pauperism. "I was," says an American, "six months in the south of France, at the time of Napoleon's Russian campaign. During that time, I did not see six men working in the fields, but all women—the men being "dragged away for slaughter and glory."

A fashionable lady at a watering place had a favorite lap-dog, which she called Perchance. "A singular name for a favorite pet, madam. Where did you find it?" "Oh," drawled she, "it was named from Byron's dog. You remember where he says, 'Perchance, my dog, will howl!'"—Bath Tribune.

This reminds us of a still more extraordinary name given to her dog by a lady in the far West. "Moreover, moreover!" said she. "Why madam," said a traveller who happened to be at her cabin, "Where did you get such a remarkable name?" "The name's a Scripture name," replied the good dame. "Will you please to tell me where you find it?" inquired the traveller. "Why, in the book of Tobit, to be sure—Moreover, the dog—that's he dog's name, an't it?"—Boston Courier.

HONG KONG, March 15.—The Gumare, Wardrop, from Swatow, which arrived 13th, on her way to Havana, with Coolies, left Swatow 11th, with 432 Coolies on board.

The following morning the Chinese attacked the watch, wounding the third mate and a seaman; but after about ten minutes fighting they were driven below.

They then attempted to burn the ship, by setting fire to her in three different places. Eleven Coolies were killed, three drowned, sixteen wounded.

GREAT FIRE IN HOOKSETT WOODS.—A fire commenced in Hooksetts woods Saturday night, and has been raging ever since; over two thousand acres have already been burned over, and at the least, from fifteen hundred to two thousand cords of wood destroyed. It is still raging, extending and varying with the changing wind.—Manchester, N. H., Mirror, 14th.

REMOVED.—Ferdinand L. Blake has been appointed postmaster at Kensington, N.H., in place of George W. Walton, removed. Mr. Walton has filled the office, which is worth about fifty dollars per year, for the last three years, but voted for Mr. Fremont at the last election; hence his decapitation.—Newburyport Herald.

LOUISVILLE, 16th.—The remaining negro, implicated in the Joyce murder, was hung by a mob last night, making three hanged and one suicide.

☞ It is understood at Washington that Mr. Forney has been tendered by the President the valuable office of Consul at Liverpool, and that he has, within a few days, formally declined it.

☞ The latest new invention is a machine for "shaking carpets," which cleans the largest carpet in fifteen minutes, without the least damage to the fabric.

☞ The dogs in Hampshire county, Mass., are making serious ravages among the sheep. Mr. Samuel Russel, of Hockanum, lost about a dozen from his flock on Sunday night.

☞ In East Boston, on Friday, Mr. D'Arcy was crushed to death by the falling of a building that was not properly sustained, while a cellar was being dug.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES. AND TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cognac, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community, in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

WOLFE'S SCHEIDAM AROMATIC SCHNAPPS is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quarts and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-similie of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

FOR THE RAPID CURE OF

and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease.

We need not speak to the public of its virtues. Throughout every town, and almost every house in this American States, its wonderful cures of pulmonary complaints have made it already known. Nay, few are the families in any civilized country on this continent without some personal experience of its efficacy, or that of some communities any where which have not among them some living trophy of its victory over the subtle and dangerous disease of the throat and lungs. Scarcely is the most powerful antidote yet known to man for the formidable and dangerous diseases of the pulmonary organs, it is also the pleasantest and safest remedy that can be employed for infants and young persons. Parents should have it in store against the insidious enemy that steals upon them unprepared. It has saved many a precious life. It believes the Sick Parent, and even more lives by its consumptions it prevents than those it cures. Keep it by you, and cure your colds while they are curable, or what last them until no human skill can master the invasion? a canker that fastened on the vitals, eats your life away. All know the dreadful fatality of lung disorders, and so they know for the virtues of this, long proved and tried, more than any other remedy that is still made the best it can do. We spare no cost, no care, no toil to produce it the most perfect possible, and thus afford those who rely on it the best agent which our skill can make. Make trial now.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Franks & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are properly protected as if they were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets or shares in any lottery authorized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing following the receipt of the money, if received in hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 70. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

E. E. DYER & CO.
141 Washington St., Boston,

SUPPLY the best, finest and purest articles, at the lowest Cash prices. Their Stock consists of Teas, Coffees, Chocolates, Allspice, Cloves, Mustard, Ginger, Cayenne Pepper, Nutmegs, Cinnamon, Cloves, Cream Tartar; Saleratus, or Prepared Dandelion Root, &c., &c.

Having every facility for manufacturing and preparing the several articles named, the public may rely upon having them pure and genuine as they are put up by no parties, and bear our name and label, "TREMONT MILLS, E. E. DYER & CO."

To give customers some idea of our sales, we annex the following prices:—Best Young Hyson, 5 lb. Souchong Tea, 1 50 | 5 lb. Mocha Coffee, 1 00
5 lb. Oolong do. 1 75 | 5 lb. Java do. 90
5 lb. Young Hyson do. 1 25 | 5 lb. good do. 1 00

☞ The Spices are put up in 1 and 4 lb. tin cans, expressly for family use, and are warranted to be strictly a pure article, and only need a trial to establish their superior value.

SPANISH COFFEE.—We would call the attention of customers and dealers to our Spanish Coffee, as an article which is highly esteemed, and gives the greatest satisfaction. It is prepared with much care, and having our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," may be relied upon as the GENUINE ARTICLE. The proportion used is about one-half the quantity of Coffee. The price is 20 cents per pound, and it is warranted to give the same as that which has been sold for fifty cents a pound by Druggists.

The medicinal properties of Dandelion are well known, and held in high estimation by all who use it. This being a preparation of the root, with all its medicinal virtues retained, can be used with coffee or not, as the taste may dictate, and will be found cheap and economical as a family beverage, one pound of which being nearly equal to two pounds of coffee. It is prescribed by many eminent physicians to invalids, children and aged persons, as a nutritious beverage, and as a remedy for Dyspepsia, Billious affections, &c.

☞ Be careful to observe that all our Tuscaroras has our trade mark, "Chinaman grinding Coffee," as there are many imitations of our article, called Tuscarora, in the market.

☞ To Grocers and Dealers a liberal discount is made, enabling them to supply their customers at the same low rate.

☞ TO CASH PURCHASERS.—Our object being to secure large sales at small profits, we offer inducements which cannot be afforded by those who do business on the credit system, and we confidently invite an examination of the quality of our stock and our prices, as compared with those of any other house.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners, who are present at their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are properly protected as if they were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets or shares in any lottery authorized by special law in that state. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,

No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL. AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that his charges are not higher than those of others for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full files of patents from 1790 to date, of United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office, and I believe there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

HORRIBLE DEATH.

Under the head of "Horrible Death at the County Poor Farm," the Manchester Mirror of the 13th gave an account of a horrible beating inflicted on a pauper, by his keepers, soon after which the pauper died, and was buried on Monday. The teacher for all this was one Dennis McCarthy, who the American says is a "drunken fellow who has been more than once upon the records of the Police Court for intoxication."

From the American we learn that the facts in the case are these: A man by the name of John Dunlap was on Friday morning found by the city police at the river end of Elm street, in an almost helpless state. He laid in a fit of delirium tremens during the night in a shed on Central street, where his hat may now be seen. The police took him to the lobby, and after having several severe fits, he was carried in the afternoon to the County Poor Farm, where he received every needed attention from Mr. Frye. His attacks of the tremens increased in violence till his death on Sunday evening.

The American is informed by Mr. Frye that on Sunday afternoon the "respectable" Mr. McCarty, in a partial state of intoxication, called at the County Poor Farm, and wanted to see a woman who is one of that class that go by several names. Mr. Frye informed him that it was against the regulations to admit visitors on Sunday, but if he would call on any other day he would wait upon him. At this very proper refusal of Mr. Frye, he became insolent and abusive, and staggering back to Manchester, published his malicious falsehoods.

While McCarty was at the house, Dunlap had one of his violent fits, which was witnessed by all present, and during which it was necessary to hold him. He was confined in the room in which it is customary to put persons in a similar state of mind. The Mirror represents him as buried Monday, when in fact he was not buried till after the issue of the paper containing the misrepresentations. A post mortem examination was made by Dr. Little of Goffstown, who reported it a case of death from an attack of delirium tremens. These are all the essential facts of the case.

If Uncle Toby understands the case, he, it was not the keeper of the poor house that killed the pauper, but it was the keeper of his favorite grogery, where he used to imbibe his strychnine whiskey.

☞ The Bartlett Mills, Newburyport, have declared a semi-annual dividend of 6 per cent.

PORK AND STRYCHNINE.

On this subject, we offer the following extracts.

On Saturday night, two men were arrested in Baltimore, in charge of two wagons containing about thirty dead hogs, intended for the market, all of which had been diseased. The carcasses were all dressed, and ready for sale, but were utterly unfit for food. The men stated that they were employed to drive the meat to market from a distillery on the Ferry road. That place being searched, there were found forty carcasses of diseased hogs, dressed and prepared for market. So we learn from the Baltimore Clipper.

The public should hold all fresh pork guilty of dying by disease till it incontestibly proves its innocence by giving unmistakeable evidence that it died in the full vigor of life, by the hands of the butcher. Sausages, especially, should be regarded with suspicion.—Newburyport Herald.

The hog distemper is a very serious matter, affecting both the breeder and dealer, as well as the consumer. The hogs feeding on the refuse slops of the stills, have been, it appears, poisoned by the strychnine, which is employed to extract a greater amount of spirit than can, by other means, be obtained from the wheat or rye used in the manufacture. The New York Evening Post states that the use of poor food is supposed to have caused the murrain among the Baltic provinces of Europe, as it did the milk sickness among the cattle of this country. Such was the enterprise of trade, that some carcasses thus deprived of life, were salted down and sold, and those who ate them were made seriously ill. In the same way, during the last winter, a report prevailed in Washington that the mysterious disease in that city, arose from the use of lard, which had been tried from a drove of five hundred pigs who had died a natural death. There is no more certain way of avoiding the spread of the disease to the human species than a total abstinence from pork.—Baltimore Sun.

We would also advise a total abstinence from the whiskey.

ARCTIC ADVENTURE.—By Sea and Land, from the earliest date to the last expedition in search of Sir John Franklin. Edited by Epes Sargent, with maps and illustrations. 1 vol. 12 mo. Published by Phillips, Sampson, & Co., Boston.

The recently published work of Dr. Kane has awakened a deep interest in the subject of Arctic adventure, and no one can lay down his intensely interesting volumes without a desire to know something of the earlier explorations in those regions. This volume is designed to give just the information needed. It contains the most interesting part of the narratives of Ross, Parry, Franklin, &c., &c., down to Capt. McClure's expedition, and discovery of the long-looked for north-west passage. The volume is very handsomely illustrated with wood cuts.

CLAPP'S MEMOIR.—The Memoir of Rev. Theodore Clapp, late of New Orleans, is soon to be published by Phillips, Sampson &. Co. of Boston. The pen of Mr. Clapp bears a charm; his life has been a series of eventful incidents; and his autobiography will be a work of great interest.

DISTILLERY HOGS.—The Amesbury Villager says,—In this village and vicinity, we are informed, some twenty individuals have lost their hogs by this disease, Mr. A. Lewis having lost two within a few weeks.

In South Hampton, N. H., Seabrook and Hampton Falls, great numbers have died. The disease is traced to Western hogs that have been sold by the drivers the present season. The disease is generated by feeding the hogs on "distillery slops," impregnated with strychnine.

AMESBURY, MASS.—The Villager says:—

We would call attention to the meeting of the Temperance League in this village on Monday evening next, and trust the friends of the cause will awake to new interest and attend the meetings of this Society. It is a matter which concerns all classes, especially parents and guardians. There is need of active, earnest effort, and we say with a cotemporary, that unless something is done,—"God save the rising generation."

This looks like a call of real urgency.—Will any man say there is no call for law or gospel, in this matter? Will any good man complain of the use of both?

☞ A gentleman in New Bedford has analyzed whiskey obtained from several liquor shops of that city, and found large quantities of strychnine in each.

☞ The licensing board of the city of Hallowell passed a resolution allowing but one person to sell spirituous liquors in that place. The Gazette says no "applications" were made.

The health of Senator Butler of South Carolina, is very poor, and his death is expected daily.

Brooks dead; Butler dying; Sumner improving, by the last accounts from Europe. We look at those remarkable co-incidences, as the appointments of a wise and good Divine Providence,—and we commend them to the notice of those writers and papers who donkeyized themselves over the deaths of Messrs. Moore and Barton, two or three years ago, attributing their departure to some special displeasure of Heaven against a new political party, and to a peculiar divine favor for old fogyism in general, and for slavery in particular.

SUDDEN DEATH OF A DISTILLER.—In the manufacture of brandy from raw spirits a certain article called "essence of brandy" is sometimes used, which, in its properties, is nearly allied to prussic acid, and a drop or two will produce instant death. At Toronto, recently, a manufacturer of brandy, named Morris, applied his tongue to a preparation of this essence, with a view probably to ascertain its strength, and in less than sixty seconds was a corpse.

☞ Chicago, the great Western centre of speculation and trade, seems to be determined to become the metropolis of education for the West. A Western exchange says:—There will soon be within and around it no less than five theological seminaries, Baptist, Congregational, Methodist, New School Presbyterian and Old School Presbyterian. Three of these are connected with universities, viz: the Baptist, the Methodist, and the New School Presbyterian, or Lind University.

☞ Gov. R. J. Walker's manifesto to the people of Kansas, was made known to the Cabinet at Washington, and approved, before he left. A synopsis of it is given in the New York Herald's correspondence. It is, in a word, the announcement that the pro-slavery programme of Douglas, Atchison and Company, is to be carried out by Gov. Walker, with the U. S. force to back him, and the bogus census and bogus voting lists to go before him.

GREAT FALLS.—A correspondent at Great Falls says:—We hear reports from various parts of the State that intemperance is on the increase; but I think this is not the case with the village of Great Falls. Much has been said about intemperance here, and it cannot be denied that the law is violated in the place, and little is done to enforce it. One reason of this is that the present law of Maine has a lamentable influence on the bordering towns of this State. If any one is arrested for intoxication and brought before a justice, he will testify that he got liquor on the Maine side of the river. Yet, on the whole, I think the temperance cause is gaining ground. Sermons and lectures have been delivered recently to large and attentive audiences, and public sentiment seems to be on the increase in favor of temperance. We trust it will continue to advance, until it shall come up to that point in which it will act in conjunction with the law, and the bane of intemperance be driven from the place. c.

FAT MEN.—Dr. Moriarty of Boston, according to the Philadelphia papers weighs 410 lbs.—and at the Girard House, in Philadelphia, sat at table, opposite the tenor singer, Amodio, who weighs 280.

The tenor left the table just as the doctor was putting the sugar into his last cup of coffee, and sought out Mr. Chadwick, one of the heads of the establishment. "Mistare Chadveck, I vant von introduction to ze verra big gentleman which sit opposite to me at ze table?"

Certainly, sir; walk up," was the reply; and a moment afterwards, the greater and the lesser giants were energetically shaking hands. Dr. Moriarty assured the tenor he was very happy to make his acquaintance, to which the tenor rejoined. "Ah! my verra dear sir, I am twice glad to know you—once for your own sake, and twice because now they can no more call me von fat man. Beside you I am like ze rhinoceros beside ze elephant."

☞ We have received the Manchester, England, Alliance Weekly News, a temperance newspaper, whence we learn that Neal Dow is producing a marked effect on the public mind in England. His speeches and the responses of able English speakers, occupy the principal space in the papers.

☞ The Governor and Council closed their Executive session at Concord, Saturday morning. All were present except Councilor Dame of the Rockingham District, who is now in Kansas.

FOUR DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

QUEBEC, May 18.—The Canadian screw steamship Anglo-Saxon, from Liverpool, Wednesday, 6th inst., arrived at this port yesterday forenoon. Her dates are 4 days later than those per Asia, at New York.

The Manchester Art Exhibition was opened with great ceremony.

It is rumored that a conspiracy, to explode May 10, throughout Spain, has been discovered.

Generals Santiago, Mendinue, and Garrido, to command in the expedition against Mexico, are embarking for Cuba.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 15.—There has been a series of very heavy failures within the last few days. They were those of William Huntley Sigourney & Co., dry goods dealers on Broadway, New York; Sigourney & Clayton, Baltimore; and Sigourney & Henry of this city—the liabilities $280,000. It is rumored that they will go into bankruptcy, not being able to pay their liabilities. Mr. Sigourney had left his business in the hands of others,—hence the failure.

It is said that Mr. S. made an attempt to commit suicide, on learning the proceedings of his partners, but was rescued from the water, (where he had thrown himself in the North River, New York,) by one of the Harbor police, and taken insensible to the residence of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Fillmore, on the Fifth Avenue, New York. —Bee.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM WEALTH.—The venerable and reverend Dr. Humphrey of Pittsfield, writing from Chicago to the New York Evangelist, thus dilates on an incident in his life:

How marvelous has been the rise of property in Chicago! Happening to be there in the summer of 1839, when the Dearborn reservation was brought into market, I bought two small lots, and sold them about seven or eight years ago, for two thousand five hundred dollars, which was thought to be a fair price. Now the new Richmond Hotel, one of the finest in Chicago, stands on the same ground, which I am assured would, if I kept it to this time, have brought me eighty thousand dollars! So you see how narrowly I have escaped being a rich man, and rearing my boys, had they been young, to rely upon my fortune, and not upon their own industry, economy, and good behavior. I slept upon the premises last night, at a fair hotel charge, and without being kept awake one moment in thinking of what I had lost. I had excellent accommodations, and what could I ask for more? If the children of the proprietor who bought the land of me, (if he has any,) escape with the great fortune, as easily as mine have done without it, they will be an exception to the general experience of wealthy families."

PREMIUM FIREWORKS FOR THE 4TH OF JULY.—Committees or individuals wishing to obtain Fireworks for the celebration of our National Anniversary, are referred to the advertisement of J. G. Hovey & Co. These gentlemen, owing to their extensive wholesale trade, have been obliged, for three years past, to decline taking some of the larger exhibitions, but have now made liberal arrangements to accept all orders for public displays, large or small. Messrs. J. G. Hovey & Co. have received the Boston contract for the coming Fourth of July. They intend it shall surpass all their former efforts upon Boston Common. tf

THE LAND SPECULATION IN THE WEST.—We are told that a certain bank, in a certain dairy county, in the centre of New York, had on deposit, in the spring of 1856, the handsome sum of $455,000, the money of the farmers. Week before last, its deposit account footed up some $25,000, and the farmers of that county were borrowing money for their spring operations. The deposits in the bank had been drawn down for investment in the far west. A portion went directly into lands, to be held for a rise. The residue, and the larger part, was transmitted to be loaned at three, four, five and six per cent. a month, on real estate security, and the legal assurance of unlimited usury laws. We have also been well informed that the surplus moneys of very many other counties of this State, have gone the same way as the deposited earnings of the dairy district we have mentioned.

A "crash" impends over the West.—When it comes it will be less destructive than that of 1837, which was the result of wild speculations in real estate, only because we have the money to lose which is going to be lost, and will not be left in debt. But from the eastern line of Illinois to the western boundaries of Nebraska and Kansas, lithographed cities at every tenth mile, will soon be the grave stones to mark the burial without resurrection, of millions of Eastern capital, and of many, too many impatient hearts broken with disappointment.—Albany Journal.

☞ The Nevada (California) Journal states that Henry Tucker, formerly of New Hampshire, was seriously injured, April seventh, in the Monumental Tunnel at Forest City, California. No hopes are entertained of his recovery. His spine is broken and the lower extremities are completely paralyzed.

AMOS HOWARD, of Stoneham, Mass., has disappeared, leaving $3000 of forged paper behind him, besides owing the church (orthodox) of which he was a prominent member, $900 trust money—a brother deacon $600 more, &c.

Jameson says the bread of life is love; the salt of life is work; the sugar of life, poetry; the water of life, faith. To which the Boston Post adds, "Hand us the bread and sugar; never mind the salt."

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ Dr. Boynton, I. B. P., has engaged rooms at the Franklin House, this city, where he will stop for one week. The Dr. has effected more cures than any other M. D. of his age. He can show merited cures wherever he goes. He shows up cures as near as Lawrence, and offers $3000 to any persons if they can prove them false. Invalids, now is the time; go and see one who engages his whole attention, soul and body, to cure his patients. It will cost you nothing to consult his opinion, and you may bless the day you did it.]

RATS, ROACHES, BED-BUGS, INSECTS, &c. New York, April 12, 1856.—MR. HENRY R. COSTAR, No. 388 Broadway,—Dear Sir:—Having a great many Rats around my stable and shop, I thought I would try your Rat Exterminator, and bought one of your boxes, and my man fixed it according to your directions. The next morning he found over 150 dead rats. I have bought other Rat Poisons and found them humbugs, and take pleasure in pronouncing this no humbug, and that it will do more than you say it will in your advertisements. I have also tried it on steamboats, and satisfied them that it is the greatest thing of the age.

Respectfully Yours,
J. S. UNDERHILL, No. 435 10th st.

NOTICE TO ALL CONCERNED.—The demand for "Costar's" Remedies for the destruction of the above pests, having occasioned an unlimited correspondence in regard to prices, &c., the proprietor has determined to publish the same in his advertisements hereafter. "Costar" prefers that every city, town and village shall be supplied through its own Druggists and Dealers, but, in cases where this is impracticable, he will forward small orders by Mail or Express, on receipt of the price, with sufficient to pre-pay the same. See advertisement, with retail prices, &c., in another column.

Important to Mothers.—The English have a child's medicine in "Godfrey's Cordial," and now America has a medicine for children in the celebrated Lawrence's Carminative. It is selling well, and is an elegant article, highly recommended by eminent physicians.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Sky Light, giving the gentlemen the advantage their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 68 cents per bottle.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but since the advent of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose veracity cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it seemed the means of snatching the victim from the grave. We wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

Use Dr. Clough's Columbian Pills,

A WONDERFUL Medicine, good in all diseases, and for persons of all ages, and especially for Females of all ages, married and child bed Ladies, please read what MRS. SEARS, an old, experienced nurse of 1 titefield, says:

"I used Dr. Clough's COLUMBIAN PILLS in my business, as nurse, for three or four years, and find them just what the sick need; they act on the stomach and bowels so mildly, relieve the head, do not debilitate, and calm the nerves. I am sure I but do my duty to my female companions in recommending these Pills for their use, in preference to any similar preparation.

SARAH SEARS, Nurse."

This recommendation is valuable, because it is by a lady of large experience as a Nurse, and she knows just what the ladies need to regulate and strengthen them, so as to be able to do their duty cheerfully and safely, as women and as mothers.

These Pills will give satisfaction!
These Pills are doing great good!
These Pills are extensively used!

LOCAL.

A Local Item.—A kind man, good-natured, no assaulter, no conspirator, no brawler, but a man who 'minded his own business,'—lay helplessly drunk on the floor of his own drinking shop, in the middle of a forenoon. He was no fanatic, but he could take care of himself, we suppose;—and this was care he took. Strychnine whiskey, and beer made of tobacco, (in the form of old sojers, perhaps,) were too much for him, as the still slops are for the hogs. Is not the groggery a blessed institution?—and will not every wise man drink whiskey and beer?

Ought not this man to be punished? said a by-stander to Uncle Toby;—Had not the police ought to be called? By no means, said the old man:—he is only a customer at his own tap,—he is drunk on the floor, and disturbs nobody. Uncle T. closed the door—and the friends soon took care of the man for the time. But he is too good a man to keep a groggery—too good a man to be a sot. His place should be closed,—and he should work for a living.

Messrs. Editors:—At a meeting held at the Temple, on the 30th of last month, Rev. Dr. Peabody suggested that a petition be presented to the Legislature, to change our municipal election from March to some other month in the year, and the Chairman, Hon. Horton D. Walker was requested to appoint a committee to call a meeting for discussion upon the measure. I would ask if this committee has been appointed, and if so, is it not time to call such meeting? The Legislature meets in a fortnight, and as it is probable that the session will not last very long (at most four weeks) I would suggest that the meeting be called as soon as convenient. G.

The vote was that the committee should consider the subject, and call such meeting if they saw fit. The meeting was left at the discretion of the committee.

A Dish of Ethics.—Mr. "Justice," in the N. H. Gazette of the 9th, says:

"It is true that Pickering plead guilty to the charge of committing an assault, and submitted to the penalty. If the ethics which some learned and reverend gentlemen apply to the fugitive slave law be sound, no further guilt or reproach attaches to Mr. Pickering, for by his ready submission to the penalty, he has wiped out his offense against the law. But I believe this poor man would scorn to shelter himself behind any such miserable doctrine.

Now the miserable doctrine is of "Justice's" own invention. The Rev. Dr. Peabody, in his speech at the Temple, said nothing like it.

He made no such silly assertion as that submission to a penalty wipes out a crime, or takes away guilt or reproach.

What he did say was to this purpose:

Every good citizen is bound to abide by wholesome laws, and will respect them.—And in regard to bad laws, such enactments as the fugitive slave law, manifestly requiring what is wrong, and forbidding the exercise of those christian charities which the Bible requires us to exercise towards the afflicted, the oppressed, and the fugitive,—while he should feel bound in conscience to afford the relief and shelter which the Bible requires, but the which the law forbids,—he would yet feel it his duty to submit to the penalty imposed.

So, said he, if any man feels bound in conscience to sell rum, and does so as a matter of duty, by all means let him quietly submit to the penalty the law imposes for such forbidden acts.

Messrs. Editors:—No one can visit the Auburn St. Cemetery, without noticing the sacrilege of villains. Some of the best and costliest monuments are almost ruined by them. Daguerreotypes which were inserted in stones have been smashed: Now daguerreotypes have been inserted time and again, and have met with the same fate. Lately a beautiful carved infant has been placed there with a glass case over it, for protection; and that, too, has come under the destroyers' hand, and the case broken. Is there no way in which these villains can be brought to justice? Are we to fold our arms and let such sacrilege continue without trying to bring the perpetrators justice?

We hope the proprietors will take energetic measures to give these villains the benefit of the law. E. B.

Editorial Note.—Last summer, some of our rural cemeteries were infested with great boys, or young men, who, getting refreshed in the groggery saloons, would go out and play cards, and swear, and drink from pocket pistols, in the city of the dead, on the ground or on the tombstones.

☞ Mr. Asa F. Woodman, formerly Superintendent for the Boston and Maine District of the American Telegraph Co.'s Lines, died at Worcester, on Friday night, of consumption. He was well known in Telegraphic circles, as an able and efficient Superintendent, and in private life as a kind-hearted and sincere friend. He will be remembered by many in Portsmouth, as he was telegraphic operator here, for a year or two—we think about 1853 and '54. His age we should judge to be about 28 years.

Storebreaking and Robbery.—The grocery store of Messrs. Tucker and Stokell, in Merchants' Row, Market street, extending through to Ceres street, was entered on Saturday night, and a bag containing fifty dollars in silver, stolen. The thieves entered by removing the iron gratings or guards to one of the small under windows on Market street.

Portsmouth Cornet Band.—Portsmouth is now enjoying the advantage of a good local band, composed of such materials as promise more permanency than those which have hitherto beenstarted among us. They have as yet made but few public exhibitions, but Market street has on some pleasant evenings found many gathering in the vicinity of the hall, listening to the rich music which floated on the air. The performances are of the first order, and the Band will do credit to themselves and to Portsmouth wherever they may be called to perform.

The following is a list of the members who compose the band:

John A. Hayden, Leader and Conductor.
Sylvester Ham, 2d Leader.
Joseph S. Turner, 1st Alto.
Geo. P. Abbott, 2d Alto.
Samuel H. Kingsbury, 1st Tenor.
Edward D. Coffin, 2d Tenor.
Edwin A. Sanbourne, 1st Baritone.
Wm. Critchley, 2d Baritone.
Albert W. Parsons, 1st Bass.
George Hayes, 2d Bass.
Charles Manent, Jr., 1st Sub Bass.
Reuben H. Hardy, 2d Sub Bass.
Francis Kierman, Tenor Drum.
Josiah B. Burleigh, Bass Drum.
John Warburton, Fife and Cymballs.

The season of blossoms and flowers is opening upon us. How gratefully does music chime in with the displays of the beauties of nature. Could a small appropriation by subscription or otherwise be better made, than to pay the band for a public performance near Market square for once a week, during the summer months?—Journal.

Mr. George Whitehouse of this city has received the appointment of Master Mason at the Navy Yard, vice Samuel Spinney, removed. Mr. W. entered upon his duties Wednesday morning. And on Thursday, Mr. Spinney might be seen passing Market Square on his trucks, like an industrious man following his old occupation; or like Cincinnatus, when his country had no further need of his services, returned to his early pursuits.—Journal.

Buffalo, May 15.—Lake Navigation.—The Lake is now open. Between 20 and 30 vessels have cleared for the upper lakes, and the steamers will probably commence their trips next Monday.

Hon. James Bell, who has been in feeble health for the past year, is at this time regarded by his friends as seriously ill.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES
CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1806, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Drum—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be hunted to the infamy of popular execration.

Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travelers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature and label.

For sale by all respectable druggists and country merchants. UDOLPHO WOLFE.

REFUGE FOR THE WALDENSES.—Mr. J. C. Underwood, "the exiled Virginian," Secretary of the American Emigrant Aid and Homestead Company, sends the editors of the New York Evening Post the following statement:—

Two weeks ago, Rev. Mr. Lorriaux, a Protestant minister of France, called upon me in company with Mr. Wm. R. Lawrence, of Boston, to make some inquiries about land in Virginia. They were seeking homes for the freedom-loving Waldenses of the high Alps in the south-east of France, who prefer a milder climate than that of our north-western territories. I gave them such information as I possessed in regard to the soil, climate and social condition of the different localities of Virginia most likely to suit them, and of the protection they might expect from the Emigrant Aid and Homestead Company.

Mr. Lorriaux has been to visit the State and called again upon me to-day, to say that he had secured three thousand acres of good land for a congregation of some five hundred, in Monongalia county, Va., within eight miles of Morgantown, the seat of the county, and within twenty miles of the Pennsylvania line, at the moderate price of seventy-five cents per acre. He thinks the report he will bear to the French Protestants will induce many thousands to leave a country where their rights are but poorly protected, and where land, of no more value than that he has just bought, owing to the crowded state of the population, is worth from three hundred to five hundred dollars per acre. Virginia, I do not doubt, will reclaim these countrymen of Lafayette, possessing the faith of the Huguenots, of the Puritans of New England, and the Marions of South Carolina.

TREASURE TROVE.—Mr. Benj. S. Dey, of Currituck county, N. C., while ploughing in his field, a few days ago, dug up a pile of old Spanish Gold and Silver Coin, to the amount of about six thousand dollars. It is supposed to have been buried during the revolution—and the accident that led to the discovery was most singular. It appears that an old pine tree had fallen near the fence of Mr. D.'s farm, and one of the branches stuck in the spot where the money was found. As the tree was an obstruction to those engaged in ploughing, it was raised from its position, when it was discovered that the old branch had several pieces of the coin sticking to it. They then went to work, and dug down to the depth of about four feet, when they were startled by the discovery of this large amount of money.

Every eye that looked upon the shiners, we are told, became as big as moons; and one of the negroes who assisted in raising the tree, on seeing the coin sticking to the limb, was so amazed at the sight, as to cry out, "why Massa Dey, what am dat—I I wonder if he gro dar.—Well, well, dis am de fus time I ebber seed money gro on de pine tree." A yoke of oxen was soon hitched to the treasure, and it was carried to the house of Mr. D., where it can now be seen.

This, we assure our readers, is no hoax! and it rather gives credence to the tradition that were was money deposited on that part by Blackbeard, the pirate.—Norfolk Herald, May 7.

A MUTILATED PRIEST.—The Abbe Bellee, a French priest, recently returned from his field of missionary labor, to Lyons, France, in a shockingly mutilated condition. He was one of the five missionaries sent out to preach the gospel to the savage tribes of Penang-Kiou, at the extremity of the Chinese territory, near the mouth of the Tehoa-Kiang river. His four colleagues were beheaded, and he himself, after having his nose, ears and right arm cut off, was about to suffer the same fate, when he was rescued by some English sailors.

THE JOYCE MURDER—RIOT AND HANGING. Louisville, May 14.—The four negroes accused of murdering the Joyce family, some months ago, were tried and acquitted yesterday, notwithstanding one of their number turned state's evidence, whose testimony, however, was not legally corroborated. There was great excitement about the Court House in consequence, and towards night, a mob, having a cannon, attacked the jail and fired upon it. The firing was returned, but finally the jailor surrendered his prisoners, two of whom were hung by the mob. The third cut his throat and died. The one who turned state's evidence was unmolested.

LOUISVILLE, 16th.—The remaining negro, implicated in the Joyce murder, was hung by a mob last night, making three hanged and one suicide.

WASHINGTON, May 15.—New Orleans papers of the 9th, have Galveston dates to the 7th inst. The accounts of the crops in the upper country, were more encouraging, and commercial business is very active. A severe hail storm on the Brazos, below Waco, had done damage to the cotton crop. There was a severe snow storm in Hopkins county, April 11.

NEW BEDFORD, May 15.—Horse Races. An exciting horse trot came off here, this afternoon. Wm. Reed, of Taunton, won the race against time, with two men in a chaise, driving his horse ten miles in 35 minutes 52 seconds. P. C. Dunbar's "Buckskin" of Taunton, made the ten mile heat, to a trotting gig, in 36 minutes, 59 seconds.

HARRISBURG, May 15.—Another National Hotel Death.—John M. B. Petriken, a member of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives from Lycoming, died this afternoon, of disease contracted at the National Hotel, Washington:

LOTTERIES.

THE well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRASER & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner. Their business is conducted by persons who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all prize money is legal tender in the hands of ticket holders in Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular scheme is named, orders are filled to the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent out, but the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the havana plan), and Tertany combination. Prizes are paid the amount from $10 to $100 00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Assist. of C. A. Dwight Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)

No. 70 State st, opp. Kilby st, Boston, AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered on all matters connected therewith. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of their inventions, which are not immeasurably superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below give proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE THAN THIS AGENCY, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he trusts the reputation he has acquired, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, by good question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

Testimonials.

"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

From the present Commissioner of Patents.

AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,

LET US ALONE, AND MIND YOUR OWN BUSINESS.—In reply to this exhortation of liquor dealers, Dr. Burns, of England, says:—

"I cannot let the traffic alone. I have ever bought, sold, given, tasted or recommended, or sanctioned it in one form or another. And yet, sir, this traffic will not let me alone. It attacks my pocket. Who says the increased taxation of drunkeness? He sober and the virtuous. And it is a shame that the whole community should be taxed for one class. I know some persons have said "why don't you let our trade alone? We don't interfere with you. You may go on with your speeches, but don't come out in this prohibitory law manner." I might also say in reply, "if you will let me alone, I might be tempted to let you alone; but unfortunately you don't."

Where is the persons who has eyes to see and ears too hear, and a heart to sympathize with moral wretchedness, but must be disturbed beyond utterance every day of the calamities produced by the strong drink traffic? It moves me in every power of my mind. It distresses every emotion of my soul. Am I a man, and can I see the manhood of my fellow creatures annihilated at of them? Am I a Christian, and can I see the grave gorged with drunken victims? Is not every man in the community my brother? Is not the drunkard my brother? [Loud cheers.] That degraded life of his is my sister; those orphans have a claim upon my sympathies; and I do not deserve the name of a man—I should put down as a monster—if I were not shocked and distressed, and grieved, and pained, and martyred by this traffic.—Therefore, though I am a tectotaler, and have no connection with the drinking habits of the country, I suffer in pocket, mind and conscience, and all the powers of my soul, by this evil and destructive thing."

A MAN OF FAMILY.—Some curious developments are coming to light affecting the great Dugberry of New York—"Edward Connery, coroner." His first act in the Burdell investigations was to send his son-in-law to act as counsel for Mrs. Cunningham, but the lady very respectfully declined his services. He next committed the medical examination to another son-in-law, Dr. Knight, whose first business was to take out the stomach of the murdered man, and thus prevent such scientific examination of that organ as might have proved, by the progress of digestion, the exact time of his death. The coroner then appointed his son John to be his clerk and assistant, with what design can only be inferred from the result of the investigations. And finally the coroner's brother-in-law was called to the office of undertaker, the result of which undertaking was a bill of $600 for the funeral expenses. The coroner's course during the whole investigation was such as to disgust even New York, and governor King has properly instituted a suit which is likely to result in the dethronement of the whole family through the removal of its head office.

SHIPPING INTEREST.—Nearly one hundred and ten ships and barques are now in the port—an unusual number, and showing a dull state of business. A large fleet are on the way from the south and from Europe, and some thirty-five from ports in the East Indies, principally Calcutta, Manilla, Batavia, &c. Many of these are now due. Nothing of business presents itself save deal freights, which will hardly pay the running expenses of the ship.—The Calcutta trade is attended at the present time with heavy losses, the principal articles, save saltpetre and hides, not nearly bringing their prime cost at Calcutta, to say nothing of freight and charges. Business for our small vessels coastwise is very poor, and in many instances money would be saved by hauling them up. A dull summmer for shipping interests may be looked for; but we trust the coming fall will witness a revival of this important branch of business to our city. The depression of the shipping interest always comes with greater severity on this city, than is felt at any other port in the United States. The State of Maine, the largest ship-building State, receives her entire supplies from this city, for the building and fitting her new ships; and the entire and complete prostration of this business in Maine, is felt very sensibly by our iron dealers, shipchandlers and paint dealers. Both grocers and dry goods dealers also feel the withdrawal of business from our New England seaboard. But few vessels will be built this season, and those not of great size.—Boston Trav.

A DETERMINED SUICIDE.—As the special train on the Fitchburg Railroad, was entering the depot at Concord, seven o'clock last evening, a man was seen to run and throw himself down immediately in front of the engine. The cow-catcher, however, throw him off. He recovered himself, was seen to put his hand to his head, as if injured, and then start upon the run, apparently to overtake the engine again. He did not suceed in doing so, but came up with the baggage car and hind trucks, and was run over, and killed instantly. The man had been about the depot nearly all day, talking and acting in rather an eccentric way. Towards night, he frequently asked what time the train would come along. He said he was a German, and had worked in a tube factory or brass factory in Beach street, and had had some difficulty with a girl in Warren street, and the police were after him. He was a young man, tolerably well dressed, had about four dollars in his pocket, but no paper showing who he was. An inquest was held last evening by Mr. George Heywood, and a verdict will no doubt be rendered in accordance with the facts above stated.—Boston Traveller, 16th.

CARELESSNESS IN MAILING LETTERS.—On Tuesday, a letter containing a draft for $12,000, was dropped in the Post office in this city, to be sent to New York. When the time arrived for its delivery in New York, it was not forthcoming, and a telegraphic despatch was sent to the firm in this city mailing it, to ascertain the cause of its non-arrival. The gentleman who had posted the letter, rushed into the Post-office, much excited, and on making inquiries, a search was instituted, and the letter found, it not having been sent, in consequence of no postage stamps having been placed upon it. Letters of this kind, and others, with no direction upon them, are dropped at the office every day. A little care upon the part of correspondents, would save much trouble to themselves and the officials at the Post-office.—Phil. Ledger.

A RICH LETTER.—The Manchester American has a letter of which it says the following is a verbatim copy:

BURDEN'S
Pressed Boat Ship, Brad & Countersunk Railroad Spikes
ARE well known in the United States, and are conspicuous for their regularity and finish, their unvarying uniformity of size, and for the excellent quality of iron from which they are made, to which may be attributed their rare strength. Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 20, 1857.

UTAH.—The Traveller says the various reports of Brigham Young's loss of power among the Mormons, and his flight for life, are altogether contradicted by news from Utah to an early day in April. Nobody seems to have lost power there but the General Government and its officers, and none but the latter were in peril of their lives. Deserted by the administration at Washington, those who are not Mormons or their subservient creatures in the Territory, are insulted, overborne, and freely threatened with death. Either the Territory should be regularly conquered, as an open enemy would be proceeded against, or it should be formally abandoned as a den of thieves, and fenced in from the rest of the world. The administration continues to talk about doing the former, but there is yet no action, and no certain promise of any.

LIQUOR DEALERS' ASSOCIATION.—The Liquor Dealers of Brooklyn, N. Y., have adopted a resolution to expel all members from the Association who apply for license under the new law.

Let every sober man, every friend of good government, ponder the above facts. The law against which these men cry out and rebel is not a prohibitory law, but a license law. And the offensive feature in the law is, that it requires twenty freeholders, in the district where the license is sought, to petition for the appointment of a man whom they recommend.

Is this unreasonable? No.—But the rum power in New York City, is composed of some of the worst men on earth, who govern the city, control elections, enrich themselves, and swindle the public, by means of their shops and stores and dens. They know themselves to be bad men—know they keep bad places—and hence are not willing to put themselves under regulations and penalties of licensed houses:—and many of them know that every decent freeholder in their neighborhood, would feel safer and better, as to his property, if their dens of thieves, gamblers, and rioters were closed.

The rum papers themselves, in that city, cry out against the rum government, and lament many evils, nine-tenths of which are the direct and inevitable product of their groggeries, and of the drunken habits they engender.

STRYCHNINE.—A writer in the Traveller thinks the distillery hogs do not die of strychnine, and that there is no strychnine used in making whiskey, for "when you consider that strychnine is worth four dollars an ounce and does not produce any alcohol, you can see the folly of such a charge."

We give this as we find it. We can't say there is strychnine there, but there is a something there, which kills the hogs, and therefore may kill men.—The Traveller, editorially, speaks of three celebrated European Chemists, Messrs. Graham, Hoffmann, and Prof. Liebig of Munich, who analyzed lots of beer, but found no strychnine. On the other hand, M. Payen, a French Chemist and lecturer, denounced strychnine and beer, and M. Pelletier, a manufacturer of organic products in Paris, about 1840, had a large order of strychnine to be sent to England, which he was informed, was employed in completing the bitter of certain kinds of beer.

The Ohio Legislature seem to be convinced that strychnine is used in manufacturing whiskey, if not in flavoring beer, for they recently passed a bill intended to prevent any such poisonous practice.

A JOKE WELL TAKEN.—The Providence Journal tells a good story of the late election in the 3d ward in that city. Zachariah R. Tucker, always a Democrat, had become, or rather remained, anti-slavery in his views, and latterly voted in the same way. Some men of his late party wished to mortify him. They accordingly gave five ballots to Thomas Howland, a colored stevedore, and a very worthy man, for warden, and as many more for Mr. Tucker for clerk. As no other ballots were cast, and as the hand vote was not legal, they were declared duly elected. But what the men who planned the affair meant for a joke turned out a reality. Both the men accepted, and were sworn in. Subsequently Mr. Tucker was elected one of the councilmen of the the third ward.

SHORT VOYAGE TO AND FROM SICILY.—The bark Fernandina arrived at Boston from Palermo, with a cargo of fruit, having make the passages from Boston and back in two months and seventeen days, the homeward passage being made in thirty-five days.

EXETER GOSSIP.

TUESDAY, May 19.

Dear Chronicle:—

'Tis pleasant, sure, to see one's name in print;
A book's a book, although there's nothing in 't.

The same doctrine will apply to newspaper articles, and a great many poor victims of the "cacoethes scribendi" swallow it down eagerly. We must confess that this effusion is the result of an attack of the above mentioned disease, which came upon us in all its fury a few moments since. We will also acknowledge that we have nothing to write about, and that nothing will be written when we have finished; so to save any one the trouble of reading on until he comes to this inevitable conclusion, we very magnanimously (don't you think so?) make a "clean breast" of it at the outset.

It is superlatively dull here. The weather does nothing but storm and clear off;—many of our people perform the same operation—generally clearing off out West—while the remainder mind their business, (exceptions, of course,) and ask for the news, which at the present moment is vivilly represented by a 0.

We take all that back which we have written above, at least as regards the news, for, in truth, one of the most remarkable events that ever happened here transpired since out last. It was none else than the —but hold! Before we proceed farther, a vile aspersion upon the fair fame of our town must be refuted. A sheet, old enough indeed to behave itself, we will not style it a "Simon-pure, blue-light, federal, abolition organ," in descanting on the only newspaper Exeter possesses, asserts that it is printed at "the head of mud-scow navigation." We often laugh at English publications for speaking of Massachusetts as one of the most flourishing cities on the banks of the Mississippi; but what shall we say of him who commits such a palpable geographical blunder as this? Why, 'twas no longer ago than last week) and this is the news we referred to) that the following was the marine list at the port of Exeter:

FRIDAY, May 15.

Arr schr Little Republic, Bangor, with lumber to Lovering & Jewell.

Schr Danube, (of Brewer,) Bangor. Captain reports a fine passage; hands all well; spoke no vessel. Reports also Portsmouth harbor as nearly destitute of vessels, only one or two mudscows being seen along the wharves.

The rum papers themselves, in that city, cry out against the rum government, and lament many evils, nine-tenths of which are the direct and inevitable product of their groggeries, and of the drunken habits they engender.

We do not want to alarm any of your business men in Portsmouth, but to make a secret of it, a strong probability threatens that some of our smart, active men will import direct, heavy commodities, such as iron, salt, molasses, &c., and supply the back country by means of their superior railroad facilities. Verb. sat. sap.

We notice that James French & Co. of Boston have just published a novel from the pen of Miss Mary W. Janvrin of this town, entitled 'Peace, or the Stolen Will.' It is a book of about 400 pages, well got up, and is very favorably spoken of by the press. Miss J. has for a long time been a contributor to the Olive Branch and other Boston publications. Her book will sell well. There is some prospect of Rev. Asa Mann's resigning the charge of the First Congregational Church here. Some of Mr. M.'s congregation are not satisfied with his preaching, and are in favor of his leaving. A council is to be called to consider the matter.

Mr. William E. Dix repeats his lecture on the Andes, which he has recently given in Boston, at the new Town Hall this evening. His lecture, as reported in the newspapers at the time, was peculiarly interesting, and the subject is a "tip-top" one.

Spring has come! We do not jump at this conclusion from having seen one lone, presumptuous bird, but from two very good reasons. First, the annual house-cleaning has come with all its horrors; secondly, that charming appendage to city life, the music-inciting hand-organ has made its appearance. May you be delivered from each of these barbarities. Yours, F. G.

A LETTER.—One of our subscribers writes:

Inclosed find one dollar to pay for my paper. I confess I ought to have sent it before, and have no excuse to make but negligence.—God bless the cause it advocates. It must triumph. Fight on; be valiant; God is on your side—and I hope I shall ever be found there. If you want another dollar to aid the cause, it is ready.

Yours, truly, C. R.

Note by the Ed.—The Dollar is wanted, if our friend chooses to bestow it. If he knows of any family in his place or elsewhere, in which children or other persons would peruse a temperance paper, and profit by it, but who are not very well able to pay for it,—there, perhaps, may be the place for the extra dollar. It shall be sent, agreeably to his order, as to time and place.

☞ The last number of the Leavenworth Herald goes in for hanging the Free State men. It says its "only hope for Kansas is in hemp."

☞ The Jewett case was argued on Monday before the Supreme Court, creating more excitement in Salem, than any trial since the White murder. Mr. Butler opened, and spoke for two and a half hours—it was an able speech. Mr. Choate followed for the same length of time.

On Tuesday, the Jury came in, unable to agree. They stood six to six, and their disagreement did not occur about the assessment of damages, but on the primary question of the liability of the corporation for any damages at all. The principal question considered by the jury was whether the vicious habits of the horses driven by Mr. Jewett contributed to the injury, it having been decided by the Supreme Court (in a case not yet reported) that in such an event the plaintiff could not recover.

LIGHT SENTENCES FOR WIFE MURDER.—New York Herald of the 17th inst. says that Joseph Miller, indicted for murdering his wife in a brutal manner, in that city, plead guilty to manslaughter, and was sentenced to four years in the State Prison. George Saltus, a colored man, charged with the same offence, was sentenced to two years in the State Prison.

☞ A firm in Portland had 30 boxes of cigars stolen from their premises, last week. The City Marshal found a portion of the articles secreted in a house in Westbrook, in a bed whereon a woman was reclining upon a plea of indisposition.

☞ About twelve thousand people of color left the United States for Africa, during the last year. More than half of them were emancipated for the purpose.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

For Children only.—Lawrence's celebrated Carminative is emphatically a child's medicine.

☞ Don't forget the great sale at Chas. T. Emery's, No. 10 Market Square. Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, and Fancy Articles, selling out POSITIVELY AT COST, for 21 days, previous to extensive alterations in the store.

THE SECRET DISCOVERED AT LAST.—We have noticed in passing through Market street, lately, that the NEW STORE, No. 15, always seems crowded with customers. We have at last discovered the secret of it. On stepping inside, we find that the proprietors, MESSRS. ALLEN & PAINE, in fitting up their store in the beautiful manner they have, had an eye for the useful, as well as for the ornamental; we noticed that the store appeared very light and cheerful, and on looking for a solution of the mystery, we discover that the store contains a Gas Light, having the facilities for showing their Goods possessed by no other Dry Goods store in town; as Customers by such a light, have no difficulty in seeing just what they are purchasing, and can not be deceived in the color or quality of goods. We notice, also, that their stock is always composed of the best qualities and very latest styles, which is explained by the fact that one of the firm visits the market to replenish their goods every ten days,—and as they buy for Cash, altogether, they are able to offer their goods at as low prices as any other parties.

Those about to purchase Dry Goods will do well to visit them. Read their advertisement in another column.

☞ Take notice, dear reader, that for 40 cts. you can buy a pound of good Tea, Ningyong they call it, at Tilton & Nowell's Union Store, No. 12 Market street,—also shoes for men and women at very reasonable rates; and all other goods cheap. tf

Also, Kennedy's Medical Discovery, price 63 cents per bottle.

THE DEAD RESTORED TO LIFE.

A few years ago it was generally supposed that gray hair could not be restored to its original color, or made to grow on bald heads; but recent discoveries of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, many persons who DYED years ago, are now seen daily in the various walks of life, appearing in all the vigor of youth, wearing their own dark flowing locks, simply from having used this great Restorative.—[Louisville Times.

IT IS AN ESTABLISHED FACT that DR. SANFORD'S INVIGORATOR will cure Liver Complaint, Jaundice, and General Debility. Many people, personally known to us, whose veracity cannot be doubted, have given their certificates to prove this, and with such a mass of evidence who can doubt.

It is truly the invalid's friend, and will give relief when all other remedies fail, and in some instances that come under our observation, it has been the means of snatching its victim from the grave; we wish all our readers who need medicine, would try one bottle, for it will surely give relief.

S. D. & W. H. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington Street, Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and then get the same two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by the performer on one only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power and sweetness, equal to the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the merits of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

LOCAL.

A Mystery.—Considerable inquiry has been caused in our city, by some mysterious printed placards, which were stuck on the corners of the streets, a few days since. The following is a copy of the bill.

Before the Confirmation, look out for the Round Robin! Working men, come into the (Democratic) ring!

The word "Democratic" was not in the bill as printed, but has been written in, since. Nobody seems to know what this means—and perhaps it don't mean anything. A Round Robin is a written petition, memorial, remonstrance, or other instrument, signed by names in a ring or a circle, so as not to show who sighed it first.

May Training.—The City Phalanx, Capt. Sides, were out for drill and parade, on Tuesday afternoon. They were accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, which played well; and the whole formed a very creditable turn-out. The ranks would doubtless have been more full; but after a dull winter, our mechanics have just got to work, and we suppose don't want to lose much time..

A Local Item—Straitened.—Our friend whom we described on Tuesday, as being in a bad case by drinking at his own tap,—assures us that he does not sell rum, nor keep a tippling shop, but that, meeting with a friend, elsewhere, they had a social drink, and then kept on, till he was in the condition described. We are glad to make the correction: it is bad enough to be the victim of temptation;—but much worse to be the temptor of others to do evil.

Salvation of a Ship and Coolies.—Singapore, March 19.—On the 5th inst. the Dutch barque Henrietta Maria arrived in charge of Mr Crawford, the mate of the American ship Cœur de Lion, with four seamen and 100 coolies belonging to her. It appears that the Cœur de Lion, on passage from Singapore for Hong Kong, when in lat 7½ N., and lon 110½ E., observed a barque with signal of distress, and on proceeding to her assistance ascertained that the captain, officers and greater part of the crew had abandoned her.—The captain of the Cœur de Lion placed on board two of his officers, Messrs. Crawford and Chandler, and two seamen, who succeeded in bringing the vessel into Singapore. The Henrietta Maria left Macao Feb. 8, with 350 Chinese emigrants for Havana.

The Captain of the ship Cœur de Lion is Capt. G. W. Tucker, of this port.

The Case of Eckel.—New York, May 18.—The Court of Oyer and Terminer today refused to quash the indictment against Eckel, and his case was postponed to the fall term.

Martin Hoffman, an eminent New York merchant, died yesterday, aged 62.

The steamer Empire City sailed for Havana to day, taking out nearly $300,000 in Spanish gold.

There was considerable excitement today at City Hall, in consequence of Capt. Carpenter of the 5th Ward Police giving up his station house to the new Police Commissioners. The Mayor summoned him to appear before the old Board, but he refused. Subsequently the Captain made complaints to the new Board against three of his Lieutenants, who refused to obey his orders.

Fillibusters Executed in Mexico.—New Orleans, May 16.—Later advices from the city of Mexico state that the Sonora filibusters from California, including their leader, were all shot on the 6th of May. The country was quiet.

Balloon Ascension.—Providence, May 18.—A successful balloon ascension was made this afternoon by James M. Allen. He descended in safety about 14 miles from this city.

☞ Godey's Lady's Book, for June, is on our table, as usual, in prime season, and in "apple-pie order." Its frontispiece is The Nearest Way in Summer Time. The "Unrivalled Colored Fashions" contain five ornate figures. A new volume begins in July.

☞ Dinsmore's American Railroad and Steam Navigation Guide, for the U. S., Canada, &c., is a complete Traveller's Guide over the whole country. Price 25 cts. Published by Dinsmore & Co., New York.

☞ The Nevada Journal says that "the American party is the only one that has ever contended successfully with the democracy in California; the republicans and the people's party, are making a miserable fist of it."

☞ Judge Clark has granted an injunction restraining the new Quarantine Commissioners at New York, from entering into any contracts for building a Quarantine Hospital, at Seguine's Point, Staten Island.

☞ The furniture of the National Hotel, Washington, valued at $100,000, is advertised to be sold at auction, on the 25th inst. This is the result of the "poison-pig" excitement.

FROM EUROPE—3 DAYS LATER.

ARRIVAL OF THE NIAGARA.

HALIFAX, May 19.

The steamship Niagara, from Liverpool on the morning of Saturday, 9th inst., arrived at this port this morning.

The Queen, in her speech to the British Parliament, says:—"British negotiations with the United States and Honduras, respecting Central America, have not yet terminated."

London money market unchanged.

Liverpool, May 8.—Cotton firmer, with an advance for the week of about 1-2d per pound.

Breadstuffs steady and firm, with a slight advance on most qualities.

Provisions about the same as per last advices.

Very little doing in American securities.

Later from Utah.—St. Louis, May 18. The overland Utah mail has arrived here, with Salt Lake City dates of April 2. The Territory was quiet. Preparations were making to send a large number of Mormon missionaries to all parts of the world.

The accounts of the movements of Brigham Young do not accord with those received via California. He seemed to possess the entire confidence of the people, and he was planning a pleasure excursion to the Mormon settlement at Salmon River.—For some unknown cause, the Mormons at St. Bernardine and the surrounding settlements, have been summoned to Salt Lake City.

The Cheyennes (Indians) were becoming bold and defiant.

A trader arrived from Fort Laramie reported the Indians acknowledged a loss of 60 warriors, sent to commit depredations on the California road; in consequence of which they have made prisoners of 16 traders, and have sent 100 warriors to avenge the loss.

From Kansas.—Lecompton, May 18th.—The U. S. District Attorney has just entered a nolle prosequi in all the treason trials now pending. The cases of Governor Robinson and others, for usurpation of office, will be determined in a similar manner, as soon as the writ of prosecution is decided between the United States and the Territorial District Attorney.

Four horse thieves from this place have been pursued, overtaken and killed, and the horses recovered, just inside of the Nebraska frontier.

Gen. Walker.—Washington, May 17. There is no foundation whatever for the rumor brought by the Prometheus, from Havana, that Gen. Walker had evacuated Rivas, and was on board a British ship-of-war, at San Juan Del Sur. The rumor is said to have emanated from Gov. Gen. Concha, and is believed here, to be only a weak invention of the enemy.

Proscription at Washington.—Washington, May 17.—Dr. Gale has resigned his office as Examiner in the Patent office, he having been denounced for an alleged connection with the school for blacks. Four other examiners are to be removed for political cause.

TO THE CITIZENS OF THE UNITED STATES.

CAUTION TO THE PUBLIC.

After several years experimenting in the manufacturing of Gin, I fortunately succeeded, in the year 1848, in making a discovery in its manufacture by which it was deprived of all acrid and inflammatory properties, and rendered perfectly pure.

My manufactory is at Scheidam, Holland. After several months' reflection what title to give it, I introduced it to the American public under the name of "Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps." Scheidam is the name of the place in Holland where the Gin is manufactured. Aromatic derives its name from the Italian Juniper Berry with which it is flavored, and the word "Schnapps" is the German for drink—Cogne, Dram—Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Drink. No sooner had my Schnapps been introduced to the American public and received with approbation, than the Liquor Mixers of New York, Boston and Phila delphia, started in pursuit with their mixed and poisonous stuff under various names: Scheidam Gin, Scheidam Schnapps, London Club House Gin, London Cordial Gin, &c., and in several cases my labels have been so perfectly imitated, with only the addition of a few letters to plead a technical avoidance of the law, and so carefully prepared as to impose on careless purchasers. I understand a large quantity has been purchased by the merchants of the Eastern States on account of the cheapness of the articles. A merchant who participates indirectly in the fraud by selling the spurious articles, is as much an offender as the principal who planned the imposition.

I hope every respectable citizen who values the health of the community in which he lives will aid me in ferreting out and exposing the unscrupulous merchant, who, for the sake of a few cents, will put in jeopardy the lives of the community in which he lives. Such men should be nailed to the pillory of popular execration.

Wolfe's Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps is made from barley of the first quality, selected with great care from the products of the most celebrated grain-growing districts, is flavored with the essence of the aromatic Juniper Berry of Italy, and is rectified by a peculiar process, which expels from the spirit every acrid particle.

As a means of preventing and correcting the disagreeable and often dangerous effects produced upon the stomach and bowels by a change of water—a visitation to which travellers and settlers, and all unacclimated persons in the West, the South and South-West are peculiarly liable—the Scheidam Aromatic Schnapps will be found absolutely infallible; while, in cases of dropsy, gravel, obstructions of the kidneys, diseases of the bladder, dyspepsia, and general debility, it is recommended most emphatically by the most distinguished members of the medical profession

It is put up in quart and pint bottles, in cases of one dozen, with the name of the undersigned on the bottle and cork, and a fac-simile of his signature on each label.
